MASSING FOR A NEW COMBAT IN BELGIUM

London, Oct. 15.—"The battle of the rivers," the long line of which still stretches across France, stood in the background today in contrast with the comparatively small field operations in the department of Nord and in West Flanders where the contending allied and German armies may decide during the next week, or perhaps sooner, a phase of the struggle which became acute when the Germans occupied Antwerp and Ghent—a German attempt to seize and hold the seaports of Belgium and France.

It seems plain now that the German plan was to sweep on to Ostend and thence to the French ports in the same impetuous way that characterized the rush towards Paris, but in this, British military experts say, the invaders have been meeting with the most stubborn kind of resistance.

The rigidness of the censorship, however, precludes more than guesses as to which side scored in the fighting which followed the retirement of the Belgians and the advance of the Germans in the vicinity of Ghent. In the rear of that city, it is said, the Germans have 100,000 men and all signs indicate that a violent battle for possession of Ostend and other channel ports is imminent or in actual progress.

Public Kept in Dark.

What became of the Belgian army which retreated from Antwerp is not known to the public; nor is the composition of the allied forces seeking to check the German seaward advance clear.

As was the case before the fall of Antwerp the British press in a measure discounts the German occupation of Ostend, though it was pointed out today that if the allies continue to hold the town of Ypres, which cuts the German line, the continued occupation of Ostend would be difficult.

Germans are reported in Belgium as far northwest as Bruges, which place their cyclists and patrols are said to have entered.

More German Troops for France.

"Germans arriving here," says the Copenhagen correspondent of the Times. "state that owing to the failure of the Russians to make progress against the Germans the Germans have decided to transfer immediately considerable masses of troops from the eastern to the western fronts for an advance on Paris.

"This transfer probably already has begun as ordinary train traffic is delayed forty-eight hours."

From the same source the correspondent says he learns that there is a large amount of sickness among the German troops.

"The plans for the occupation of Paris drawn up by the Germans before the battle of the Marne," continues the correspondent, "contemplated a demand for an indemnity of a billion dollars and unless the entire sum was paid within a fortnight property of equal value was to have been taken to Berlin, including art works and libraries, and retained there until full satisfaction of the indemnity was made.

CHOLERA MAKING RAPID PROGRESS

Venice, Italy, Oct. 15.—(Via Paris, 12:05 p. m.—According to reports reaching Venice, cholera is making rapid strides through Hungary and the progress of the disease is causing alarm among the people.

The Hungarian authorities, it now appears, were too lax in the beginning in the matter of the sanitary supervision of prisoners' camps, which since have been placed under special control. Prisoners no longer are permitted to camp in the open air, and now all suspect cases are being isolated in hospitals.

Other dispatches reaching Venice relate that the Austrian commissary department is breaking down, so far as the equipment of new recruits is concerned. These men are suffering from a scarcity of clothing and boots, especially heavy winter garments.

BULLETIN.

London, Oct. 15.—(3:44 p. m.)—A dispatch from Petrograd to the Messagero of Rome, says that the Austro-German army yesterday was completely defeated in the neighborhood of Warsaw, Russian Poland. The Austrians and Germans suffered enormous losses. The Russians are stated to have taken thousands of prisoners.

MRS. BECK NEW STATE REGENT

NEXT CONFERENCE AT TERRE HAUTE

Fort Wayne Meeting, Best Yet Held, Completes Its Work.

Mrs. Henry A. Beck, of Indianapolis, was the choice of the Indiana state conference of D. A. R. in the closing session Thursday for the office of state regent and Mrs. John Lee Dinwiddie, of Fowler, was again chosen to represent Indiana as vice president general.

The two ladies received the heartiest endorsement for office and their nominations will no doubt be confirmed by the board of directors of the national society.

Other state officers were elected without opposition to any candidate—Vice regent, Miss Edna Donnell, of Greensburg; secretary, Miss Anna B. Sankey, Terre Haute; treasurer, Mrs. Otto Rott, Bloomington; historian, Miss Katherine McIlvain, Vincennes; auditor, Mrs. Edna Felter, Huntington; chaplain, Mrs. E. C. Atkins, Indianapolis.

An invitation to hold the next conference in Terre Haute was read and accepted and the fifteenth annual meeting of the Daughters will be held in that city, October 10, 1915.

Honor for Mrs. Cullop.

The selection of Mrs. Beck for the highest office of the state organization followed the nomination of Mrs. W. A. Cullop, of Vincennes, for the same honor and the immediate withdrawal of Mrs. Cullop as a candidate, owing to her receiving Thursday morning from Mrs. W. C. Story, president-general of the national society, a request to serve as corresponding secretary-general on the national board.

Mrs. Cullop thanked her friends for their support in a neat speech in which she recommended in high terms her opponent, Mrs. Beck. Surprise and pleasure mingled with the disappointment of Mrs. Cullop's personal friends started a buzz of conversation and in the confusion the presiding officer called for a rising vote to elect Mrs. Beck. The delegates fairly jumped to their feet when a voice of authority sounded from one corner.

BATTLING IN FRANCE WITH RENEWED FURY

Paris, Oct. 15.—(2:45 p. m.)—A high official of the French government declared today that the latest dispatches from the front showed that the military situation was about to develop more rapidly on the center, in the region of Berry-au-Bac and on the left in the La Bassee Estaires and Bailleul district.

The allies continue to make progress, this official continued. Several hotly contested positions which had changed hands repeatedly during the past few weeks, were now held strongly by the French, and the Anglo-French situation was most encouraging.

The right wing of the allies is now beginning to show signs of activity. According to reports reaching Paris this morning there was an almost continuous firing of heavy artillery along the frontier. A force of Germans delivered a spirited attack on French troops in which numbers were wounded. As night closed this force of the enemy was driven back in the direction of Muelhausen.

The Hotel de Ville (town hall) of Arras, which was burned after the bombardment of that place, was a building of Gothic style. It was erected in the beginning of the sixteenth century and was one of the finest types of this style of architecture in northern France.

The Official Communication.

"In Belgium German troops coming from Antwerp are marching toward the west, and the evening of Oct. 14 they reached the region of Bruges and Thielt (fifteen miles southeast of Bruges).

"First: On our left wing, the enemy has evacuated the left bank of the Lys. Between the Lys and the canal of La Bassee the situation shows no change.

"In the region of Lens and between Arras and Albert our progress has been marked.

"Between the Somme and the Oise there has been no change. The Germans have cannonaded our line without, however, making any infantry attacks.

"Second: On the center between the Oise and the Meuse, we have advanced in the direction of Craonne.

"In the northeast the highway from Berry-au-Bac to Rheims and to the northeast of Prunay, in the direction of Beine, several German trenches have been taken.

"Between the Meuse and the Moselle, after having repulsed during the night of October 13-14 certain attacks to the southeast of Verdun, our troops advanced on the 14th to the south of the highway from Verdun to Metz.

"Third: On our right wing the partial offensive movement undertaken by the Germans in the Ban de Sapt to the north of Saine Die has been definitely checked.

"In Russia the fighting continues along the front, beginning in the vicinity of Warsaw, stretching along the Vistula and the San as far as Przemysl and further in a southerly direction as far as the Dneister.

"There has been no change in East Prussia."

STEAMER SINKING

New York, Oct. 15.—The steamer Metapan entering Ambrose channel, collided this afternoon with the steamer Iowan. The Metapan began to send out "S. O. S." signals at once. Within a few minutes she reported that she was sinking.

Her boats were hastily lowered. Several steamers, among them the Monterey and the Camino, hurried toward the stricken vessel.

The Metapan is a United Fruit company steamer and sailed from Colon October 8 for this port. She usually carries from 75 to 100 passengers.

Meanwhile First Chief is Still in Control of the Situation.

Washington, Oct. 15.—Adjournment of the Mexican convention at Aguas Calientes last night without acting upon the proposed resignation of Gen. Carranza as first chief, pending the arrival of additional delegates representing Zapata, was announced today in official dispatches to the state department from Consular Agents Carothers and Kanova. October 20 was tentatively agreed upon as the date for reconvening the convention.

In secret session yesterday the convention agreed that its authority in Mexico should be declared supreme upon the arrival of the Zapatistas. The reports indicated that Carranza's resignation was not actually presented and

Washington, Oct. 15.—Inquiry into the preparedness of the United States for war, "offensive or defensive," by a national security commission was proposed in a joint resolution introduced in the house today by Representative Gardner of Massachusetts, who recently returned from the war zone in Europe.

"I have introduced this resolution to investigate the military status of the United States," said Mr. Gardner in a statement accompanying the resolution, "because I know that a public search will open the eyes of Americans to a situation which is being concealed from them. The United States is totally unprepared for war, defensive or offensive, against a real power. In my opinion the effect of vast sums of money spent by Carnegie in his peace propaganda has been to blind Americans to the fact that our national security from a military point of view is undermined.

LAST-MINUTE NEWS

BRITISH CRUISER SINKS STEAMER.

London, Oct. 15.—(6:53 p. m.)—The admiralty announces that the British cruiser Yarmouth has sunk the German Hamburg American line steamer Markomannia in the vicinity of Sumatra and has captured and is taking into a harbor the Greek steamer Pontports. The Yarmouth has sixty German prisoners of war on board.

PORTUGAL MAKES FIRST WAR MOVE.

New York, Oct. 15.—Two expeditionary forces of Portuguese troops, for one of which English transports were used, sailed from Lisbon on September 10 to reinforce garrisons in Portuguese possessions in Africa which adjoin those of German. This was made known today by C. Rangel De Hampaio, Portuguese consul general at New York, and is the first news to reach this country of any actual military preparations by Portugal for the eventuality of that country's participation in the war.

CONTINUES FAVORABLE TO GERMANS.

Berlin, Oct. 15.—(By wireless to Sayville, L. I.)—It was officially announced today that the battle to the east of Wirballen, in Russian Poland, which has been raging since October 4, continues favorable to the Germans. Repeated attempts of the Russians to storm to the trenches have resulted in heavy losses.

NEW REGENT OF INDIANA DAUGHTERS OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION.

Today's War News Given in Summary.

The Germans who are moving on Ostend are reported to have occupied Bruges, 15 miles east of the former city. This report is confirmed from neutral sources.

A German official statement coming direct from Berlin by wireless says that their troops in Belgium are now marching in part toward Ostend and part in a southwesterly direction toward the French frontier.

There has been heavy fighting east of Soissons and the Argonne and the Germans have at no point lost ground it is declared. French claims of successes in the Woevre district are denied.

This afternoon's French official statement announced that the allies have made marked progress in the region of Lens and between Arras and Albert. On the center the allies, it is said, have advanced in the direction of Craonne while a German offensive movement to the north of Saint Die has been definitely checked.

The reports and claims regarding the situation in the eastern theater are as conflicting as before.

A dispatch from Petrograd says the Austro-German army was completely defeated Wednesday in the neighborhood of Warsaw, Russian Poland, suffering enormous losses in casualties and prisoners. A wireless message from Berlin says that it was officially announced there today that the battle to the east of Wirballen in Russia Poland, continues after eleven days of fighting, favorable to the Germans, repeated advances of the Russians having been repulsed with heavy losses.

Paris says that the fighting continues along the front from Warsaw to Przemysl, but gives no details. A Russian advance in East Prussia is suggested in a dispatch from Amsterdam which says a German army

PLIGHT OF BELGIAN REFUGEES ALARMING

London, Oct. 15.—(10:00 a. m.)—The gloom which has enveloped England since the fall of Antwerp has been somewhat lightened by the news contained in official communications that the allies are more than holding their own in the furious fighting along the Franco-Belgian border, but this feeling of elation has been tempered by the growing realization that the Russian invasion of Silesia, which was believed to be imminent, must be postponed indefinitely pending the outcome of the battle in Russian Poland.

Ostend is now virtually a deserted city with its docks still crowded with terror-stricken refugees intent only on getting as far as possible from the scenes of suffering.

The repatriation of Belgian refugees promises to become a serious problem both in England and Holland, and these countries may call upon the United States to assist in this work.

Further detachments of Canadian troops are landing today.

Forced to Sacrifice.

Russia in the east seems to have been compelled to follow the steps of her enemy in the west and sacrifice the fruits of her victories by sending reinforcements to another part of the long battle front. The resumption of the Austro-German offensive in Galicia was an outcome of the Russians sending heavy reinforcements to the river Niemen recently under the impression that the German invasion of the Suwalki district was a real menace and not merely a diverting movement. The withdrawal of Russian forces from western Galicia, however, is regarded here to be not as complete as first reported, for Vienna admits that Przemysl is still invested on one side, while Petrograd reports that the garrison of this fortress has been invaded by disease and is on the point of capitulation. Other dispatches from the Russian capital refer to activity along the Vistula river where several attacks are said to have been repulsed and declare that the great battle probably is now under way unless the Austro-German advance has been hampered by bad weather.

Often Taken and Retaken.

Some idea of the fierceness of the fighting in western France can be gained from the fact that the town of Roye, now in possession of the allies, has been taken and retaken no less than twelve times.

There is no question in the minds of British observers but that the German army is making desperate efforts to reach the channel coast, and that the allies are no less determined to prevent such an extension of the battle line.

England already is speculating on the possibility of a German raid, which could only become possible if the Germans are successful in securing a base on the coast opposite the narrow part of the English channel. The Germans are reported as having been turned out of that corner of French territory which juts into Belgium, and having retired, but they are said to be strongly entrenched. This report declares that the Germans intended to dash on Calais coincidentally with the attack on Antwerp, but their efforts in that direction appear to have been checked.

Berlin reports the occupation of Lille, but declares that other than this there is nothing new to report on the western front.

Disease Breaking Out.

According to dispatches reaching London, typhus has shown itself among the German troops along the western front, and rumors of the outbreak of various other diseases are increasing. England is taking note of these reports by sending to the front three of her most important medical men as an advisory body to co-operate with the regular medical staff in the prevention of epidemics.

A correspondent in Italy reports that the war fever in that country is abating, even the most determined anti-Austrians now agreeing that no belligerent move should be made before next spring.

Turkey continues in a truculent mood and trouble already may have begun in the Black sea where heavy firing has been heard, and where it is believed the famous German cruisers Goeben and Breslau, which have been sold to Turkey, may have been engaging the Russian fleet.

WILL CARRY THEM BACK.

Berlin Arranges for Trains, Says Dispatch from Rome.

Rome, Via Paris, Oct. 15.—Arrangements have been made to run special trains from the Dutch frontier to Antwerp to carry back Belgian refugees, the majority of whom are expected to return within a fortnight. This information is contained in a dispatch received here from Berlin.

According to letters received from Servia, Prince George, eldest son of King Peter, is not progressing favorably owing to his refusal to submit to the orders of the doctors who are treating a wound he received in a recent battle. Crown Prince Alexander of Servia was also wounded in the head but his hurt was a slight one and after it was dressed the crown prince found it unnecessary to remain in bed and continued his military work.

MUNSTERBERG IS WILLING TO QUIT

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 15.—Hugo Munsterberg, professor of psychology at Harvard university, last night said that he had offered his resignation to President Lowell. The action is the result of a letter sent by Major Clarence Wiener, of London, to the overseers of the college to the effect that he would change a will by which Harvard would receive $10,000,000 unless Prof. Munsterberg were dismissed from the faculty.

"Unwarranted pro-German utterances" by the famous psychologist, in connection with the war, were given by Major Wiener as the reason for his attitude.

"I sent my resignation to President Lowell so that there might be no embarrassment in the matter and that the faculty might be left free to act without having to consider my feelings," said Prof. Munsterberg.

President Lowell refused to discuss the resignation.

The Harvard corporation is expected to take up Major Wiener's letter and Prof. Munsterberg's resignation next week.

Major Wiener, a member of the class of 1900 at Harvard, is the proprietor of the Wiener News agency, Strand, London, England. He was born in Philadelphia in 1878. He attended Harvard one year, going to Cuba in 1897. During the next year he was on the staff of General Frederick Grant, in Porto Rico. In 1899 he went to South Africa as a war correspondent. Subsequently he saw stirring service there and organized a band of scouts. He was eight times wounded in South Africa. Major Wiener has been reputed to be immensely wealthy.

WOMEN WATCHERS FOR THE POLLS

Equal Suffragists Urging Votes for Constitutional Convention.

Logansport, Ind., Oct. 15.—Pledging themselves to wear cotton gloves and hose during the European war and to promote the sale of American-made products whenever possible, members of the Indiana Equal Suffrage association, in convention here, outlined the policy which the suffragists will assume on questions of the day. The convention also adopted resolutions fixing October 25 as the day for all Indiana suffragists sult of a letter sent by Major Clarence to pray for the restoration of peace in

A resolution proposing that two women watchers stand at every voting place in Indiana next election day and personally solicit every voter to vote for the constitutional convention was passed and arrangements were made to send women into parts of the state where the suffragists have not yet effected a working organization.

Arrangements were made for the establishment of headquarters in Indianapolis during the next legislative session, from which to direct the work of keeping accurate account of the record of each legislator.

Mrs. Anna D. Noland, of this city, was re-elected president of the association without opposition. Other officers elected are: Mrs. Dora Smith, Logansport, first vice president; Mrs. Margaret Cassings, Indianapolis, second vice president; Mrs. Martha Lamb, Amboy, third vice president; Dr. Emma Holloway, North Manchester, fourth vice president; Mrs. Mary Flanegan, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Antoinette Leach, Sullivan, chairman executive committee; Mrs. Kate Wood Ray, Gary, delegate to the national convention, and Mrs. Alexander Renie, Mrs. Harriet Houser and Mrs. Eloise McConnell, of this city, alternates.

The Store That Does Things

MOVE BOTH ON OSTEND AND FRENCH FRONTIER

Berlin, Oct. 15.—(Via Wireless)—Information concerning the progress of the war was given out in Berlin today as follows:

"German troops in Belgium are now marching in part toward Ostend and in part in a southwesterly direction toward the French frontier. The headquarters of Emperor William have been moved farther into France.

"There has been heavy fighting in France east of the Soissons and the Argonne. The French official reports about successes in the Woevre district are untrue. The Germans nowhere have lost ground. Etain (twelve miles to the east of Verdun) is in German hands. French attacks against our position near St. Mihiel have been repulsed.

"The war booty secured in Antwerp cannot yet be estimated. Twenty-six thousand Belgians and 2,000 Englishmen have been interned in Holland. In the harbor of Antwerp we found thirty-two German steamers, the boilers of which apparently had been disabled.

"Russian forces have been defeated at Schirwndt (in East Prussia, nineteen miles to the east of Gumbinnen,) with a loss of 1,500 prisoners and twenty cannon. German troops have repulsed the Russians south of Warsaw and hold southern Poland as far as the Vistula river.

"Emperor William, acting on a petition handed him by Cardinal Hartmann, of Cologne, has ordered that French Catholic priests among the prisoners in Germany, who entered the French ranks as common soldiers, shall be treated in Germany in the same manner as are French officers.

"It is reported here from Stettin that German torpedo boat destroyers discovered six vessels of Norwegian, Swedish and Danish nationality loaded with goods and provisions destined for London and also for Russia. All were taken into Swinemunde."

CANADIANS TAKE GASOLINE LAUNCH

Nanaimo, B. C., Oct. 15.—The ninety-ton gasoline launch, Empress Ninth, was captured by Canadian authorities yesterday at Comox Spit, in Union bay. The crew, two men and a woman, all giving the name of Kohfe, were taken into custody.

The launch had about nine months' provisions and supplies aboard, carried three auxiliary engines and was equipped with wireless apparatus. It is supposed that the crew were intercepting messages from the wireless station at Cape Lazo.

Two other men, also named Kohfe, were arrested at Campbell river. They are charged with being German spies. Both parties were sent to Nanaimo to await further instructions.

LIQUOR CAUSES MOST ACCIDENTS

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Sixty per cent of the industrial accidents in the United States are charged to liquor, R. L. Palmer, chief inspector of the Pennsylvania department of labor and industry, told delegates attending the national congress for industrial safety today.

"It will not be long," the speaker said, "before the saloon will be as much separated from the industrial plant as it is now from the church. As a matter of business we will have to furnish workmen better entertainment than saloons. We also will have to pay in cash to prevent men from going to saloons to convert their checks int currency."

E. K. Pritchett, representing a manufacturing company of Grand Rapids, Mich., asserted that after employes had been forbidden to use alcoholic beverages, arrangements were made for milk wagons to call at the factories at a certain hour every morning.

"We then permitted the men to stop work and go out and buy fresh bottles of milk," Mr. Pritchett said. "We found this arrangement practically has solved the drinking problem."

GERMAN LOSS IS 12 000 TO 15,000

Paris, Oct. 15.—(1:02 p. m.)—The newspaper, Franco Du Nord, declares today that when the Germans were defeated at Arras they lost from 12,000 to 15,000 men who were surrounded by the French in some marshes.

It is reported from Trieste, Austria, that all able bodied men in Austria are being forcibly compelled to assist in constructing fortifications. Any man refusing to do this work is arrested. The people are expressing indignation because of this.

EDITOR KILLS POLITICAL FOE

San Bernardo, Cal., Oct. 15.—Howard E. Davis, secretary of the progressive county central committee and editor of the Evening Index, shot and instantly killed Ben Emerson, a local sportsman, last night. Davis said Emerson attacked him.

The shooting followed a fist fight on the street at the entrance to progressive headquarters. Davis went to his office after the shooting and was arrested there. He exhibited marks on his face and said he shot in self defense. Emerson's name had been used in the paper in connection with attacks on republican party leaders, and he had demanded a retraction, it is said.

Fort Wayne Has One of Indiana's Best Men's Stores

COPYRIGHT 1914 THE HOUSE OF KUPPENHEIMER.

What has happened in the realm of base-ball sometimes occurs in the world of business. It has actually come to pass in the Men's Wear line in Fort Wayne; and the public is rapidly learning the fact. A store only a little more than a year old is proving itself a better store.

Any man or young man who enters the store of the Barker-Rose Co., 714 Calhoun St., cannot miss these facts. It is a mighty pleasant place in which to trade; everything this store shows has the atmosphere of newsness and freshness that is lacking in the goods most stores show; and one finds the latest most attractive things there.

This store has the modern idea. It believes first in service. The proprietors themselves wait upon most of their trade. In few stores, anywhere, is so sincere an effort made to please and satisfy. It is refreshing to receive such courtesy and attention.

Of course prices and values are always a most important consideration with the public. The Barker-Rose Co. know this as well as anyone else. So it does not even attempt to charge the prices or get the long profits of the other and older stores. It is doing a lot of business at small profits—which means its customers are getting big values.

The man or young man who wants clothes at $15.00 to $25.00 can save money and get better goods of the Barker-Rose Co. So in the case of hats at $2 and $3. So in shirts, ties, underwear, etc. The policy of this store pays. It is the fastest growing clothing store in Indiana.

THREE TO CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY OF THEIR CONVERSION.

REV. J. A. NIPPER.

Rev. James A. Nipper, John M. Stewart and Charles Philley, who were all converted in the month of October, eight years, five years and one year ago, respectively, will celebrate the anniversary of their spiritual birth at the Rescue mission, on East Columbia street, Thursday evening.

These men will all tell of the experiences they had before and after conversion.

Following the services coffee and rolls will be served all those who attend. The meeting promises to be one of interest and the public is invited.

WILL GIVE THREE-ACT PLAY.

Redeemer Young People to Present "The Dream That Came True."

The Redeemer Lutheran Young People's society will give a three-act play entitled, "The Dream That Came True," at the St. Paul's school auditorium Thursday evening, October 15, at 8:15 p. m. The scene of action takes place in a factory town of the present day type and portrays the actual happenings that take place. Along with the instructive part of it a clever comedy plot is woven in so that it will afford everyone a very pleasant evening's entertainment. The cast of characters includes Catherine Von der Au, Arno Spiegel, Marina Swartzkopf, Esther Spiegel, Anna Von der Au, Howard Steup, Lillian Matott, Luella Kahn, Minnie Betcher, Earl Saffen, Ruth Hannan, Helen Ehle, Helen Lindeman, Edward Spiegel, Edith Baral, Annette Von der Au, Paul Spiegel and Henry Snyder.

WILL STUDY COSTUME DESIGNING.

A class in art which will study costume designing, including color combinations and how dresses should be designed, will begin its work Thursday evening at the Young Women's Christian association. The class will be taught by Miss Catharine Brown, of Indianapolis; who is a member of the faculty of the Fort Wayne high school. This is a new feature in the work at the Y. W. C. A. and is sure to be a class worth while joining. The work will not only be exceedingly interesting but instructive as well. Next term of this class will begin to sew things that they have designed this term.

Miss Anna Todd, of the high school, will teach the class in correct English, which also opens Thursday evening. She has made a special study of this work and is ready to give instructions along these lines.

C. E. Society Elects.

The Christian Endeavor society of the St. John Reformed church elected officers for the coming year at the annual election Wednesday evening. The president, A. Leslie Jacobs, and the secretary, Sophia Brandenburger, were re-elected. Amelia Peters was elected vice president, Gertrude Altevogt treasurer, and Harold Jacobs librarian. The secretary's report showed that during the year nineteen new members had been added to the roll.

Form a Bible Class.

A Bible class for young men of the community was formed Wednesday evening at the Bowser Free Methodist church. Officers for the first year were elected, and are: President, C. H. Middleton; vice president, E. E. Brown; secretary, S. L. Wass, jr.; treasurer, S. Kelzer. During the meeting R. H. Mauk, James Menefee and others gave short talks. Rev. E. F. Aiken was chosen teacher of the class.

New Haven Revival.

The revival in New Haven was quickened last night by the conversion of five adults and young people. The altar service was a very impressive thing with its enthusiastic body of men and women, its earnest prayers and deeply spiritual singing. Among church members and non-church members there is a manifest purpose and desire to see a decided revival of influence and power come over the community.

Church Notes.

The subject of the sermon by Rev. H. B. Master, of the First Presbyterian church, Thursday evening will be "Enthusiasm." The services so far have been well attended.

Mrs. J. A. Beatty, district president, and Mrs. C. S. Todd, both of the Simpson M. E. church, are at Indianapolis attending the branch meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary societies. All the delegates will return Friday evening.

The Ladies' society of the Plymouth Congregational church will meet Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. M. Kickley, 2733 Hoagland avenue. She will be assisted by Mesdames A. T. Lipes, M. Wishard, Frank Allen, Albert Bowser, Francis Miles, H. O. Wells, A. T. Williams and Sherwood Hinds.

H. F. SCHNELKER FAILS TO WRITE

Continued absence from his home on the part of Henry F. Schnelker, known to his friends as "Dummy," is causing some uneasiness to his friends, although there is nothing on the surface to indicate that he has met with foul play or that anything more is wrong than that he has failed to communicate with his family.

Schnelker formerly lived with his mother, Mrs. Anna A. Schnelker, 615 East Lewis street, and was employed for a number of years as a salesman for the Fort Wayne Drug company.

Last July he left for Rome City on his vacation and spent a week there with some of his acquaintances. So far as they know he came back to Fort Wayne and spent a night here and then left.

Reports reached here that he had been seen on the streets at Galion, Ohio, where he remained for a couple of days, but he has not written home and naturally the family is uneasy about him.

He is unmarried and there is no reason that he should not have gone away if he wanted to, but he gave no notice at the drug company's store of his intention to leave the service and the circumstances surrounding his departure and long absence has caused some questioning.

He has two married sisters living in Fort Wayne and they and his mother are seeking some information as to his whereabouts, but have been unable to locate him. He was one of the most ardent bowlers in Fort Wayne and was well known among the members of that fraternity.

START THE NOON MEETINGS IN CITY

Democrats Getting Ready to Do Active Work in All Shops.

At democratic headquarters on Thursday Chairman W. A. Johnson and Secretary Otto Koenig took up with Maurice Niezer, head of the speakers' bureau, the question of starting noon meetings in the Fort Wayne shops and ward meetings in the city.

While no definite arrangements were made it was decided to begin the noonday meetings on Monday of next week and Mr. Niezer took up at once the task of assigning the speakers.

These will be continued until the end of the campaign as most of the townships have been given the attention of the candidates and there are comparatively few speaking dates outside the city.

Meetings have been scheduled for Monday night of next week at the town hall in New Haven for the voters of Adams township and on November 2 another meeting will be held in the same place.

At Aboite Center last night there was a good crowd out to hear Hon. J. M. Robinson and Harry H. Hilgeman, in spite of the fact that the weather was forbidding.

The ladies of St. Peter's Catholic church will give a pedro party Friday afternoon at the school hall.

RULING HITS FIFER DEFENSE.

Elkhart, Ind., Oct. 15.—The defense in the case of Floyd Fifer, 17 years old, on trial in the superior court here for the alleged murder of Druggist Fink, of South Bend, suffered a blow when Judge Harmon overruled the objections of the attorneys and permitted the confession of the young man to go before the jury. An attempt possibly will be made to show that Fifer was influenced by Joseph Smith, who Fifer charged, gave him the revolver with which the shooting was done. In the reading of the transcript from St. Joseph county it was discovered that the record did not show an arraignment and as none had been made here it looked like a mistrial. The concession of defendant's attorney saved the state's attorney the embarrassment of dismissing the suit.

NOTICE!

Beginning at once the 5:30 p. m. Robison park car will be discontinued.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

11 Chronicles 14:1-11.

1 So Abijah slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of David: and Asa his son reigned in his stead. In his days the land was quiet ten years.

2 And Asa did that which was good and right in the eyes of the Lord his God:

3 For he took away the altars of the strange gods, and the high places, and brake down the images, and cut down the groves:

4 And commanded Judah to seek the Lord God of their fathers, and to do the law and the commandment.

5 Also he took away out of all the cities of Judah the high places and the images: and the kingdom was quiet before him.

6 And he built fenced cities in Judah: for the land had rest, and he had no war in those years; because the Lord had given him rest.

7 Therefore he said unto Judah, Let us build these cities, and make about them walls, and towers, gates, and bars, while the land is yet before us; because we have sought the Lord our God, we have sought him, and he hath given us rest on every side. So they built and prospered.

8 And Asa had an army of men that bare targets and spears, out of Judah three hundred thousand; and out of Benjamin, that bare shields and drew bows, two hundred and four score thousand: all these were mighty men of valour.

9 And there came out against them Zerah the Ethiopian with an host of a thousand thousand, and three hundred chariots; and came unto Mareshah.

10 Then Asa went out against him, and they set the battle in array in the valley of Zephathah at Mareshah.

11 And Asa cried unto the Lord his God, and said, Lord, it is nothing with thee to help, whether with many, or with them that have no power: help us, O Lord our God; for we rest on thee, and in thy name we go against this multitude. O Lord, thou art our God; let not man prevail against thee.

THURSDAY, OCT. 15, 1914.

Better Farming America's Best Defense.

In the small cities and villages in the chief farming areas the local banker is generally, in a real sense, the leading citizen. Farmers, merchants, owners of mills and shops seek his advice; and most of them take their cue from what he says. Because of this fact, the National Implenet and Vehicle association is submitting to local bankers six bits of advice which are good enough to be spread broadcast:

"(1) Urge the farmer who has harvested his grain not to speculate on the fluctuation of future prices.

"(2) Recommend to the farmer of the South to diversify his crops—a one-crop country cannot continue to bring prosperity to its farmers.

"(3) Preach preparedness for the 1915 harvest—more intensive cultivation, quite as much as increased acreage, will bring prosperity to the farmers.

"(5) Secure for the agricultural community the benefits provided in the new currency law by creating a demand for the early opening of the various federal reserve banks.

"(6) Discourage all speculation, but encourage the expansion of legitimate business in the rural communities by reasonable extension of credit."

The stirring experience of the past months has taught more clearly than ever before the supreme importance of farming. Into what straits, following the unexpected war crisis, would not a crop failure have plunged us! Germany's strength is more in its potash than in its cannon; for it is the immense yield which German skill has won from relatively a small area of soil which feeds her fighting millions—crushed she would be speedily were her food supply to run low. Before our own rich and ample country can take hold in a large way of the opportunities which the war will open to us, we shall first need to set things better to rights at home. And the most important thing of all, because underlying all the rest, is to put more skill into our farming.

Though you may call this threshing over old straw, the fact remains that we haven't yet used due intelligence in farming. Had there been put into it as much keenness of foresight and as much business skill as have, for instance, gone into our great manufacturing plants during the past quarter century, we should not now have before us the two disturbing spectres of an average yield per acre actually less than a generation ago, and a growing tenancy problem, shifting and shiftless, which further threatens the soil's ebbing reserves of strength.

There can be no permanent welfare for this or any other nation unless those who work may be sure that they shall be able to eat. First of all, we must safeguard our food supply. Every year the cities take more, the country holds fewer months. We, too, are beginning to have continuous bread lines. If we begin to find it a task to feed our own people in times of peace, how much greater will the difficulty of the task become when war cuts away the harvests of half of the rest of the world?

Every new bit of skill put into an American farm is better than a chain of forts as a defense of our nation's future. We hope that the local bankers, and, for that matter, every other citizen having access to people's ears will preach this gospel eloquently and often.

The proposal to establish on philanthropic lines a night school for the instruction of newly-arrived citizens of alien birth in Fort Wayne has many features to commend it. We believe the opportunity will be gladly embraced by those who have come to America as a land of opportunity, and who desire to get closely in touch with the spirit, the purposes, the customs, the ideals and the tongue of land in which they are seeking to make a new home.

Happily, Governor Hunt, of Arizona, whose project to send Arizona state troops to the Mexican border promised an infinite variety of new troubles for the United States, subsided in time to make a spanking by Uncle Sam unnecesary. It is hardly to be presumed that the border states can enjoy the Mexican imbroglio that sends bullets across the line, but the situation is one with which the federal government must deal.

And in your enthusiasm for your favorite candidates, do not forget to vote "yes" on the constitutional convention ballot in November.

The Iron Manufacturers.

Pittsburg Press: "It is seriously questionable whether the cotton growers have suffered much more from the war than the iron and steel manufacturers, who would have quite as much warrant for asking the government to come to their rescue."

Support the South.

Cincinnati Inquirer: "Place the nation in support of the south, the east, the west or the north, whenever a crisis like this occurs, and all will be well."

Other Producers.

Philadelphia Public Ledger: "If the government went to the assistance of cotton it could not refuse to give relief to the producers of every other commodity the market for which is curtailed by the war."

Business.

Philadelphia Record: "The banks of the southwest are preparing to advance $30 a bale on five million bales of cotton. That is business, and not charity or populism, and it is enough to prevent disaster."

The Cotton Pool.

Houston Post: "With the aid of the federal reserve bank, the cotton pool will be enabled to supply all the money necessary to store and hold all the cotton for which there will be no mill demand this year."

Federal Assistance.

Washington Post: "To permit the prostration of the south by the withholding of federal aid, of federal currency, of federal legislative assistance in the face of a crisis like the present one would be a crime against the republic."

Productive Work.

A Better Profit.

Pittsburg Dispatch: "It is worth while to recognize that the south will be better off and the individual farmers will probably find a better profit if they seek a larger variety in their crops."

PATERSON'S EXAMPLE.

(Pittsburg Dispatch.)

Paterson, N. J., is a city that has been made famous by anarchism, by floods and by fire. It has balanced this unfortunate record by organizing and opening an industrial exhibition, which is peculiarly timely at this juncture.

The exposition opened in that city on Monday has for its chief feature the greatest show of silks ever displayed in this country. The silks are all "made in America." Gowns are exhibited whose material is the product of home factories, and in style and attractiveness can challenge comparison with the productions of Paris.

This is an example well worth following. It is a precedent in industrial faith and activity which will surely gain its reward. Some business elements seem to consider it the part of neutrality to keep in retirement, hope for the best and fear the worst. Paterson strikes the note of making the most of our opportunities, advertising what our home industries can do, and attracting the trade of other neutral nations.

It is not a hazardous prediction that the aggressiveness displayed in this effort will develop a prosperity that will force other industries to follow the good example.

HOLDS EMPLOYER MOST TO BLAME

Noted Mishawaka Manufacturer Discusses Factory Accidents.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Before the National Congress for Industrial Safety held here today, Melville W. Mix, president of the Dodge Manufacturing company, of Mishawaka, and head of the Manufacturers' Bureau of Indiana, placed the blame for 75 per cent. of factory accidents to the disinterested and indifferent attitude of the employer toward employe. Inasmuch as Mr. Mix was selected to represent the manufacturer before the congress, his stand, while somewhat unusual, may be considered as being pretty close to the real facts of the case.

M. W. MIX.

Mr. Mix said in part:

"Safety first, like any other general business movement, gathers to its ranks certain individuals who are invariably attracted to any forward movement having humanity or progressiveness as its battle cry.

"Their enlistment may, in a way, be compared to the thousands of enthusiastic, patriotic young men who enlisted for a three-months' term in '61 to go down south and 'stop a little unpleasantness.' The end of the three months came before scarcely a blow had been struck; and in the four long years of bloodshed that followed, these young recruits grew to love, and to love and die for the cause they had so impetuously joined.

"Safety first is a standard under which a 'three months'' enlistment is little more than useless. Safety first only resembles the efficiency movement in its popularity. Safety first is more than a hobby for the tired business man—more than an excuse to eat a good dinner at the expense of the committee and then listen to some more or less brilliant remarks made by as many chosen speakers who get nothing for their efforts other than the aforesaid dinner and what publicity their advertising man may be able to secure in friendly journals.

"Personal aggrandizement has no place in a movement based on a humane principle. When France neglected principle and followed the person, Napoleon, she opened the trap of her undoing; persons pass on, but worthy principles are with us forever.

"Safety first is the cause of human life; the conservation of the human elements of production far more important to the progress of mankind than the mobilization of armies, and far more productive than the extension of boundary lines or religious creeds. It is safe to say that in the fifty-year period following the civil war, almost as many men have lost their lives in the pursuit of their trade vocations as fell under the four years' hail of lead.

"We see wealthy magnates lay fabulous sums at the disposal of a world peace tribunal; and we see in what short space of time the martial strength of a continent may apparently forget the life-conserving principles to which they have subscribed.

"Do we see any such enthusiasm in the cause of commercial or industrial safety? Is the blood spilled at the lathe, the forge, the throttle, or the grade crossing less red, less valuable than that shed on fields of battle?

"It has been figured that the average cost of apprenticeship, including the cost of bringing a man to the working efficiency necessary to profit, is somewhere around $1,000. If this man is disabled from any cause, the employer must immediately recognize a charge for the cost of training another workman in addition to whatever damage he may be called upon to pay.

"But the tremendous loss of life from accidents has not been in vain. Martyrdom always precedes the public indorsement of a cause—and just now when we enter the age of specialized profits, do we take up and support the cause of safety first.

"To attach to this movement means that each of you must pledge your support, not in an impassioned or highly patriotic way—not by a rising vote or a rousing rally to the colors—but by a firm decision way down inside your heart—that you will join, support, assist and promote the cause of safety first wherever and whenever you shall find it. I do not mean that you shall sally forth into fields foreign to your endeavor. Let your own establishment be your first field of operation and victory is just as sweet, just as decisive, behind doors of your own establishment as it is in the workshop of your neighbor.

"The minimization of accidents produces a better feeling in the employments and leads to preferences being expressed for the employers whose workshops bear the best reputation for safety; thus the safe, well-groomed shop may have the call on workers, even though other things may be somewhat less attractive, and thus is possessed an asset of material value to those concerned.

"The value and safety in maintaining good tools, and of selecting good materials, is all helpful in eliminating waste and promoting economy in their use and preservation, having for their effect the reduction of losses in production as well as by accident.

"Close co-operation between employers and employe and through them with legislation will do much towards eliminating some of the troublesome questions that are arising in connection with the workmen's compensation and other employment laws which are being passed by the various states. Great care must be used and wise practical counsel prevail lest that in the making we do not work gross injustice to certain classes of employes.

"The ambitious and conservative married men are being so classified in some of the state laws that a great temptation may be encouraged on the part of certain types of employers, and especially small employers, to discriminate in favor of single men, or men whose social condition carried the least risk in the event of disability.

"This is also true in certain lines of employment having to deal with women. Not that the requirements of themselves may not be fair, but that they may be inconsistent with the conditions surrounding other employments, and thus force a choice that may be unjust and discriminative against a deserving, competent class of labor.

"A better understanding of the conditions by all concerned will eventually lead to equitable laws; thus we find another evidence of the value of safety as an asset, when through the forum of its encouragement we solve problems equally vital to the body industrial."

Are better and more profitable for the wearer of glasses.

Better because the lenses are larger, giving a greater range of vision, no unsightly metal sticking into the periphery of the lens proper, and obstructing the vision or causing those annoying reflections. More profitable because there is no hole thru the lens which is the starting of a break, thereby saving 50% of the cost of upkeep.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

RETURNS TO BARBER BUSINESS.

Kendallville, Ind., Oct. 15.—Once a barber always a barber, is an old theory which in most cases proves true, and again this fact is manifested in this city, and applies in the case of A. R. McNair, for many years a barber in this city, but who retired from the business some years ago. Since giving up the business he has served a term as recorder of Noble county, has been agent at Garrett for the interurban lines and has followed various lines of work, but dissatisfied, has decided to again come back to his old trade. He is now making arrangements to operate a barber shop in the Kelly hotel and will open the new place just as soon as his furniture and other equipment arrive.

OLD INJURY BECOMES SERIOUS.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 15.—Draper Goldsberry, an employe at the city waterworks and electric light plant, is off duty in consequence of an injury received a week ago, which was not considered serious at first, but has been gradually growing worse. He was helping repair a pump when a part of the iron pipe of the casing fell and struck him across the right leg, about midway between the ankle and knee. There was a bruise which Mr. Goldsberry did not regard as serious, but it appears that the bruise was deep and inflammation developed about the bone of the leg.

IN FEAR OF TETANUS.

Warsaw, Ind., Oct. 15. Albert Groninger, of Orion, 18 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Groninger, who shot himself with a 22-calibre target rifle through the palm of the left hand, inflicting a lacerated, ugly wound clear through the member, about which was inflicted painful burns from the powder, was given tetanus anti-toxine on Tuesday by Dr. Anglin. The nature of the wound made the precaution necessary as the powder burns had followed deep into the path of the bullet.

DIVORCE GETS ALIMONY.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 15.—Judge Eichhorn entered further proceedings in the divorce case of Mrs. Augusta Duff vs. Jehu Duff. He had previously indicated, on the day of trial, that he would grant the divorce to Mrs. Duff, but he took the matter of property rights under advisement. The entry this morning shows that Mrs. Duff was granted the divorce on the grounds of cruel treatment. She was awarded $450 alimony, and a further allowance of $100 for attorney's fees, taxed as costs, and her maiden name of Augusta Eskhart was restored.

CHILD RUN DOWN BY AUTO.

Portland, Ind., Oct. 15.—Mildred Straley, the six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Straley, living near Antiville, was injured when she was run over by an automobile. The little girl was returning home from school when an auto from Hongland and a wagon passed her on the highway. The machine in turning out for the wagon, struck the little girl, inflicting a number of injuries. Her right collar bone was broken, cuts on the side of the head, besides several bruises over her body.

HUSBAND HAD FLED.

Kendallville, Ind., Oct. 15.—Goldie Howlett, of Avilla, came to this city and filed an affidavit in Justice Lash's court charging her husband with assault and battery. Armed with a warrant, Marshal George Cunningham went to Avilla to make the arrest, only to learn that the husband, V. Howlett, had unceremoniously departed from the town, and according to report, with "the other woman." They left on a southbound interurban car and their whereabouts are unknown.

NO WATER AT 600 FEET.

Kendallville, Ind., Oct. 15.—Six hundred and seven feet in the ground and no well. That's the discouraging report received from the waterworks station today when the question was asked as to what success had been made in the driving of the test well in hopes of finding water. At a meeting of the city council a week ago, Wellman Harper was instructed to drive the pipe to the 600-foot mark in hopes that an extra good vein of water would be reached. He has done seven feet better and is as much in the dark as before, as far as securing an adequate supply of water is concerned.

LEG BROKEN IN SAME PLACE.

Decatur, Ind., Oct. 15.—George Gay, aged 70, a well known farmer who resides a mile north of Rivarre, is again laid up with a broken leg as the result of a kick from a horse. A year ago he was kicked by a horse and suffered a severe fracture of the knee. He had just become able to get about on crutches and while in his stable was again kicked by a horse. The blow of the hoof landed on the same place that had been fractured. The knee cap was broken and the socket was fractured.

DELPHOS COUPLE FLEE TO WED.

Hillsdale, Mich., Oct. 15.—Warden L. Barrick, of Paulding, Ohio, and Mattie Khorn, of Paulding Center, Ohio, eloped to this city and were united in marriage at the court house by Justice C. M. Weaver. Some of the supervisors witnessed the ceremony.

Double Chin? Apply This Soap, Fat Vanishes!

At last! A fat reducer that positively reduces fat, just where you want the fat reduced! The methods of reducing excess fat have been completely revolutionized by the most remarkable and most simple method ever known, PROF. SENZ REDUCING SOAP. The ingredients of this soap have the effect of reducing all unnatural and excess fatty tissue in a natural, easy, harmless way. You use it just about like any ordinary soap—it takes just a few minutes a day to use. If you have a double chin, apply it to that part and the "double chin" vanishes. Fat hips, ankles, limbs, arms, waist, all may be reduced in the same way.

There is nothing to take internally, no strenuous exercise, no starvation diet, no hot or cold baths, nothing violent or troublesome. No more months of weary waiting for results.

PROF. SENZ REDUCING SOAP is sold at drug stores at $1.00 a cake, or sent direct on receipt of price, by the Hygienic Co., 350 N. Clark street, Chicago, Ill. One $1.00 cake will show quick, marked results. A 3-cake box for $2.50 should be used for desired reduction.

The new fire equipment of Ossian was put to a test early Wednesday morning when a fire broke out in the Jas. Crabill bakery in the old Elzey block. But for the new facilities for fighting fire the entire block would have been consumed. As it was the loss is moderate. Those who sustained losses are A. S. Elzey, owner of the building, with a few hundred dollars damage; James Crabill, the baker; C. F. Goshorn, his restaurant being in the building, was partly damaged, and Owen East, the new meat man, who lived in the flat above.

ITCHING IRRITATION.

When you suffer with any skin trouble, even though the itching seems unbearable, do not think that it is necessary to use some disgusting, greasy ointment. Try Hokara, a pure and simple cream, that is guaranteed to contain no grease or acids and which is so cleanly that it does not soil the linen.

Not only do minor skin troubles like pimples, blackheads, acne, barber's itch, etc., quickly disappear, but the worst ulcers or cases of salt rheum or eczema are cleansed and healed by this wonderful skin food.

In order that any one may try Hokara at small expense, Meyer Bros. Co.'s drug store are selling a liberal-sized jar at 25c, and in addition guarantee to refund the money if the treatment does not do all that is claimed for it.—Adv.

MAKES FACE YOUNG— TIGHTENS LOVE TIES.

A fretful expression, a wrinkled face and a faded complexion do more to drive the male members from home than is commonly supposed. It was one of my greatest difficulties to appear smiling, fresh and elegant when my dear ones were with me. But I have overcome all that. I have changed my mental attitude and I now find it second nature to look cheerful. Due partly to this, partly to a remarkable treatment recommended by a friend, my appearance has so improved I look fifteen years younger than before.

A simple face lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel, proved a wonderful wrinkle-chaser. I still use this occasionally. To renovate my complexion I purchased an ounce of ordinary mercolized wax at my druggist's and before using this up, a marvelous transformation had taken place. It was like removing an unsightly mask, revealing a new face, a youthful complexion of distinctive delicacy, clear, white and velvety. I merely applied the wax like cold cream before retiring, washing it off mornings. Ten days' treatment sufficed.—"Aurilla" in Clubwoman.

CROSS, FEVERISH CHILD IS BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.

College Club Calls Meeting.

The College club sent out notices calling an important meeting at the Y. W. C. A. on Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. All members are urged to be present as they will discuss and decide on converting the funds which they collected for a day nursery to the maintenance of the home which Miss Minette Baum will give with her services, for a detention home, in memory of her late father, Mr. Samuel Baum, calling it the Samuel Baum Memorial home. The board of directors have consulted lawyers and found it would be possible to transfer the sum of money which they have for the prospective day nursery into a fund for the support of this home. Plans will be completed for the Japanese operetta which they will give this fall.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

"THE LITTLEST REBEL."

Beautiful Drama of Civil War Times Productive of Tears and Smiles.

With a plot that thrilled with its stirring patriotic and sentimental appeal, "The Littlest Rebel" came to the Jefferson yesterday after running for weeks at the Studebaker theater in Chicago. Producers have never done anything in the line of war dramas that can equal this magnificent effort of the Photo-Play Producing company. The pretentiousness of the settings in the picture would alone make it worthy, were it not for the powerful story, the beautiful appeal of which moved the onlooker to tears of sympathy and compassion. It is a story of the intermingling emotions occasioned among the northern and southern factions during the civil war, a tale of the bitter hate that lead men through four years of bloodshed and hardships, of strange circumstances which caused two lives in the opposing ranks to blend strangely into the inseparable bond of friendship whose existence was contradictory to all the laws of militarism. It tells, with genuine pathos of "The Littlest Rebel," Virgie, the tiny daughter of Captain Carey, the spy, who, with tears in her eyes, appealed to General Grant, beseeching him not to "kill her daddy." But withal, it tells a story that is human, that touches with its beautiful moive, and stirs with is patriotic fervor.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

Louise Dunbar and Company in "The Wolf" This Evening.

One of the many striking features of Eugene Walter's play, "The Wolf," which opened a three-days engagement at the Majestic this afternoon with Louise Dunbar and associate players, is the final of the last act, which is played on a dark stage with the moon hidden behind dense clouds. The fight between the two star characters is not seen by the audience but the exchange of defiance, the pistol shot and scuffle, with the sound of a falling body at last, are heard, and until the winner of the fight reveals his face by the glare of a match with which he is calmly lighting a cigarette, the audience is in doubt as to the outcome. Matinees will be given daily.

AT THE TEMPLE.

This was a great day at the Temple for the women who thronged to the cozy playhouse, attracted there by a double reason, souvenir spoon day and a delightful bill of all-Keith vaudeville. Each of the women that attended the opening performance of the week-end program was presented with a handsome silver spoon as a memento of the occasion.

The bill for the last portion of the week is a hum. Davett and Duval have brought back their great comedy sketch, "Holding Out," in which they scored a veritable triumph here a year ago. The scene is laid in a bedroom in an actors' boarding house in New York and the story is told in rarely amusing lines and situations. The funny-faced monkeys belonging to Anita Diaz's act perform some truly remarkable stunts even for monkeys. Miss Diaz's animals are the highest type of the monkey family and she has trained them in a wonderful series of capers. Ben Smith's funny sayings and still funnier songs leave a decidedly pleasant taste in one's mouth. Archer and Carr have an unusual talking and singing act, while the Turner skaters present some difficult feats on rollers.

THE ORPHEUM.

A STORY OF REVENGE

An Imp drama in two reels entitled "The Futility of Revenge," written by Stuart Paton, with Dorothy Phillips and Alex Gaden in the leading roles, is one of the offerings at the Orpheum this afternoon and evening.

Richard Dent is a respected citizen, but unknown even to his dearest friends he is, at night, the enemy of society—a thief. One evening he enters the home of a public official and before he can escape he is recognized. On the following day he is arrested after a vain effort on the part of his wife to save him. She is implicated with him and both are sentenced to prison, leaving their little daughter to the mercies of the world. The wife dies in the prison and the husband swears vengeance on the judge who sentenced her. The remaining chapters of the story tell how the revenge, carefully planned though it was, reacted on the man.

"Heinie's Outing," a Sterling comedy featuring Max Asher, will be an added attraction today. The orchestra has arranged an excellent program and Miss Lyons will sing.

There are three offerings on the program for tomorrow: "The Way of Life," a Nestor drama with Eddie Lyons and Victoria Ford heading the cost; "Cupid Victor," an Eclair fantasy, and a Victor drama entitled, "Disillusioned," with J. Warren Kerrigan heading the cast.

AT THE LYRIC.

With the introduction of three acts of classy vaudeville along with a three-film picture program and all at popular prices, the best guess of the ones that had not been acquainted with the Lyric method was that the picture portion of the entertainment would be made to suffer. How unfounded this belief is can readily be seen by glancing through the program for today. "Hello, Mabel," one of those rare Keystone comedies that never fail to please; a Majestic drama, "Down by the Sea," and another series of the Mutual Girl. These pictures are being presented with three crack vaudeville acts, the new variety bill opening this afternoon. Heelow and Rollard, novelty dancing act, touted by vaudeville managers over the country as being a real act; Carl and Reihl in a singing and comedy talking skit, and Florence Barr, a comedienne with a style as distinctly all her own as that of Eva Tanguay, comprise the vaudeville portion of the entertainment.

AT THE EMPRESS.

Fort Wayne theater-goers have a great opportunity for the rest of the week. They have the opportunity of seeing and hearing at the Empress theater Mr. Ben Jerome, who is the composer of more musical comedy successes than any other musician. He is assisted by Corinne Hewlette, character singing comedienne, and Sig. M. Fenonne, who hails from the sunny shores of Italy.

The Melnotte twins, those dainty stars, will sing and dance charmingly for the rest of the week at the Empress. "One Flight Up," an intense dramatic playlet of moving situation and surprising plot, is now being presented by William Lampe and company.

Copeland and Payton, the laugh provoking comedians, are presenting "A Comedy in a Dining Car." Just a jester is George Yoeman, who has yet to see the person that he cannot make laugh while the Clairmont Brothers present a rollicking revolving ladder act. Motion pictures that fascinate are shown for the last half of the week in the Empresscope.

HOUSE PASSES MEASURE.

Jones Philippine Bill Carries by Vote of 211 to 59.

Washington, Oct. 15.—The Jones Philippine bill, which declares the purpose of the United States to recognize the independence of the islands "as soon as a staple government can be established there," passed the house late yesterday by a vote of 211 to 59. It will not be considered in the senate at this session of congress.

Five republicans, Representatives Cooper, Davis, Dillon, Griest and Rogers; four progressives, Representatives Falconer, Chandler, Rupley and Thompson, of Illinois, and Representative Farr, progressive-republican, voted with the solid democratic membership for the bill. Speaker Clark also had his vote recorded for the measure. Representative Bryan, of Washington (progressive) voted against it.

The bill declares the policy of the United States on recognition of the independence of the islands in the preamble, and makes both branches of the Philippine legislature elective by the Filipino people.

GREAT RELIEF FOR LAKESIDE

Measures for extensive relief and protection of Lakeside from floods consequences will principally engage the board of public works at the Thursday evening session of that body. Bids will be received for the construction of a sewer and the installation of sewage pumps and a resolution will be passed for the construction of a concrete wall along the St. Joe boulevard dike from Columbia avenue to Fores tavenue. The sewer and pumps are designed to relieve conditions when high water forces the closing of the valves of the main sewers, which pour into the Maumee river, so that water and sewage will not back up into local drains and fill cellars. This measure has been pending for more than a year and on one account and another has been delayed. The cost will be about 7,000, for which the property owners in the Lakeside and Forest park districts will be assessed. The concrete wall along the west side of St. Joe boulevard will be built two feet above the flood level of March, 1913, and it is believed will prove ample protection in all future contingencies. Its cost will be $15,000 and all property east of the wall will be assessed for it.

The board will have up for confirmation the resolution for paving the first alley west of Calhoun street, from Wayne street to the alley south and the alley between Calhoun and Harrison streets, from Washington to Jefferson. This latter improvement will run along the side exits of the Jefferson theater.

DRAINAGE FOR NEW ADDITION.

Bishop Herman J. Alerding, of the Catholic diocese of Fort Wayne, the board of works and the city engineer looked over the region of the Pfeiffer addition and the St. Vincent's orphans' home property Wednesday afternoon, with reference to a drainage system for the addition and a sewer right of way across the orphans' home lands. Bishop Alerding gave his consent to the plan, which will connect Pfeiffer addition's drainage with the Third street main sewer.

SECRETARY WESSEL RETURNS.

Secretary John Wessel of the city light and power department returned Thursday morning from Indianapolis, where he appeared for examination before the Marion county grand jury which is investigating the charge that bills were juggled in the last legislature and that Speaker Homer Cook was involved in corrupt actions. As reading clerk of the last house it was supposed that Secretary Wessel could furnish important information.

DAIRIES SHOW WELL.

Chief Eugene A. Schott, of the meat and dairy inspection division of the health department, and Deputy Charles Josse have just completed the periodical inspection of the dairies that distribute milk to the people of Fort Wayne. Further improvement is reported in conditions and the existence of a ready spirit to comply with the health regulations.

INVESTIGATING AT ROANOKE.

State Pure Food Inspector Hutchins was in Ft. Wayne Thursday morning en route to Roanoke to pursue investigations relating to an outbreak of typhoid fever in that town. It is believed a restaurant there had some responsibility. Deputy Inspector Charles Josse, of the Fort Wayne health department, accompanied him.

VISITS HIS OLD HOME.

Chairman Frank E. Singrey, of the board of works, accompanied by his family, motored to the home of his brother-in-law, W. O. Prouty, in Jefferson township, Noble county, to attend the annual meeting of the agricultural association of that township, which was held at Mr. Prouty's home. Chairman Singrey formerly resided in Jefferson township.

NOT AFRAID OF ANY FIVE.

A bowling team has been organized in the city hall by Deputy Comptroller George Stang, who has brought John Alt, Gates Horton, Henry Pranger and Andrew App under his colors. The new team has challenged Tom Connelly's formidable five of the county treasurer's office and the first clash will take place Sunday, probably on the Brunswick alleys.

BIG SLIDE TIES UP PANAMA CANAL

Several ships in the canal have been unable to complete their passage.

The reports indicate that there were earth movements on both sides into the channel from the slopes of Gold and Contractor's hills, which are virtually opposite each other.

Col. Goethals and others are this morning making an examination of the extent of the damage. It is said that traffic through the canal probably will be resumed the early part

SUES PHYSICIAN FOR LARGE SUM

Manda Roop Asks $5,000 of Dr. Mooreland for Assault and Battery.

In the superior court Maude Roop has filed suit against Dr. Edward H. Moreland, a well known specialist physician, for $5,000 damages for assault and battery, alleged to have been committed October 1, last, when, according to the complaint, "he did, in a rude, insolent and angry manner beat and strike the plaintiff." The complaint is very brief and no other details than the mere charge that assault and battery was committed at the time stated are given.

Sues Traction Company for $2,000.

James P. McDonald has brought suit in the superior court against the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company for $2,000 for personal injuries. In his complaint he alleges that on the 20th of last May he was the last of several passengers to leave a westbound Main street car at Cherry street and that just as he was alighting the car was suddenly started, throwing him to the pavement. He says he sustained injuries to his leg, face and side and that he has been unable to work since the accident. Moreover, he says that the injury to his leg will impair his earning capacity for at least two years.

Notes of the Courts.

The last will and testament of Patrick J. Bulger has been filed for probate. He left his estate to his children.

In the superior court Judge Yaple has granted a divorce to Edith Cupp from Jacob Cupp. The two lived together but a few days following their marriage.

In the superior court Judge Yaple granted a divorce to Arthur Houck from Edna Houck, but gave the defendant the custody of a minor child and ordered the plaintiff to pay $10 a month for its support.

The will of the late John A. Bushman, assessor of Wayne township, has been filed for probate. He leaves his entire estate to his wife.

Senator T. E. Ellison and Joseph M. Haley, of Fort Wayne, and Messrs. Watkins, Butler and Brooks, of Huntington, as counsel representing each argued the Little River ditch case in the supreme court at Indianapolis Wednesday. A decision is expected soon.

New Trial is Denied.

Judge Eggeman, in the circuit court, has denied the motion of the defendant for a new trial in the case of Frank J. Shields against the New York, Chicago and St. Louis railroad. For two days Judge Eggeman listened to the argument of Judge Walter Olds, general counsel for the defendant, which included the reading of a voluminous mass of affidavits purposed to show that the testimony upon which a circuit court jury last June gave Shields a verdict for $10,000 damages for the loss of a leg was perjured. Judge John H. Aiken, counsel for Shields in the two trials of the cause in the circuit court, and Phil B. Colerick, his associate counsel, made strong pleas against the granting of a new trial. Judge Eggeman, in overruling the motion for a new trial, held that perjured testimony could not constitute ground for a new trial under decisions of the Indiana supreme court, though perjured testimony might have been given. Shields and his nephew, John Golday, of Chicago, who was one of the most important witnesses for Shields in the second trial, are under bond for appearance in the circuit court here on charges of perjury in connection with the case.

URGES 'EM TO DO IT EARLY.

Do it early, is the counsel and plea of J. Herman Bueter, treasurer of Allen county. This does not refer to Christmas shopping—though Mr. Bueter is a strong advocate of that—but to taxpaying. The fall installment of taxes is due and but two weeks remain in which to pay without penalty. Directly will come the rush of the belated. Those who pay now will be sure to be in time, will make it easier for Treasurer Bueter and his efficient staff and will be an act of mercy to those who cannot possibly get in early.

DEATH COMES UNEXPECTEDLY

Arising at 4 o'clock Thursday morning, the usual time for preparing to go to work, Michael O'Conner, of 2207 South Lafayette street, was suddenly seized with an attack of heart failure and five minutes later, before medical aid could reach him, he died. The deceased was employed as janitor at the Pennsylvania cabinet office and was seventy years old.

He was born in Ireland, September 29, 1844, and came to this country in 1860 and settled at Warsaw, where he lived until 1900, when he moved to this city. He was employed by the Pennsylvania company since 1863 and only yesterday was at work at his usual place.

He was a member of the St. Patrick's Catholic church and of the Holy Name society and the Sacred Heart league of the same congregation. Besides his wife he is survived by six children, William, employed at the boiler shop of the Pennsylvania; John, of the city waterworks; Frank, of the Pennsylvania baggage room, and James, of the Pennsylvania round house, and Catherine and Mary O'Connor, all at home.

JACKSON.

James Jackson, aged eleven years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaiah Jackson, of 208 Second street, died at the family home Thursday morning at 11:30 o'clock following an illness of but two days' duration. Death was due to diphtheria. He was a Sentinel carrier boy and only Tuesday evening went over his usual route and delivered the papers.

He was a faithful member of the Trinity M. E. Sunday school and was a bright and lovable boy with a gentlemanly character. He was large for his age and was well acquainted in the city.

Besides his grief-stricken parents he is survived by the following brothers and sisters: Harvey H. and Raymond Jackson, of Coesse; Newton and Samuel Jackson, of this city; Mrs. Dr. J. W. Cannel, of Bucyrus, O., and Miss Kittie Jackson, of this city.

Funeral services Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence will be private. Interment at Lindenwood.

SZINK.

Mrs. Eliza Jane Szink, aged 62 years and seven months, died Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Calhoun, 1020 Nelson street, following an illness of several weeks' duration. Death was due to complications.

The deceased was born in Logantown, Pa., March 15, 1852, and moved to this city many years ago. She was a devoted member of the First Baptist church of this city and also of the Ladies' society of the same congregation. Her husband preceded her in death only six weeks ago. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. J. A. Calhoun and Mrs. C. R. Hilberry, of Philadelphia, and four sisters and two brothers.

EITING.

Anna Eiting, widow of Henry Eiting, died late Wednesday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Josephine Thieke, 2016 John street, after an illness of but ten days' duration. Death was due to complications and came at the age of 76 years.

Mrs. Eiting was born in Germany, August 18, 1838, and came to Fort Wayne seventeen years ago. She was a member of the St. Mary's Catholic church and is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Josephine Thieke, and three sisters —Mrs. Lucile Lingin, of this city, and Katharine and Emma, who reside in Germany.

MULLIGAN.

After suffering for a year from paralysis, Thomas Mulligan, aged 57 years, of 2534 Lafayette street, died at 12:45 Thursday morning at St. Joseph hospital. Before his sickness he was identified with the Bowser company plant where he had been employed for several years. He is survived by two daughters—Miss Grace Mulligan, of this city, and Mrs. William Doyle, of Chicago.

FUNERAL NOTICES.

Volz—Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Volz will be held Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock at the residence of her mother, 410 West Creighton avenue, and at 9 o'clock at St. Patrick's Catholic church.

Flaugh—Funeral services for Mrs. Fredericka Flaugh will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock (sun time) at the residence, three and one-half miles east of Hoagland, and at 2:30 o'clock at St. John's Lutheran church in Madison township, Rev. S. Hassold officiating.

ALL TALK OF FORT WAYNE.

SPAIN RATIFIES TREATY.

Society

Mrs. Guy Scott, of West Jefferson street, will entertain at bridge at the Country club next Wednesday afternoon and is issuing invitations to the party.

Miss Emma Kindt, who had been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Kindt, of 1702 Spy Run avenue, left yesterday for the south where her home now is as she is employed in her uncle's store in Asheville, N. C.

Mrs. Ben Bell, of the New Haven road, gave a bridge party of beautiful appointment this afternoon in honor of her sister, Miss Laura Van Slyke, of Oakland, Cal.

Mrs. P. Fackler gave a theater party this afternoon at the Majestic theater in honor of Mrs. E. Fackler, of Pittsburgh, who is visiting here. The guests included Mesdames C. Jenkins, J. Stapleton, J. Stewart, W. Adams, J. Greer and C. Griffith.

Mrs. Madge Crosbie has gone to her home in Warsaw and her daughter, Miss Amber Crosbie has returned to her studies at Winona college after visiting relatives and friends here for a few weeks.

Miss Maude Jefferies delightfully entertained a number of friends at her home yesterday evening with music and games followed by refreshments that gave all pleasure. The table was prettily decorated with a centerpiece of marigolds with yellow ribbons leading to each plate. At the end of the ribbons were tiny envelopes in which Miss Jefferies announced that her marriage to C. E. Kruse would take place in November. Those who were present to enjoy the good time and extend congratulations were Misses Zelma and Edith Kutsch, Elenora and Elizabeth Woenker, Arvilla Burehard, Martha Kruse, Cecelia McCarthy, Estelle McGary and Mabel Jefferies.

Mrs. Martin A. Gregory, of Valparaiso, president of the Valparaiso Woman's Franchise league, and a prominent office of the Valparaiso Women's club, has been here attending the D. A. R. conference, a delegate from the William Henry Harrison chapter.

Cecil Max, of Mobile, Ala., who has been here for several weeks with Mrs. Max at the home of her father, Judge W. J. Vesey, will return south tomorrow. Mrs. Max will remain here until Christmas time and superintend her father's home while Miss Margaret Vesey goes to Florida on a pleasure trip.

Mrs. Flora J. Nixon and Mrs. Alfred de Reulet, of Chicago, spent today in the city attending the wedding of their son and brother, Dr. John Nixon, to Miss Sale.

An Overland automobile belonging to a man named Flager caught fire Wednesday evening about 6 o'clock while standing in front of the Elks' temple on West Berry street, due to short circuit. The auto chemical wwas called and the firemen quickly extinguished the blaze.

Hueber—Hilker.

The Church of the Precious Blood was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday morning when Rev. C. Hummer officiated at the marriage and nuptial mass for Miss Edith Hilker, daughter of Mrs. W. Hilker, of 416 Huffman street, and Mr. Frederick I. Hueber. The hour of the wedding was 9 o'clock. Miss Adella Hilker was bridesmaid and Mr. Bernard Hueber was his brother's best man. The bride was beautifully dressed in a flowered silk net over heavy white satin with trimming of pearls and ribbon. The bridal veil was caught with swansonia blossoms and the bridal bouquet was of white roses with a shower of swansonia. The bride wore a pear bead necklace, the groom's wedding gift. The bridesmaid was gowned in Nile green crepe de chine trimmed with white chiffon and oriental lace. The bridesmaid wore a hat of white velour trimmed with ostrich plumes and pink roses. Her bouquet was of sunburst roses. Messrs. George Shimmele and Clarence Hueber were ushers. The wedding breakfast was served at the home of thebride and was an elaborate affair. In the afternoon a reception was held for about seventy-five friends and relatives. The decorations were roses and 'mums. The bride's table was done in smilax and pink and white flowers. In the evening the bride and groom left on a trip to Pittsburg, Philadelphia and New York. For traveling the bride wore a heliotrope chiffon broadcloth suit and blouse of Roman stripe silk. Her hat was a purple velour trimmed in white plumes. The groom is a clerk for the Pennsylvania company. Mr. and Mrs. Hueber will go to housekeeping at 737 Greenlawn avenue on their return. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Teador Hueber.

GERMAN PRESS RAPS ENGLAND

Comment on Alleged Dicker With Belgium Very Caustic.

Rome (Via Paris), Oct. 15.—Alleged documents of the Belgian general staff inscribed "English intervention in Belgium," which are said to have been found by German military authorities in Brussels and which were published by the North German Gazette, are causing comment in German newspapers, some of which were received here today.

The Kreuz Zeitung says the documents show that long ago it was decided in case of war that Belgium would side with France and England. The Deutsche Tags Zeitung declares it hopes now that the neutral states will cease to speak about "the brutal violation of poor, innocent little Belgium."

"The documents show," says the Vossische Zeitung, "the duplicity of England and her indifference at planning a violation of Holland. They also show the wisdom of Baron Greindt (the Belgian minister to Berlin) who had the right opinion about trusting English protection. His prediction was realized. Belgium bleeds from a thousand wounds received in behalf of British interests, and the indignation of the English statesmen over the sanctity of a treaty is mere hypocrisy."

The Gazette del Popolo, a Turin newspaper, having asked King Nicholas of Montenegro to give his views regarding the war, received an answer from Gen. Martinovitch, who, in the name of the king, replied as follows:

"This terrible war is the revenge—attempted throughout a century, which this time we hope will be strictly defined—of oppressed nationalities against the nefarious work of the Vienna congress. The nationalities supported by the triple entente did not provoke the sanguinary struggle which was imposed upon them by the reactionary spirit of the German world, wishing definitely to consolidate its own reign on the sufferings of the weak in contempt of international law."

SAYS U. S. IS NOT PREPARED

"The time has not yet come," he asserted, "when the United States can afford to allow the martial spirit of her sons to be destroyed and all the Carnegie millions in the world will not silence those of us who believe that bullets cannot be stopped with bombast nor vanquished by platitudes."

Mr. Gardner further declared in his statement that respect to the present European war, concerning which he had some personal insight, having been in the zone of conflict, his views were "not those of a neutral."

"I am entirely convinced," said he, "that the German cause is unholy and moreover a menace to the principles of democracy. Furthermore, I believe that the God of battles will visit defeat upon the Germans, but no matter which side wins, we must remember that since the beginning of time victorious nations have proved headstrong and high-handed. We must begin at once to reorganize our military strength if we expect to be able to resist high-handed cases when the day of necessity comes."

The Gardner resolution proposes a commission to consist of three senators and three members of the house and three persons to be named by the president of the United States to make full investigation into the question of the preparedness of the United States for war.

WAITING FOR ZAPATA'S MEN

would not be until the convention reconvened. Both Carothers and Kanova reported that harmony reigned at the close of the session. Prior to the decision to defer final action regarding Carranza, however, there were many heated debates which threatened to disrupt the convention. The dispute was started by a resolution introduced by Col. Eduardo Hay, providing that the convention be declared supreme as it stood.

Villa delegates, according to the official report, opposed this, urging that Zapata should be fully represented at the convention until any [illegible]

unless this course was followed.

Col. Hay made a speech, it was said, in which he declared that the leaders represented at the convention should combine to put down any rebellion against the government finally set up by the convention. Gen. Obregon and Gen. Angeles made speeches counselling harmony.

Finally Col. Hay withdrew his resolution and introduced another providing for the sending of an urgent invitation to Zapata to send delegates and the postponement of action on the resignation of Gen. Carranza. In secret session it was decided to declare the convention sovereign and this fact later was announced in open session.

Administration leaders were of the opinion that the outcome of the convention made it probable that all factions in Mexico would be able to come to an agreement which would include the suppression of minor discordant elements.

WILL BE NAMED SOON.

But Reports on Carranza's Successor Are Indefinite.

Aguas Calientes, Mexico, Oct. 15.—Unofficial reports of the peace conference here yesterday say that a successor to Gen. Carranza for the presidency of Mexico is to be named soon.

These reports, which are brief, do not explain when Gen. Carranza is to resign, or how, but indicate that the conference finished its work successfully last night.

All the generals in attendance appeared to be well pleased with the results. The only authorized delegates reported absent were those from Generals Maytorena and Zapata.

The convention today is said to be awaiting the arrival of these delegates to sign the "peace pact." After this document is signed, it is said, a public session of the conference will be held to name a successor to Carranza.

CLUB SUES TO RECOVER.

Effort to Get Back Money on Alleged Fake Prize Fight.

St. Louis, Oct. 15.—Suit to recover the $750 given to the manager of Jack Dillon as the latter's share of the proceeds of the Dillon-Brown bout here last night was filed today by the club that promoted the fight.

The bout was called off by the referee, after the fourth round on the ground that it was a fake.

Dillon, who was arrested last night, was released on $1,000 bond.

The assistant prosecuting attorney this afternoon refused to issue warrants against Dillon, his manager. Samuel Murbarger, and his trainer Robert S. Tolkin, charging them with obtaining money under false pretenses by faking a fight, and the three were released.

AUTOMOBILE MYSTERY SOLVED.

Sheriff Gladieux Unravels Theft of W. K. Noble'c Car.

It was probably late Thursday afternoon that before night an arrest would be made for the stealing of William K. Noble's Marmon roadster from the garage at his home on West Wayne street, Tuesday night. The man who stole the car has confessed and it is certain that he had one confederate and perhaps more than one in the stealing of the car. The machine was taken fromthe garage, stripped of the body, the maker's name plate and the windshield and the number was erased from the engine. The lights and the carburetor were missing from the car when it was found hidden under stacks of corn fodder near "Devil's Hollow," ten miles west of Fort Wayne. A rough coat of yellow paint had been hastily applied to the car to further disguise it.

AGED MAN TERRIBLY BURNED.

Late Thursday afternoon Sheriff A. C. Gladieux sent an ambulance to a point west of the Lima road, four miles north of the city, to bring in an aged and unknown man who is reported to be terribly burned. The man has been living alone in a shack. He is subject to fits and while in a seizure fell into the fire in his rude dwelling and frightfully burned his legs, arms and face. He had lain three or four days in his suffering before his plight was discovered. He will be taken to a hospital.

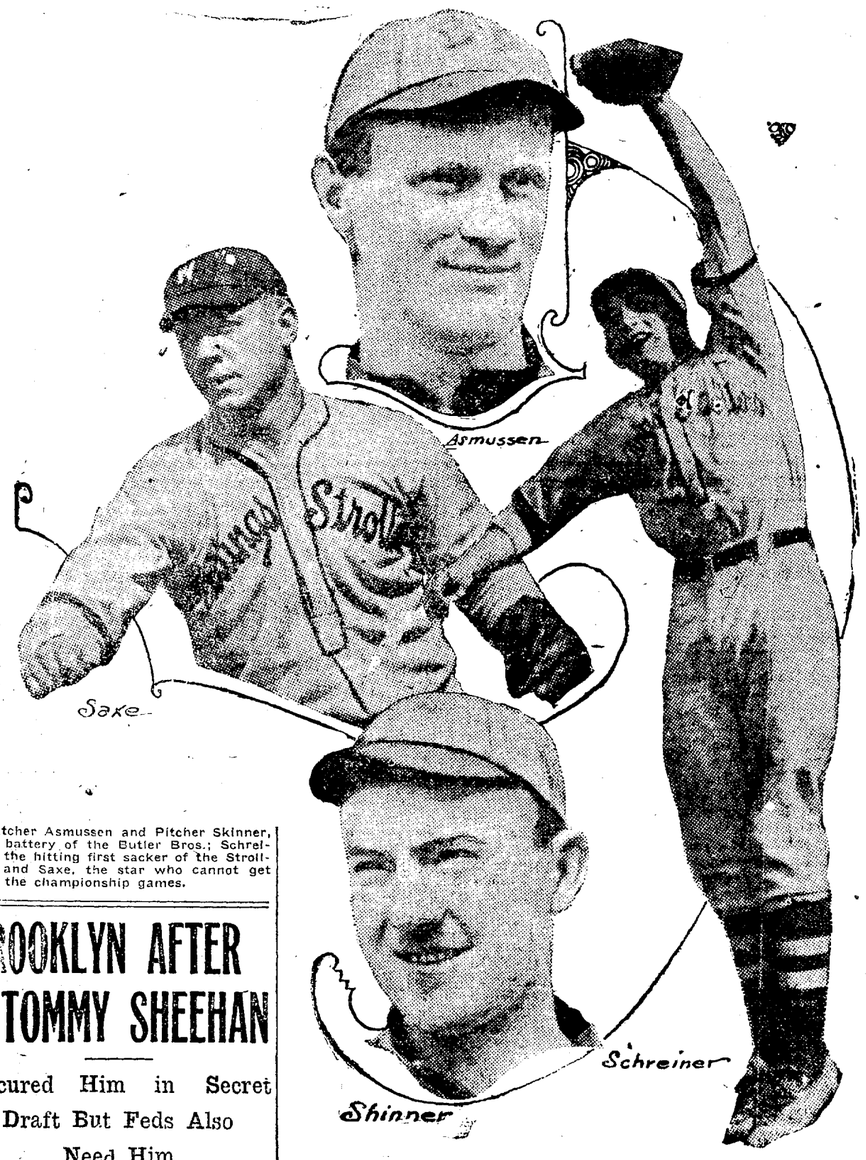
WILL CONTEND FOR THE AMATEUR BASE BALL TITLE OF THE WORLD AT CHICAGO.



Catcher Asmussen and Pitcher Skinner, star battery of the Butler Bros.; Schreiner, the hitting first sacker of the Strollers, and Saxe, the star who cannot get into the championship games.

The really big world's series is yet to come. No, not the Athletics and Braves. They couldn't play in this series. This is between Butler Bros. and the Telling Strollers. Never heard of 'em?

What?

Well, it's for the amateur baseball championship of the world and the winner will well have earned the right to the title.

It's even up—one and one—now between the two teams and with the final battle in Chicago Sunday, Oct. 18, goes the championship.

The Telling Strollers of Cleveland, the city in which the amateurs are perhaps better organized than any other place, lost only two games during the season's race and one in the elimination series. When this team defeated the Street Cleaners the 80,000 crowd turned out.

Cleveland then eliminated St. Louis and Toledo while Chicago put Louisville and Omaha out of the running.

Then the Butler Bros. nine of Chicago clashed with the Cleveland club in the latter city on Sunday, Oct. 11, winning the first game 11 to 1 and losing the second 4 to 1. More than 20,000 persons saw the battles.

The National Association of Amateur Baseball leagues questioned the eligibility of two of Cleveland's best players and they were dropped. One of them, Pitcher Saxe, was the star of the league, and practically won the pennant for the Strollers. But in his place the team was permitted to take its choice of the Cleveland amateurs and in Belohoubek, a former star of Case college, and twirler for the league runners-up, they obtained a slabman who is expected to accomplish something in the finals.

BROOKLYN AFTER TOMMY SHEEHAN

Secured Him in Secret Draft But Feds Also Need Him.

Tommy Sheehan, regarded by scouts and fans generally as the most valuable player in the Central league on the showing he made with the Terre Haute club last season, has been secured by Brooklyn in a secret draft but has not signed his contract on account of an offer from the Federal league.

Larry Sutton, who has spent a portion of his time for several seasons in Fort Wayne, is dickering with Sheehan and wants him for the Robbins, and probably has an understanding by which the Terre Haute management will pay the draft price for him in event he decides to join the Brooklyn club.

Sheehan led the Central league in batting, and while he is not a youngster in baseball, he is plenty young enough to have several years of good baseball left in him and ought to be a valuable man in fast company on account of his playing ability, knowledge of the game and that spirit of aggressiveness that makes ball players.

He has been visiting Billy Gray at Greenville, Pa., since the close of the season and has written from there to a friend in Terre Haute as follows:

"Scout Sutton, of Brooklyn, has been hot after me to sign a contract with the Brooklyn club, which has drafted me for next season, but I have not signed up as yet as I have a flattering offer from the Federal league, which I am considering. I will go to either club which makes me the best offer. I would be only too glad to give the Terre Haute club the benefit of the draft, but you know we are all out after the coin, and it's up to me to make hay while the sun shines.

"I'm to see the Brooklyn scout again in a few days and will make a final decision. Will let you know where I land.

"By the way, I'm here with 'Dolly' Gray, but will strike out for home in a few days. 'Dolly' sends his best to yourself and the fans."

Stop Those Early Bronchial Coughs.

They hang on all winter if not checked, and pave the way for serious throat and lung diseases. Get a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and take it freely. Stops coughs and colds, heals raw inflamed throat, loosens the phlegm and is mildly laxative. Chas. T. Miller, Ed. Enquirer, Cannelton, Ind., had bronchial trouble, got very hoarse, coughed constantly from a tickling throat. He used only Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. Was entirely relieved. NEW HAVEN WANTS MEETING.

Residents Want Good Roads Celebration Held in Their Town.

Residents of New Haven want the good roads celebration of Allen county to be held there when the new concrete road leading to Fort Wayne has been completed.

At a meeting of the committee in charge of the celebration J. Herman Bueter, who is the chairman, suggested this scheme and it probably will be carried out.

JOHN EVERS HAD PROFITABLE YEAR

Boston, Mass., Oct. 15.—When John J. Evers received a check for $2,800, his share of the winning end of the world's series receipts, Captain John wound up the most profitable year, from a strictly financial standpoint, in the history of baseball.

Evers' earnings for the season of 1914 will approximate $45,000, which figure exceeds by many thousand the individual earning capacity of any baseball player since the days when men played baseball for glory and glory alone.

When Johnny Evers was deposed from the managership of the Cubs by Charles W. Murphy the Federal league was at the zenith of its star hunting crusade and many fabulous offers were wired back and forth each offer outstripping its nearest competitor by amounts ranging from $100 to $10,000.

George Stallings, quick to see what the acquistion of Evers would mean to the Braves, and the national commission, also seeing what the loss of Evers would mean to the National league, joined hands and persuaded the little Trojan to affix his signature to a Boston contract, for which the astute Mr. Evers was handed a bonus of $25,000.

His salary is rate at $10,000 per annum and an additional bonus of $2,000 was guaranteed Evers if the Boston National league team should figure in the world's series of 1914. The latter guarantee, by the way, was never given serious consideration until along about Aug. 15.

Last Monday afternoon, preliminary to the start of the third game of the world's series, Evers was presented with a Chalmers automobile valued at $2,700 for being the most valuable man to his club in the National league.

While it is not strictly according to precedent to figure this automobile as a part of Evers' salary the fact remains that John possesses said car and also that he earned it during the wonderful Braves' season of 1914.

Incidentally it is figured that Evers received in the neighborhood of $2,000 for newspaper articles during the championship season and also during the world's series just closed.

ASSEMBLE FOR TOUR.

Ball Players to Start on Trip and to Play in Honolulu.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Players who are to make up the all-star clubs of the American and National leagues will assemble here Friday for their post-season tour which opens in Milwaukee on Saturday.

The American league club will be under the management of Connie Mack, leader of the Philadelphia Americans. Frank Bancroft, business manager of the Cincinnati Nationals, will have charge of the National league players.

After playing in principal cities of California, both clubs will sail for Honolulu on Nov. 24 and return shortly after the first of the year.

FIRST BASEMAN MARRIED.

Menominee, Mich., Oct. 15.—Fred Mollwitz, first baseman for the Cincinnati club of the National league, was married here yesterday to Miss Collette Gneisse, whom he met while playing an exhibition game with the Green Bay club of the Wisconsin State league. They will reside in Milwaukee, Mollwitz' home.

FAILS IN FIFTH ATTEMPT.

Georgia Supreme Court Denies New Trial to Leo Frank.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 15.—Leo M. Frank, under sentence of death for the murder here in April, 1913, of Mary Phagan, an employe of the pencil factory of which Frank was superintendent, was denied a new trial by the Georgia supreme court. The court held that Frank's showing of newly discovered evidence was insufficient. This was Frank's fifth attempt to obtain a retrial or annulment of the verdict which was returned August 25 last year. He still has pending before the state supreme court an appeal from the lower court's denial of a motion to set aside the verdict on the ground that he was not in the court room when it was returned. It is expected arguments on the appeal will be made in about two weeks.

But he has shown so much ability as a kicker that he will be relied upon to do most of the footwork for the blue this year.

MRS. BECK NEW STATE REGENT

"Let's first nominate Mrs. Beck."

It was Mrs. James B. Fowler, of Lafayette, who spoke and as there is no better posted Daughter than she in the state, quiet reigned as soon as the entire audience could stop laughing. Then a half a dozen women wanted to nominate Mrs. Beck and again another voice interposed. This time it was Mrs. S. E. Perkins, of Indianapolis, who laughingly remarked that she had tried to get a previous recognition for the purpose of naming Mrs. Beck, but that she also wanted to further call attention to the fact that the election of the two highest state officers could not be done at a state conference, but only the nomination and endorsement of a candidate could take place and then the name would be sent to Washington to be acted upon by the official board of the national society of D. A. R.

More laughter followed and more talking, but Mrs. Beck received the unanimous vote of the conference in the end.

The election of state officers was the principal business of the morning, though the reports of the work of the year was of much interest, as was some unfinished business and the reading of excellent papers on reports of the reciprocity bureau and conservation.

No Design for Flag Chosen.

Interest upon the choice of a design for a flag to be adopted by the conference with an idea of a further request of the state legislature to make this accepted design a state flag, had a setback unlooked for. It had been understood that Indiana had no flag, but one of the committee on investigation produced a copy of the Indiana banner or emblem, accepted by the legislature previous to Governor Mount's election, which she had recently received with a letter from the secretary of state, L. G. Ellingham. The letter stated that this banner of the state was not called a flag, but was the official emblem used in connection with the state seal.

The matter of whether the State Conference of Daughters should adopt a design for a flag as their own insignia or adornment was postponed in the future.

Mrs. James B. Fowler, chairman of the committee on resolutions, read resolutions extending thanks to the local chapter, to the press, to various chairmen of committees, to the presiding officer, Mrs. Frances H. Robertson, for numerous courtesies, to musicians and others who lent aid and the consideration for delegates extended by the Anthony hotel.

The conference was voted one of the most successful, as well as the largest in the history of the organization.

A Resume of Wednesday.

One of the most interesting features of the state conference of the D. A. R. was a talk by Mrs. W. B. Neff, of Cleveland, who is chairman for the National Girl Homemakers of America. Mrs. Neff spoke without notes and so brimful is she of her work that statistics, word pictures and description of plans rolled from her lips almost faster than she could speak them. Mrs. Neff's talk was of compelling interest and her audience gave her flattering attention. In commenting upon the work of the branch of educational work which she represents Mrs. Neff said that the divorce evil was in a measure the result of unprepared girls and young women to make the home what it should be. Nearly six per cent of the eighty-five are sought with the excuse of lack of financial support. On the other hand Mrs. Neff declared the cause of the greater part of marital trouble to be the ignorance of the wife for domestic affairs. The majority of girls marry with no knowledge of cooking, sewing, planning, keeping things clean, saving "the pennies," mending or the hundred and one things a competent housekeeper knows about. The strong old Anglo-Saxon word, "help" used in early days of this country in the sense of employed household service has been lost to use just because of the incompetency of the girls employed to be that very thing, a "help" in the household. But the incompetency is not confined to those who can be obtained through the medium of the employment bureaus. They are found in the homes of the laborer, the artisan, the manufacturer, the millionaire. Now with the loss of life and the awful destruction going on in the European war, the American woman will become—in the words of an eminent writer—the "torch bearer of the world." The American woman must establish the standard. And yet, according to more statistics from Mrs. Neff, in a long procession of employes of an industrial concern in Cleveland but one-tenth of them were Americans. That is but one example. The duty of America is to teach. So the work of the Girl Homemakers club is to educate the foreigners to be fitted to make the American home. In Cleveland the work has been taken up by the D. A. R. society and similar work is being done in other organizations of the Daughters.

Mrs. E. C. Atkins, of Indianapolis, who was on the program for an address on "The Times," said she had changed her mind about giving her prepared address as she had listened to Mrs. Neff and would talk only a few minutes, which she did in a most entertaining manner concerning the importance of the spiritual significance of the day and the need of a simple following of the teachings of the gospel.

Mrs. Charles Thompson sang with considerable dramatic style songs of the seventeenth century with words from Shakespeare, for which she was applauded. Mrs. James E. Elliott, of Fort Wayne, sang a group of modern songs very prettily and she too, was well received.

Reports on different phases of works of the society were given during the afternoon by Mrs. Newberry J. Howe on the reciprocity bureau, and Mrs. Harry V. Sheridan. The report on conservation by Mrs. M. C. Garber, another of welfare women and children by Mrs. Martha B. Hanna, who is state chairman and also a member of the national society's board of historians, and a talk on old trail roads by Mrs. W. W. Gaar, on the Daughters' magazine by Miss Mary Alice Warren and a report of the movement for Children of the American Revolution by Mrs. H. W. Moore were other important subjects taken up for the day. A dinner at the Anthony and a reception given by the local chapter at the home of Mrs. Robertson in the evening were the social events of the day.

Seventeen applications for membership in the Vorwaerts Turnverein were received at the regular meeting Wednesday night and two candidates were obligated. A report was submitted showing that the entertainment of last [illegible]

The annual session of the Wittenburg synod, covering territory in northwestern Ohio, convened here Tuesday. The sessions will continue until Friday. Prof. Victor Tressler, of Hanna Divinity school, Springfield, is president. Rev. Luther Spaid, of Carey, is secretary, and Rev. Alvin Bell, of Toledo, is statistical secretary. President Tressler will deliver the synodical sermon. Rev. C. S. Frontz, of Tiffin, will have the confessional sermon, and Rev. C. R. Sherck, of Leipsic, will preach the communion sermon.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.—Adv.

POINTS DOOM OF LIQUOR TRAFFIC

Rev. J. G. Wise Delivers a Strong Prohibition Address Here.

That the saloon traffic will eventually be abolished was the prediction in an address delivered Wednesday night in the assembly room of the Allen county court house by Rev. J. G. Wise, of Auburn, prohibition candidate for congress from the Twelfth district, but he contended that this will not be brought about until the people are made to see the real truth and to vote with those opposed to the manufacture and sale of intoxicants.

Sumner W. Hayes, candidate for the United States senate, spoke at Monroeville and although he was expected to deliver a talk here he did not appear on account of his engagement there.

In the course of a well-received talk in which he demonstrated the vast evil influences exercised by the saloon in politics and in the home, Mr. Wise said:

"The prohibition party is the greatest political party in the nation; not numerically, but in principle.

"When the people became tired of slavery in 1860 the immortal Lincoln told them to quit voting with the ones who believed it was right and to vote with the ones who believe it to be wrong. Slavery was abolished and, mark my prediction, the liquor traffic will be abolished when the people quit voting with the ones who believe it is right and vote with the ones who believe it is wrong.

"We must lead the people to see the truth. The old parties have not been of, for and by the people; they have been of, for and by the bosses and the liquor interests.

"The liquor traffic is the greatest organized political power in America. But I don't know but what the man who votes to license the liquor traffic is just as bad as the man who sells the damnable stuff."

VERY UNSIGHTLY PIMPLES ON FACE

Red and Festered. Also Had Dandruff. Could Be Seen Plainly. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Free from Pimples and Dandruff.

New Sharon, Iowa.—"Two or three years ago pimples began to come on my face and I had dandruff. The pimples made a very unsightly appearance. They were red and numerous, some came to a head and festered and the itching caused me to scratch them. The dandruff on my head could be plainly seen.

"I tried several remedies but they only temporarily relieved me. I had been bothered with the trouble two or three years when I decided to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. So I sent for a free sample and I noticed relief from them, and I bought more. I used two cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and am now free from pimples and dandruff." A generation of mothers has found no soap so well suited for cleansing and purifying the skin and hair of infants and children as Cuticura Soap. Its absolute purity and refreshing fragrance alone are enough to recommend it above ordinary skin soaps, but there are added to these qualities delicate yet effective emollient properties, derived from Cuticura Ointment, which render it most valuable in overcoming a tendency to distressing eruptions and promoting skin and hair health. Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

When Croup Comes Treat Externally

SHOP AND RAILROAD NEWS

WILL MEN SAY BUSINESS IS GOOD

Notwithstanding the dull times and the alleged shortage of cash everywhere, there is a great deal of building in progress throughout the city and the planing mills and lumber yards are doing some business. Some of the buildings will cost many thousands when completed. A number of good dwelling houses not yet started are to be erected this fall and among them are the following: A $25,000 house in Forest Park boulevard for J. B. Franke. Henry Hockemeyer, contractor; house and garage at Jefferson and Monroe streets for William H. Scheiman; a house on Hale avenue by Contractors Baysinger & Roth, and two houses by the City Suburban company. In all parts of the city are houses in various stages of erection, which will be completed and occupied before snow flies.

DUTIES OF A YARDMASTER.

He Should Be Relieved From Clerical Work.

(Railway Age-Gazette.)

One fact which deserves special emphasis, and which is brought out by several contributors to the discussion of the Operation of Terminal Yards, is that the general yardmaster in charge of an important terminal is an executive officer who should be free of petty details and clerical duties to a large extent, so that he will be able to spend a large portion of his time out in the yard, where the work is being done and the money spent.

It is only by being free to go from one point of local congestion or difficulty to another that he can direct operations most intelligently, and it is only in this way that he is able to secure a first-hand knowledge of the exact conditions in the yard and is able to improve practices to the end that a high standard of efficiency may be maintained. The yardmaster who permits himself to be tied to his desk continuously by clerical duties reduces himself very largely to the rank of a clerk, while the railroad company which requires him to devote a large portion of his time to such work is paying a yardmaster's salary for no more than a clerk's work.

It is generally observed that the yard is best operated in which the yardmaster appears to have the least to do with the handling of routine business. By this it is not meant to imply that he should have no actual duties, but it is distinctly to his credit if he so organizes his forces that routine work requires only his casual attention. It has been said of the late E. H. Harriman that he considered that a man who would allow his desk to become stacked up with papers was not fit for an important executive position since, in allowing himself to be buried in a mass of details, he overlooked the larger opportunities. The same criterion can be applied to the work of a yardmaster. If he is engrossed in a multitude of routine details, he will not observe a congestion arising in some portion of his yard until it has become so serious as to affect the operation of the entire yard.

The analogy drawn by one contributor between a yard and a stream of water is pertinent. Let any facility of a yard, even one classification track, become congested and the effect is soon felt in all other parts of the yard. The serious blockade of 1907 in the terminal district of Chicago was caused by the inability of two or three roads to accept interchange traffic from connecting lines because of lack of facilities, and the ultimate result was that practically every road in that district was blocked with traffic which it was unable to deliver to other lines.

The larger the yard the greater is the necessity for the general yardmaster to be free to observe conditions. Entirely aside from the advantage discussed above, close supervision is a most potent factor in the elimination of expensive switching practices and the introduction of economical methods.

CHANGING YARD TRACKS.

The Pennsylvania has a big gang of men at work at present changing the location of tracks in the yards between Lafayette and Hanna streets and making other improvements, included being the renewal of some of the ties. The stairway enclosures at the new passenger depot, mentioned a few days ago, is practically completed and is an improvement the patrons of the company will appreciate, especially in bad weather.

MAKING TRIP OVER DIVISION.

Supt. W. M. Wardrop and some of the members of his staff are making a trip over a part of the Western division today. "Isabell," the division special engine, and the division special car went to Warsaw early this morning and the inspection trip commenced there and will continue to Crestline. Among those with Superintendent Wardrop are Trainmaster C. L. Hamilton, Division Engineer Guy Scott and Star Union Agent H. M. Quicksell.

WABASH TO HAVE NEW TIME CARD

The Wabash expects to put its winter time table into effect November 1. The new card, it is said, will involve the discontinuance of accomodation trains 50, 53, 54 and 55 between Fort Wayne and Montpelier and some changes in the time of trains No. 1, which will be about thirty minutes later than at present, and No. 28, which will be thirty-five minutes later than the present schedule.

SHOPMEN ATTEND FUNERAL.

Nearly every employe in the air brake department of the Pennsylvania shop, including Foreman J. A. Foster, attended the funeral of the late John L. Barry this morning. Mr. Barry worked in that shop several years.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

W. Darwacur, a blacksmith's helper, took employment at the Pennsylvania shops this morning.

W. O. Houser, foreman of the Pennsylvania coal dock at Dela, O., was here yesterday on company business.

W. H. Hanker, machinist in Foreman A. Contant's department at the Pennsylvania shops, is sick and off duty.

Machinist Samuel Minnick, who was hurt last week, reported for duty in the Pennsylvania shops this morning.

John Reher, who was sick a month, resumed work at Rhinesmith & Simonson's factory this morning. He is a carpenter.

An extra tourist car on westbound Nickel Plate train No. 1 today carried the New York state hospital party to Chicago.

J. E. Motherwell, tinner, resumed work at the Pennsylvania shops this morning after an illness of two or three days.

Assistant Ticket Agent Vin A. Grams greets patrons at the Wabash ticket window again, after an absence of four or five days. He was visiting relatives in Avilla.

W. L. Scott, passenger engineer on the Pennsylvania road, who had been on the sick list for about two weeks, has recovered and reported for duty.

E. W. Sigl, draftsman at the Pennsylvania shops, accompanied by Mrs. Sigl and children, went to Chicago this morning to attend the motorcycle show.

Division Engineer W. S. Danes and Assistant Division Engineer E. P. Danes, of the Wabash, were in the city this morning on business for the company.

Miss Collette Burns, whose father is employed in the Wabash shops, has arranged for a visit with relatives in Kansas City and will leave in a few days.

E. R. Mitchell, claim agent of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railway, with headquarters in Jackson, Mich., was a Fort Wayne visitor yesterday.

John Christen, apprentice at the Pennsylvania shops, who had planned a visit to Chicago the latter part of the week, was taken sick last night and may not be able to make the trip.

Frank Moore and Joseph Colone have returned to their respective places in the Wabash shops, after a few days' absence. Mr. Moore had been sick and Mr. Colone and his wife had been east on a pleasure trip.

The safe in the Nevada, Ohio, postoffice was cracked and robbed of $250 according to information received yesterday by Captain H. C. Stoll, of the Pennsylvania police department.

John Setil, who put up a stiff fight when Patrolmen U. M. Strasser and W. A. Jones arrested him for loitering in the Gary depot of the Pennsylvania last Tuesday night, received a sentence of $1 and cost. He is a foreign laborer.

William Eser resumed his duties in the Wabash boiler shop yesterday. The reader will remember that he was married to Miss Helen Barto, of 906 Hugo street, at Detroit, a few days ago. They will reside for awhile with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Barto, at the number mentioned.

E. Barber, a brakeman on the Plymouth local freight train on the Pennsylvania, had a finger crushed yesterday afternoon while operating the coupling apparatus of a car at Warsaw. He was attended by the company's surgeon at Warsaw and then went to his home in Plymouth. The digit will be saved.

Mike Leo, an Italian naval reservist, resigned his position at the Pennsylvania coal docks yesterday and left for New York, where he will sail for Italy to resume his place in the navy. He had served two years before coming to America. The Italian sailors receive two cents per day, board and lodging while in the service. Leo received $2 per day at the coal docks.

Mrs. B. A. Strawn will take her son, Scott, to St. Louis in a few days to receive medical treatment. Mr. Strawn, who is a machinist in the Wabash shops, may join his wife and son at St. Louis the latter part of next week and accompany them home. While in St. Louis Mrs. Strawn and son will be the guests of her brother, Scott Cooper, a foreman in the Wabash shops.

The Peru Journal Wednesday published the following interesting item:—"It is understood that Superintendent J. C. Sullivan, of the Wabash railroad, who has been off duty for a few months on account of bad health, is improving nicely and it is not improbable that a few weeks will see him at his desk again. As soon as Mr. Sullivan resumes his duties as superintendent Acting Superintendent Elmer Sollitt will return to Detroit."

J. O. M. Baker, Pennsylvania ticket receiver, is meeting with success in conducting a night school for foreigners at the Railroad Y. M. C. A. The school started Tuesday with eight scholars and it will be in session on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday nights of each week. The pupils are taught to speak and read English, with a view of making them better laborers and helpers in the shop, on the road and elsewhere in the employ of the railway and manufacturing establishments.

An Old, Family Cough Remedy, Home-Made

Easily Prepared—Costs Very Little, but is Prompt, Sure and Effective

By making this pint of old-time cough syrup at home you not only save about $2, as compared with the ready-made kind, but you will also have a much more prompt and positive remedy in every way. It overcomes the usual coughs, throat and chest colds in 24 hours—relieves even whooping cough quickly—and is excellent, too, for bronchitis, bronchial asthma, hoarseness and spasmodic croup.

Get from any drug store 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth), pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Full directions with Pinex. Keeps perfectly and tastes good.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. It quickly loosens the dry, hoarse or painful cough and heals the inflamed membranes. It also has a remarkable effect in overcoming the persistent loose cough by stopping the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes.

The effect of Pine on the membranes is known by almost every one. Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract combined with guaiacol and other natural healing pine elements.

There are many worthless imitations of this famous mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," and do not accept anything else.

Cured His RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 92 A Marcellus avenue, Manasquan, N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Although wheat today showed a little firmness at the start, prices later underwent a material setback. The opening, which ranged from ⅛c off to ⅛c upturn, was followed by a reaction of ½c to ¾c under last night's level.
The close was unsettled to ¾c lower.
Corn had only poor support and eased off with wheat. After opening a shade to ⅛c down, the market continued to sag.
The close was steady at ⅝@⅞c to ¾c net.
Lower prices for hogs made provisions weak.

GARRETT NEWS.

Garrett, Ind., Oct. 15.—C. D. Smith, of Syracuse, spent Wednesday in this city.

The Misses Mary Doughten, William and Margaret Galloway, Lura Marvin, Florence Hill and Vesta Marvin motored to Edon, O., Tuesday to attend a party given by a relative of Miss Doughten.

H. Hinkley, of Kendallville, was here on business Wednesday.

J. N. Ritter, of Toledo, came Tuesday to attend the semi-annual meeting of the Garrett Savings, Loan and Trust company.

Mr. and Mrs. John Trapp went to Cleveland for a ten days' visit with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. John Klimer and Miss Crissie Thomson, of Cleveland, stopped here Wednesday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holsinger while on their way home from an auto trip to Plymouth, Ind.

L. R. Kinney, of Adrian, Mich., spent Wednesday in this city.

The fine new school building being erected in East Garrett is nearing completion and Contractor Allman states that it will be ready for school in another week or ten days. This is one of the finest buildings of its size in this part of the county.

The first number of the lecture course will be given tonight in the Methodist church. All former numbers have been given in the Baptist church and it was the intention of the committee to have this course given in the same place but owing to the revival meetings in progress there it was necessary to change the place of the one number on the course.

Representative Edward M. McKennone has been called to Indianapolis as a witness before the grand jury in the investigation of alleged "juggling" of bills in the last legislature.

BRICK THROWER HEAVILY FINED

After having the case under advisement for a day, Judge Kerr in the city court on Thursday morning assessed a fine of $105 and costs against Carl Hugo Whitehouse for malicious trespass. Whitehouse is the man who tossed bricks through two large plate glass windows at the saloon of Frank Belchin, corner of Washington street and Glasgow avenue, after Belchin had aroused his ire by dunning him for a bar bill that Whitehouse says he does not owe. There was no denial that Whitehouse broke the windows, provocation being the defense. Whitehouse insists that he never owed Belchin, but was mistaken by Belchin for a man named Miller. Of this there is not much doubt.

Whitehouse took an appeal and his bond was fixed at $300.

Other City Court Cases.

Theodore Sayler, a drunk, promised to be careful and was allowed to go.

Leonard DeKamp, a drunken floater, invaded a house at 105 West Superior street with his souse, Wednesday, and was about to make off with a pair of shoes. The woman of the house called the police and DeKamp was locked up. Judge Kerr fined him $5 and costs.

TO GUARD CITY'S CENTER.

That the business district of the city may be given better police protection Chief Lentz has readjusted the force and prepared a new duty schedule for twelve uniformed officers. The regular day patrolmen will work from 8 o'clock in the morning until 7 o'clock at night. At the latter hour they will be relieved by six regular night patrolmen. At 11 o'clock at night a special detail squad made up of Patrolmen Beyrle, Kintz, Harris, Kintz, Harris, Brown, Barr and Godfrey will go on duty and remain until 8 o'clock in the morning. This will keep twelve men in the business center from 11 o'clock at night until after daylight. Officers Kintz and Brown, who have been on the motorcycle squad, will retire their machines during the winter months.

THE REYNOLDS BURGLARY.

The return of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reynolds, 110 West Wildwood avenue, disclosed that three valuable rings and a gold watch belonging to Mrs. Reynolds had been taken by thieves who burglarized the residence during the absence of the family. The burglary was discovered Monday morning. Entrance was effected by boring out a small section of the door and making a hole through which the lock could be reached.

LOCKJAW KILLS YOUNG BOY.

Lafayett, Ind., Oct. 15.—Byron W. Reddish, five-year-old son of Charles B. Reddish, of West Lafayette, died of tetanus in a local hospital. Ten days ago while playing with other small boys, Bryon was hit on the top of the head with a small piece of wood, only a small scalp wound being inflicted. Yesterday lockjaw developed and he died shortly after the antioxin was administered. Physicians say that the slight wound on the head became infected from the piece of wood.

AN INQUISITIVE MOUSE TO BLAME

If a mouse that got into a waste paper basket at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Blake, 1924 Weisser Park avenue, had been less inquisitive about matches and satisfied with bacon as a diet a fire that drove the couple from their home at 1:15 o'clock Thursday morning, destroyed most of their clothing and damaged their furniture might have been averted.

The fire was burning fiercely when it was discovered and Mr. and Mrs. Blake had barely time to throw on their clothes, take their five-months-old baby and run for their lives.

Mrs. Blake had just finished her housecleaning and she says that she probably swept up a match from the floor and threw it in a waste paper basket that sat in a summer kitchen in which the fire started. Her husband had, before he retired, baited a trap with bacon to get a mouse that had been annoying them and put it near the basket, but Mr. Mouse evidently passed up the bacon for the match.

This is the only way either of them can account for the blaze as there had been no fire in the summer kitchen since they moved into the house and it is evident that the flames started at the point where the basket sat.

The summer kitchen was burned and the rear of the house, a one-story frame, was badly damaged at a loss that probably will run from $300 to $500. Mr. Blake is employed at the Fort Wayne Electric works and carried no insurance. The heat awakened his wife and when they got out of bed the whole rear of the house was in flames. They had no time to save anything more than the clothing in their bedroom. The house is the property of Charles Meyers.

FIRST SOCIAL AFFAIR SUCCESS.

Cadessia grotto, Mystic Order of Veiled Prophets, gave its first social affair Wednesday evening with an informal dance on the third floor of the Odd Fellows' block. Calhoun and Wayne streets, when about forty couples enjoyed the evening. Many master masons who had not attended any of the meetings for the organization of Cadessia grotto were present with their ladies. The program lasted until 11:30. Clusters of American Beauty roses were given as favors to the ladies and light refreshments were served. During a lull in the dancing Robert J. Gaskill made a short address in which he explained the nature of the grotto as a fraternal social organization to which all master Masons in good standing are eligible, and indicated that a series of affairs were in preparation for the coming winter that would afford Masons and their families broad opportunity for enjoyment. Many new applications for membership in Cadessia grotto were received. The dispensation will be received in a few days and Grand Venerable Prophet Herold M. Harter, of Toledo, will then come to Fort Wayne and institute

MASSING FOR A NEW COMBAT IN BELGIUM

London, Oct. 15.—"The battle of the rivers," the long line of which still stretches across France, stood in the background today in contrast with the comparatively small field operations in the department of Nord and in West Flanders where the contending allied and German armies may decide during the next week, or perhaps sooner, a phase of the struggle which became acute when the Germans occupied Antwerp and Ghent—a German attempt to seize and hold the seaports of Belgium and France.

It seems plain now that the German plan was to sweep on to Ostend and thence to the French ports in the same impetuous way that characterized the rush towards Paris, but in this, British military experts say, the invaders have been meeting with the most stubborn kind of resistance.

The rigidness of the censorship, however, precludes more than guesses as to which side scored in the fighting which followed the retirement of the Belgians and the advance of the Germans in the vicinity of Ghent. In the rear of that city, it is said, the Germans have 100,000 men and all signs indicate that a violent battle for possession of Ostend and other channel ports is imminent or in actual progress.

Public Kept in Dark.

What became of the Belgian army which retreated from Antwerp is not known to the public; nor is the composition of the allied forces seeking to check the German seaward advance clear.

As was the case before the fall of Antwerp the British press in a measure discounts the German occupation of Ostend, though it was pointed out today that if the allies continue to hold the town of Ypres, which cuts the German line, the continued occupation of Ostend would be difficult.

Germans are reported in Belgium as far northwest as Bruges, which place their cyclists and patrols are said to have entered.

More German Troops for France.

"Germans arriving here," says the Copenhagen correspondent of the Times, "state that owing to the failure of the Russians to make progress against the Germans the Germans have decided to transfer immediately considerable masses of troops from the eastern to the western fronts for an advance on Paris.

"This transfer probably already has begun as ordinary train traffic is delayed forty-eight hours."

From the same source the correspondent says he learns that there is a large amount of sickness among the German troops.

"The plans for the occupation of Paris drawn up by the Germans before the battle of the Marne," continues the correspondent, "contemplated a demand for an indemnity of a billion dollars and unless the entire sum was paid within a fortnight property of equal value was to have been taken to Berlin, including art works and libraries, and retained there until full satisfaction of the indemnity was made.

CHOLERA MAKING RAPID PROGRESS

Venice, Italy, Oct. 15.—(Via Paris, 12:05 p. m.—According to reports reaching Venice, cholera is making rapid strides through Hungary and the progress of the disease is causing alarm among the people.

The Hungarian authorities, it now appears, were too lax in the beginning in the matter of the sanitary supervision of prisoners' camps, which since have been placed under special control. Prisoners no longer are permitted to camp in the open air, and now all suspect cases are being isolated in hospitals.

Other dispatches reaching Venice relate that the Austrian commissary department is breaking down, so far as the equipment of new recruits is concerned. These men are suffering from a scarcity of clothing and boots, especially heavy winter garments.

BULLETIN.

London, Oct. 15.—(3:44 p. m.)—A dispatch from Petrograd to the Messagero of Rome, says that the Austro-German army yesterday was completely defeated in the neighborhood of Warsaw, Russian Poland. The Austrians and Germans suffered enormous losses. The Russians are stated to have taken thousands of prisoners.

MRS. BECK NEW STATE REGENT

Fort Wayne Meeting, Best Yet Held, Completes Its Work.

Mrs. Henry A. Beck, of Indianapolis, was the choice of the Indiana state conference of D. A. R. in the closing session Thursday for the office of state regent and Mrs. John Lee Dinwiddie, of Fowler, was again chosen to represent Indiana as vice president general.

The two ladies received the heartiest endorsement for office and their nominations will no doubt be confirmed by the board of directors of the national society.

Other state officers were elected without opposition to any candidate.—Vice regent, Miss Edna Donnell, of Greensburg; secretary, Miss Anna B. Sankey, Terre Haute; treasurer, Mrs. Otto Rott, Bloomington; historian, Miss Katherine Melivain, Vincennes; auditor, Mrs. Edna Felter, Huntington; chaplain, Mrs. E. C. Atkins, Indianapolis.

An invitation to hold the next conference in Terre Haute was read and accepted and the fifteenth annual meeting of the Daughters will be held in that city, October 10, 1915.

Honor for Mrs. Cullop.

The selection of Mrs. Beck for the highest office of the state organization followed the nomination of Mrs. W. A. Cullop, of Vincennes, for the same honor and the immediate withdrawal of Mrs. Cullop as a candidate, owing to her receiving Thursday morning from Mrs. W. C. Story, president-general of the national society, a request to serve as corresponding secretary-general on the national board.

Mrs. Cullop thanked her friends for their support in a neat speech in which she recommended in high terms her opponent, Mrs. Beck. Surprise and pleasure mingled with the disappointment of Mrs. Cullop's personal friends started a buzz of conversation and in the confusion the presiding officer called for a rising vote to elect Mrs. Beck. The delegates fairly jumped to their feet when a voice of authority sounded from one corner.

BATTLING IN FRANCE WITH RENEWED FURY

Paris, Oct. 15.—(2:45 p. m.)—A high official of the French government declared today that the latest dispatches from the front showed that the military situation was about to develop more rapidly on the center, in the region of Berry-au-Bac and on the left in the La Bassee Estaires and Bailleul district.

The allies continue to make progress, this official continued. Several hotly contested positions which had changed hands repeatedly during the past few weeks, were now held strongly by the French, and the Anglo-French situation was most encouraging.

The right wing of the allies is now beginning to show signs of activity. According to reports reaching Paris this morning there was an almost continuous firing of heavy artillery along the frontier. A force of Germans delivered a spirited attack on French troops in which numbers were wounded. As night closed this force of the enemy was driven back in the direction of Muelhausen.

The Hotel de Ville (town hall) of Arras, which was burned after the bombardment of that place, was a building of Gothic style. It was erected in the beginning of the sixteenth century and was one of the finest types of this style of architecture in northern France.

The Official Communication.

"In Belgium German troops coming from Antwerp are marching toward the west, and the evening of Oct. 14 they reached the region of Bruges and Thielt (fifteen miles southeast of Bruges).

"First: On our left wing, the enemy has evacuated the left bank of the Lys. Between the Lys and the canal of La Bassee the situation shows no change.

"In the region of Lens and between Arras and Albert our progress has been marked.

"Between the Somme and the Oise there has been no change. The Germans have cannonaded our line without, however, making any infantry attacks.

"Second: On the center between the Oise and the Meuse, we have advanced in the direction of Craonne.

"In the northeast the highway from Berry-au-Bac to Rheims and to the northeast of Prunay, in the direction of Beine, several German trenches have been taken.

"Between the Meuse and the Moselle, after having repulsed during the night of October 13-14 certain attacks to the southeast of Verdun, our troops advanced on the 14th to the south of the highway from Verdun to Metz.

"Third: On our right wing the partial offensive movement undertaken by the Germans in the Ban de Sapt to the north of Saint Die has been definitely checked.

"In Russia the fighting continues along the front, beginning in the vicinity of Warsaw, stretching along the Vistula and the San as far as Przemysl and further in a southerly direction as far as the Dniester.

"There has been no change in East Prussia."

STEAMER SINKING

New York, Oct. 15.—The steamer Metapan entering Ambrose channel, collided this afternoon with the steamer Iowan. The Metapan began to send out "S. O. S." signals at once. Within a few minutes she reported that she was sinking.

Her boats were hastily lowered. Several steamers, among them the Monterey and the Camino, hurried toward the stricken vessel.

The Metapan is a United Fruit company steamer and sailed from Colon October 8 for this port. She usually carries from 75 to 100 passengers.

Meanwhile First Chief is Still in Control of the Situation.

Washington, Oct. 15.—Adjournment of the Mexican convention at Aguas Calientes last night without acting upon the proposed resignation of Gen. Carranza as first chief, pending the arrival of additional delegates representing Zapata, was announced today in official dispatches to the state department from Consular Agents Carothers and Kanova. October 20 was tentatively agreed upon as the date for reconvening the convention.

In secret session yesterday the convention agreed that its authority in Mexico should be declared supreme upon the arrival of the Zapatistas. The reports indicated that Carranza's resignation was not actually presented and

Washington, Oct. 15.—Inquiry into the preparedness of the United States for war, "offensive or defensive," by a national security commission was proposed in a joint resolution introduced in the house today by Representative Gardner of Massachusetts, who recently returned from the war zone in Europe.

"I have introduced this resolution to investigate the military status of the United States," said Mr. Gardner in a statement accompanying the resolution, "because I know that a public search will open the eyes of Americans to a situation which is being concealed from them. The United States is totally unprepared for war, defensive or offensive, against a real power. In my opinion the effect of vast sums of money spent by Carnegie in his peace propaganda has been to blind Americans to the fact that our national security from a military point of view is undermined.

JAPAN SEEKING FIRM ALLIANCE

London, Oct. 15.—"General Oba, the Japanese military attache with the commander in chief," says the Times Petrograd correspondent, "after an imperial audience at Tsarkoe-Selo, gave a statement to the Bourse Gazette frankly expressing his earnest wish to convert the Russo-Japanese entente into a formal alliance. Such an alliance Gen. Oba said, would be warmly welcomed by the Japanese government and people.

"General Oba said he believed the moment had arrived to conclude such an alliance and that M. Sazonoff, the Russian foreign minister; M. Iswolsky, Russian ambassador to France, and Baron Motono, Japanese ambassador to Russia were doing their utmost to strengthen the bonds of friendship between Japan and Russia."

BIG ARSENAL AT TRIESTE BURNS

London, Oct. 15.—(3:30 p. m.)—Fire in the government arsenal at Trieste, the principal seaport of Austria-Hungary, on the Adriatic sea, has virtually destroyed an Austrian dreadnaught under construction, according to a Central News dispatch from Rome.

Six torpedo boat destroyers also were damaged by the fire which quickly enveloped the work shop. It is alleged that a quantity of woodwork in the arsenal was soaked with petroleum. A number of workmen have been arrested.

The arsenal is said to have been greatly damaged.

LAST-MINUTE NEWS

BRITISH CRUISER SINKS STEAMER.

London, Oct. 15.—(6:53 p. m.)—The admiralty announces that the British cruiser Yarmouth has sunk the German Hamburg-American line steamer Markomannia in the vicinity of Sumatra and has captured and is taking into a harbor the Greek steamer Pontports. The Yarmouth has sixty German prisoners of war on board.

PORTUGAL MAKES FIRST WAR MOVE.

New York, Oct. 15.—Two expeditionary forces of Portuguese troops, for one of which English transports were used, sailed from Lisbon on September 16 to reinforce garrisons in Portuguese possessions in Africa which adjoin those of German. This was made known today by C. Rangel De Hampaio, Portuguese consul general at New York, and is the first news to reach this country of any actual military preparations by Portugal for the eventuality of that country's participation in the war.

CONTINUES FAVORABLE TO GERMANS.

Berlin, Oct. 15.—(By wireless to Sayville, L. I.)—It was officially announced today that the battle to the east of Wirballen, in Russian Poland, which has been raging since October 4, continues favorable to the Germans. Repeated attempts of the Russians to storm to the trenches have resulted in heavy losses.

ROYAL FAMILY QUITS LONDON

London, Oct. 15.—(2:50 p. m.)—Virtually all the members of the British royal family departed from London today for Sandringham for a stay, the duration of which is not announced. Queen Mother Alexandra and Princess Victoria left the capital during the forenoon on a special train, shortly to be followed by another special train bearing King George and Queen Mary and Princess Mary and the Princes Albert and John.

A great crowd assembled at the station to give their majesties an enthusiastic reception while the soldiers guarding the depot gave the royal salute.

Henry W. Thornton, the American general manager of the Great Eastern railway, personally saw to the departure of the royal family and was presented to the king and queen on the platform.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 15.—Three hundred Free Masons, representing twenty-two lodges in Ontario, at the provincial lodge of instruction in Toronto yesterday, passed a resolution that a fund should be started for the benefit of the distressed Belgians. Each member of the organization throughout the province will be asked to subscribe one dollar and it is said this will bring in between $30,000 and $40,000.

MRS. HENRY BECK,

Today's War News Given in Summary.

The Germans who are moving on Ostend are reported to have occupied Bruges, 15 miles east of the former city. This report is confirmed from neutral sources.

A German official statement coming direct from Berlin by wireless says that their troops in Belgium are now marching in part toward Ostend and part in a southwesterly direction toward the French frontier.

There has been heavy fighting east of Soissons and the Argonne and the Germans have at no point lost ground it is declared. French claims of successes in the Woevre district are denied.

This afternoon's French official statement announced that the allies have made marked progress in the region of Lens and between Arras and Albert. On the center the allies, it is said, have advanced in the direction of Craonne while a German offensive movement to the north of Saint Die has been definitely checked.

The reports and claims regarding the situation in the eastern theater are as conflicting as before.

A dispatch from Petrograd says the Austro-German army was completely defeated Wednesday in the neighborhood of Warsaw, Russian Poland, suffering enormous losses in casualties and prisoners. A wireless message from Berlin says that it was officially announced there today that the battle to the east of Wirballen in Russia Poland, continues after eleven days of fighting, favorable to the Germans, repeated advances of the Russians having been repulsed with heavy losses.

Paris says that the fighting continues along the front from Warsaw to Przemysl, but gives no details. A Russian advance in East Prussia is suggested in a dispatch from Amsterdam which quotes a German correspondent at Rastenburg as reporting that the civilian population of Goldap has evacuated the town for "military reasons and precautions."

MUNSTERBERG IS WILLING TO QUIT

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 15.—Hugo Munsterberg, professor of psychology at Harvard university, last night said that he had offered his resignation to President Lowell. The action is the result of a letter sent by Majoh Clarence Wiener, of London, to the overseers of the college to the effect that he would change a will by which Harvard would receive $10,000,000 unless Prof. Munsterberg were dismissed from the faculty.

"Unwarranted pro-German utterances" by the famous psychologist, in connection with the war, were given by Major Wiener as the reason for his attitude.

"I sent my resignation to President Lowell so that there might be no embarrassment in the matter and that the faculty might be left free to act without having to consider my feelings," said Prof. Munsterberg.

President Lowell refused to discuss the resignation.

The Harvard corporation is expected to take up Major Wiener's letter and Prof. Munsterberg's resignation next week.

Major Wiener, a member of the class of 1900 at Harvard, is the proprietor of the Wiener News agency, Strand, London, England. He was born in Philadelphia in 1878. He attended Harvard one year, going to Cuba in 1897. During the next year he was on the staff of General Frederick Grant, in Porto Rico. In 1899 he went to South Africa as a war correspondent. Subsequently he saw stirring service there and organized a band of scouts. He was eight times wounded in South Africa. Major Wiener has been reputed to be immensely wealthy.

WOMEN WATCHERS FOR THE POLLS

Equal Suffragists Urging Votes for Constitutional Convention.

Logansport, Ind., Oct. 15.—Pledging themselves to wear cotton gloves and hose during the European war and to promote the sale of American-made products whenever possible, members of the Indiana Equal Suffrage association, in convention here, outlined the policy which the suffragists will assume on questions of the day. The convention also adopted resolutions fixing October 25 as the day for all Indiana suffragists suit of a letter sent by Major Clarence to pray for the restoration of peace in

A resolution proposing that two women watchers stand at every voting place in Indiana next election day and personally solicit every voter to vote for the constitutional convention was passed and arrangements were made to send women into parts of the state where the suffragists have not yet effected a working organization.

Arrangements were made for the establishment of headquarters in Indianapolis during the next legislative session, from which to direct the work of keeping accurate account of the record of each legislator.

Mrs. Anna D. Noland, of this city, was re-elected president of the association without opposition. Other officers elected are: Mrs. Dora Smith, Logansport, first vice president; Mrs. Margaret Cassinga, Indianapolis, second vice president; Mrs. Martha Lamb, Amboy, third vice president; Dr. Emma Holloway, North Manchester, fourth vice president; Mrs. Mary Flanegan, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Antoinette Leach, Sullivan, chairman executive committee; Mrs. Kate Wood Ray, Gary, delegate to the national convention, and Mrs. Alexander Renie, Mrs. Harriet Houser and Mrs. Eloise McConnell, of this city, alternates.

PLIGHT OF BELGIAN REFUGEES ALARMING

London, Oct. 15.—(10:00 a. m.)—The gloom which has enveloped England since the fall of Antwerp has been somewhat lightened by the news contained in official communications that the allies are more than holding their own in the furious fighting along the Franco-Belgian border, but this feeling of elation has been tempered by the growing realization that the Russian invasion of Silesia, which was believed to be imminent, must be postponed indefinitely pending the outcome of the battle in Russian Poland.

Ostend is now virtually a deserted city with its docks still crowded with terror-stricken refugees intent only on getting as far as possible from the scenes of suffering.

The repatriation of Belgian refugees promises to become a serious problem both in England and Holland, and these countries may call upon the United States to assist in this work.

Further detachments of Canadian troops are landing today.

Forced to Sacrifice.

Russia in the east seems to have been compelled to follow the steps of her enemy in the west and sacrifice the fruits of her victories by sending reinforcements to another part of the long battle front. The resumption of the Austro-German offensive in Galicia was an outcome of the Russians sending heavy reinforcements to the river Niemen recently under the impression that the German invasion of the Suwalki district was a real menace and not merely a diverting movement. The withdrawal of Russian forces from western Galicia, however, is regarded here to be not as complete as first reported, for Vienna admits that Przemysl is still invested on one side, while Petrograd reports that the garrison of this fortress has been invaded by disease and is on the point of capitulation. Other dispatches from the Russian capital refer to activity along the Vistula river where several attacks are said to have been repulsed and declare that the great battle probably is now under way unless the Austro-German advance has been hampered by bad weather.

Often Taken and Retaken.

Some idea of the fierceness of the fighting in western France can be gained from the fact that the town of Roye, now in possession of the allies, has been taken and retaken no less than twelve times.

There is no question in the minds of British observers but that the German army is making desperate efforts to reach the channel coast, and that the allies are no less determined to prevent such an extension of the battle line.

England already is speculating on the possibility of a German raid, which could only become possible if the Germans are successful in securing a base on the coast opposite the narrow part of the English channel. The Germans are reported as having been turned out of that corner of French territory which juts into Belgium, and having retired, but they are said to be strongly entrenched. This report declares that the Germans intended to dash on Calais coincidentally with the attack on Antwerp, but their efforts in that direction appear to have been checked.

Berlin reports the occupation of Lille, but declares that other than this there is nothing new to report on the western front.

Disease Breaking Out.

According to dispatches reaching London, typhus has shown itself among the German troops along the western front, and rumors of the outbreak of various other diseases are increasing. England is taking note of these reports by sending to the front three of her most important medical men as an advisory body to co-operate with the regular medical staff in the prevention of epidemics.

A correspondent in Italy reports that the war fever in that country is abating, even the most determined anti-Austrians now agreeing that no belligerent move should be made before next spring.

Turkey continues in a truculent mood and trouble already may have begun in the Black sea where heavy firing has been heard, and where it is believed the famous German cruisers Goeben and Breslau, which have been sold to Turkey, may have been engaging the Russian fleet.

WILL CARRY THEM BACK.

Berlin Arranges for Trains, Says Dispatch from Rome.

Rome, Via Paris, Oct. 15.—Arrangements have been made to run special trains from the Dutch frontier to Antwerp to carry back Belgian refugees, the majority of whom are expected to return within a fortnight. This information is contained in a dispatch received here from Berlin.

According to letters received from Servia, Prince George, eldest son of King Peter, is not progressing favorably owing to his refusal to submit to the orders of the doctors who are treating a wound he received in a recent battle. Crown Prince Alexander of Servia was also wounded in the head but his hurt was a slight one and after it was dressed the crown prince found it unnecessary to remain in bed and continued his military work.

MOVE BOTH ON OSTEND AND FRENCH FRONTIER

Berlin, Oct. 15.—(Via Wireless)—Information concerning the progress of the war was given out in Berlin today as follows:

"German troops in Belgium are now marching in part toward Ostend and in part in a southwesterly direction toward the French frontier. The headquarters of Emperor William have been moved farther into France.

"There has been heavy fighting in France east of the Soissons and the Argonne. The French official reports about successes in the Woevre district are untrue. The Germans nowhere have lost ground. Etain (twelve miles to the east of Verdun) is in German hands. French attacks against our position near St. Mihiel have been repulsed.

"The war booty secured in Antwerp cannot yet be estimated. Twenty-six thousand Belgians and 2,000 Englishmen have been interned in Holland. In the harbor of Antwerp we found thirty-two German steamers, the boilers of which apparently had been disabled.

"Russian forces have been defeated at Schirwndt (in East Prussia, nineteen miles to the east of Gumbinnen,) with a loss of 1,500 prisoners and twenty cannon. German troops have repulsed the Russians south of Warsaw and hold southern Poland as far as the Vistula river.

"Emperor William, acting on a petition handed him by Cardinal Hartmann, of Cologne, has ordered that French Catholic priests among the prisoners in Germany, who entered the French ranks as common soldiers, shall be treated in Germany in the same manner as are French officers.

"It is reported here from Stettin that German torpedo boat destroyers discovered six vessels of Norwegian, Swedish and Danish nationality loaded with goods and provisions destined for London and also for Russia. All were taken into Swinemunde."

CANADIANS TAKE GASOLINE LAUNCH

Nanaimo, B. C., Oct. 15.—The ninety-ton gasoline launch, Empress Ninth, was captured by Canadian authorities yesterday at Comox Spit, in Union bay. The crew, two men and a woman, all giving the name of Kohfe, were taken into custody.

The launch had about nine months' provisions and supplies aboard, carried three auxiliary engines and was equipped with wireless apparatus. It is supposed that the crew were intercepting messages from the wireless station at Cape Lazo.

Two other men, also named Kohfe, were arrested at Campbell river. They are charged with being German spies. Both parties were sent to Nanaimo to await further instructions.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Sixty per cent of the industrial accidents in the United States are charged to liquor, R. L. Palmer, chief inspector of the Pennsylvania department of labor and industry, told delegates attending the national congress for industrial safety today.

"It will not be long," the speaker said, "before the saloon will be as much separated from the industrial plant as it is now from the church. As a matter of business we will have to furnish workmen better entertainment than saloons. We also will have to pay in cash to prevent men from going to saloons to convert their checks int currency."

E. K. Pritchett, representing a manufacturing company of Grand Rapids, Mich., asserted that after employes had been forbidden to use alcoholic beverages, arrangements were made for milk wagons to call at the factories at a certain hour every morning.

"We then permitted the men to stop work and go out and buy fresh bottles of milk," Mr. Pritchett said. "We found this arrangement practically has solved the drinking problem."

GERMAN LOSS IS 12 000 TO 15,000

Paris, Oct. 15.—(1:02 p. m.)—The newspaper, Franco Du Nord, declares today that when the Germans were defeated at Arras they lost from 12,000 to 15,000 men who were surrounded by the French in some marshes.

It is reported from Trieste, Austria, that all able bodied men in Austria are being forcibly compelled to assist in constructing fortifications. Any man refusing to do this work is arrested. The people are expressing indignation because of this.

PRESIDENT SIGNS ANTI-TRUST BILL

Washington, Oct. 15.—President Wilson today signed the Clayton anti-trust bill, thus completing the administration's trust program. There was no ceremony connected with the signing of the bill.

American railroads may transport free of charge, if they decide to do so, gifts made by the children of the United States for presentation on Christmas day to the children made orphans by the European war. This ruling was announced by the inter-state commerce commission today in connection with the plans of American newspapers to send a "Christmas ship" abroad.

The commission made it clear that free transportation of such articles was entirely discretionary with the railroads.

EDITOR KILLS POLITICAL FOE

San Bernardo, Cal., Oct. 15.—Howard E. Davis, secretary of the progressive county central committee and editor of the Evening Index, shot and instantly killed Ben Emerson, a local sportsman, last night. Davis said Emerson attacked him.

The shooting followed a fist fight on the street at the entrance to progressive headquarters. Davis went to his office after the shooting and was arrested there. He exhibited marks on his face and said he shot in self defense. Emerson's name had been used in the paper in connection with attacks on republican party leaders, and he had demanded a retraction, it is said.

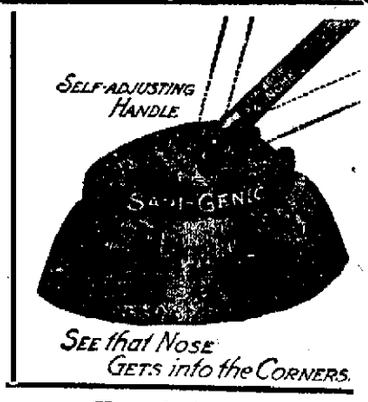
This Is The Famous

SANI-GENIC POLISHING MOP



One of the World's Greatest Household Inventions

Gets Into the Corners

It is the only mop that can get into the usually inaccessible places, under radiators, over doors and moulding and elsewhere.

IN THE GARAGE

Clean your automobile with it. The same mop that is so useful in cleaning and polishing pianos, paintings, furniture, floors and woodwork, is also a splendid part of the garage equipment.

FREE! With each Sani-Genic Polishing mop which we sell at the low price of $1.50, we give free one bottle of Sani-Genic Cedar Oil, a modern household necessity, for the tidy housekeeper.

Ladies will find our store a treasure-house of conveniences to make their housework a delight.

SEAVEY HARDWARE CO.

"IF IT'S A GOOD THING SEAVEY'S HAVE IT."

The Boston Braves have won the world's base-ball championship. A young and almost new organization has proved itself a better ball team than the older, better known and more famous Philadelphia machine of Connie Mack.

What has happened in the realm of base-ball sometimes occurs in the world of business. It has actually come to pass in the Men's Wear line in Fort Wayne; and the public is rapidly learning the fact. A store only a little more than a year old is proving itself a better store.

Any man or young man who enters the store of the Barker-Rose Co., 714 Calhoun St., cannot miss these facts. It is a mighty pleasant place in which to trade; everything this store shows has the atmosphere of newsness and freshness that is lacking in the goods most stores show; and one finds the latest, most attractive things there.

This store has the modern idea. It believes first in service. The proprietors themselves wait upon most of their trade. In few stores, anywhere, is so sincere an effort made to please and satisfy. It is refreshing to receive such courtesy and attention.

COPYRIGHT 1914 THE HOUSE OF KUPPENHEIMER

Of course prices and values are always a most important consideration with the public. The Barker-Rose Co. know this as well as anyone else. So it does not even attempt to charge the prices or get the long profits of the other and older stores. It is doing a lot of business at small profits—which means its customers are getting big values.

The man or young man who wants clothes at $15.00 to $25.00 can save money and get better goods of the Barker-Rose Co. So in the case of hats at $2 and $3. So in shirts, ties, underwear, etc. The policy of this store pays. It is the fastest growing clothing store in Indiana.

THREE TO CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY OF THEIR CONVERSION.

REV. J. A. NIPPER.

Rev. James A. Nipper, John M. Stewart and Charles Philley, who were all converted in the month of October, eight years, five years and one year ago, respectively, will celebrate the anniversary of their spiritual birth at the Rescue mission, on East Columbia street, Thursday evening.

These men will all tell of the experiences they had before and after conversion.

Following the services coffee and rolls will be served all those who attend. The meeting promises to be one of interest and the public is invited.

Redeemer Young People to Present "The Dream That Came True."

The Redeemer Lutheran Young People's society will give a three-act play entitled, "The Dream That Came True," at the St. Paul's school auditorium Thursday evening, October 15, at 8:15 p. m. The scene of action takes place in a factory town of the present day type and portrays the actual happenings that take place. Along with the instructive part of it a clever comedy plot is woven in so that it will afford everyone a very pleasant evening's entertainment. The cast of characters includes Catherina Von der Au, Arno Spiegel, Marina Swartzkopf, Esther Spiegel, Anna Von der Au, Howard Steup, Lillian Matott, Lucile Kahn, Minnie Betcher, Earl Saffen, Ruth Hansen, Helen Ehle, Helen Lindeman, Edward Spiegel, Edith Baral, Annetta Von der Au, Paul Spiegel and Henry Snyder.

WILL STUDY COSTUME DESIGNING.

A class in art which will study costume designing, including color combinations and how dresses should be designed, will begin its work Thursday evening at the Young Women's Christian association. The class will be taught by Miss Catharine Brown, of Indianapolis, who is a member of the faculty of the Fort Wayne high school. This is a new feature in the work at the Y. W. C. A. and is sure to be a class worth while joining. The work will not only be exceedingly interesting but instructive as well. Next term of this class will begin to sew things that they have designed this term.

Miss Anna Todd, of the high school, will teach the class in correct English, which also opens Thursday evening. She has made a special study of this work and is ready to give instructions along these lines.

CHOSEN AS DELEGATE.

Mrs. Martha Ridenour Representative to the National W. C. T. U. Meeting.

At the closing session of the state convention of the Women's Christian Temperance union held at Brazil Mrs. Martha Ridenour, county president of the unions of Allen county, was elected as representative from Indiana to the national meeting of the W. C. T. U. to be held in Atlanta, Ga., next month. Sixteen delegates were chosen at this meeting to represent Indiana at this convention.

C. E. Society Elects.

The Christian Endeavor society of the St. John Reformed church elected officers for the coming year at the annual election Wednesday evening. The president, A. Leslie Jacobs, and the secretary, Sophia Brandenburger, were re-elected. Amelia Peters was elected vice president, Gertrude Altevogt treasurer, and Harold Jacobs librarian. The secretary's report showed that during the year nineteen new members had been added to the roll.

Form a Bible Class.

A Bible class for young men of the community was formed Wednesday evening at the Bowser Free Methodist church. Officers for the first year were elected, and are: President, C. H. Middleton; vice president, E. E. Brown; secretary, S. I. Wass, jr.; treasurer, S. Keiser. During the meeting R. H. Mauk, James Menefee and others gave short talks. Rev. E. F. Aiken was chosen teacher of the class.

New Haven Revival.

The revival in New Haven was quickened last night by the conversion of five adults and young people. The altar service was a very impressive thing with its enthusiastic body of men and women, its earnest prayers and deeply spiritual singing. Among church members and non-church members there is a manifest purpose and desire to see a decided revival of influence and power come over the community.

Church Notes.

The subject of the sermon by Rev. H. B. Master, of the First Presbyterian church, Thursday evening will be "Enthusiasm." The services so far have been well attended.

Mrs. J. A. Beatty, district president, and Mrs. C. S. Todd, both of the Simpson M. E. church, are at Indianapolis attending the branch meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary societies. All the delegates will return Friday evening.

The Ladies' society of the Plymouth Congregational church will meet Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. M. Kleiley, 2733 Hoagland avenue. She will be assisted by Mesdames A. T. Lipes, M. Wishard, Frank Allen, Albert Bowser, Francis Miles, H. O. Wells, A. T. Williams and Sherwood Hinds.

H. F. SCHNELKER FAILS TO WRITE

Continued absence from his home on the part of Henry F. Schnelker, known to his friends as "Dummy," is causing some uneasiness to his friends, although there is nothing on the surface to indicate that he has met with foul play or that anything more is wrong than that he has failed to communicate with his family.

Schnelker formerly lived with his mother, Mrs. Anna A. Schnelker, 615 East Lewis street, and was employed for a number of years as a salesman for the Fort Wayne Drug company.

Last July he left for Rome City on his vacation and spent a week there with some of his acquaintances. So far as they know he came back to Fort Wayne and spent a night here and then left.

Reports reached here that he had been seen on the streets at Galion, Ohio, where he remained for a couple of days, but he has not written home and naturally the family is uneasy about him.

He is unmarried and there is no reason that he should not have gone away if he wanted to, but he gave no notice at the drug company's store of his intention to leave the service and the circumstances surrounding his departure and long absence has caused some questioning.

He has two married sisters living in Fort Wayne and they and his mother are seeking some information as to his whereabouts, but have been unable to locate him. He was one of the most ardent bowlers in Fort Wayne and was well known among the members of that fraternity.

START THE NOON MEETINGS IN CITY

Democrats Getting Ready to Do Active Work in All Shops.

At democratic headquarters on Thursday Chairman W. A. Johnson and Secretary Otto Koenig took up with Maurice Niezer, head of the speakers' bureau, the question of starting noon meetings in the Fort Wayne shops and ward meetings in the city.

While no definite arrangements were made it was decided to begin the noonday meetings on Monday of next week and Mr. Niezer took up at once the task of assigning the speakers.

These will be continued until the end of the campaign as most of the townships have been given the attention of the candidates and there are comparatively few speaking dates outside the city.

Meetings have been scheduled for Monday night of next week at the town hall in New Haven for the voters of Adams township and on November 2 another meeting will be held in the same place.

At Aboite Center last night there was a good crowd out to hear Hon. J. M. Robinson and Harry H. Hilgeman, in spite of the fact that the weather was forbidding.

GIVEN HONOR AT MUNCIE.

Muncie, Ind., Oct. 15.—At the closing session of the biennial convention of the Grand Circle of Indiana, Protected Home Circle, in session here, Robert Wursten of Indianapolis was re-elected grand president. Other new officers are as follows: Frank Beeman, Laporte, grand vice-president; Lena Bedell, Indianapolis, grand secretary; L. C. Sammons, Shelbyville, grand treasurer; Maude Henderson, Logansport, grand guardian; Tillie Clark, Fort Wayne, grand chaplain; H. G. Keener, Peru, grand guide; Cluna Hausbach, Fort Wayne, grand companion; Henry Smith, Terre Haute, grand sentinel; Frank Hoover, Marion, grand watchman. The next meeting will be held at Shelbyville.

Beginning today the 5:30 p. m. Robison park car will be discontinued

RULING HITS FIFER DEFENSE.

Elkhart, Ind., Oct. 15.—The defense in the case of Floyd Fifer, 17 years old, on trial in the superior court here for the alleged murder of Druggist Fink, of South Bend, suffered a blow when Judge Harmon overruled the objections of the attorneys and permitted the confession of the young man to go before the jury. An attempt possibly will be made to show that Fifer was influenced by Joseph Smith, who, Fifer charged, gave him the revolver with which the shooting was done. In the reading of the transcript from St. Joseph county it was discovered that the record did not show an arraignment and as none had been made here it looked like a mistrial. The concession of defendant's attorney saved the state's attorney the embarrassment of dismissing the suit.

NOTICE!

Beginning at once the 5:30 p. m. Robison park car will be discontinued.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

II Chronicles 14:1-11.

1 So Abijah slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of David: and Asa his son reigned in his stead. In his days the land was quiet ten years.

2 And Asa did that which was good and right in the eyes of the Lord his God:

3 For he took away the altars of the strange gods, and the high places, and brake down the images, and cut down the groves:

4 And commanded Judah to seek the Lord God of their fathers, and to do the law and the commandment.

5 Also he took away out of all the cities of Judah the high places and the images: and the kingdom was quiet before him.

6 And he built fenced cities in Judah: for the land had rest, and he had no war in those years; because the Lord had given him rest.

7 Therefore he said unto Judah, Let us build these cities, and make about them walls, and towers, gates, and bars, while the land is yet before us; because we have sought the Lord our God, we have sought him, and he hath given us rest on every side. So they built and prospered.

8 And Asa had an army of men that bare targets and spears, out of Judah three hundred thousand; and out of Benjamin, that bare shields and drew bows, two hundred and four score thousand: all these were mighty men of valour.

9 And there came out against them Zerah the Ethiopian with an host of a thousand thousand, and three hundred chariots; and came unto Mareshah.

10 Then Asa went out against him, and they set the battle in array in the valley of Zephathah at Mareshah.

11 And Asa cried unto the Lord his God, and said, Lord, it is nothing with thee to help, whether with many, or with them that have no power: help us, O Lord our God; for we rest on thee, and in thy name we go against this multitude. O Lord, thou art our God; let not man prevail against thee.

Better Farming America's Best Defense.

In the small cities and villages in the chief farming areas the local banker is generally, in a real sense, the leading citizen. Farmers, merchants, owners of mills and shops seek his advice; and most of them take their cue from what he says. Because of this fact, the National Implenet and Vehicle association is submitting to local bankers six bits of advice which are good enough to be spread broadcast:

"(1) Urge the farmer who has harvested his grain not to speculate on the fluctuation of future prices.

"(2) Recommend to the farmer of the South to diversify his crops—a one-crop country cannot continue to bring prosperity to its farmers.

"(3) Preach preparedness for the 1915 harvest—more intensive cultivation, quite as much as increased acreage, will bring prosperity to the farmers.

"(5) Secure for the agricultural community the benefits provided in the new currency law by creating a demand for the early opening of the various federal reserve banks.

"(6) Discourage all speculation, but encourage the expansion of legitimate business in the rural communities by reasonable extension of credit."

The stirring experience of the past months has taught more clearly than ever before the supreme importance of farming. Into what straits, following the unexpected war crisis, would not a crop failure have plunged us! Germany's strength is more in its potash than in its cannon; for it is the immense yield which German skill has won from relatively a small area of soil which feeds her fighting millions—crushed she would be speedily were her food supply to run low. Before our own rich and ample country can take hold in a large way of the opportunities which the war will open to us, we shall first need to set things better to rights at home. And the most important thing of all, because underlying all the rest, is to put more skill into our farming.

Though you may call this threshing over old straw, the fact remains that we haven't yet used due intelligence in farming. Had there been put into it as much keenness of foresight and as much business skill as have, for instance, gone into our great manufacturing plants during the past quarter century, we should not now have before us the two disturbing spectres of an average yield per acre actually less than a generation ago, and a growing tenancy problem, shifting and shiftless, which further threatens the soil's ebbing reserves of strength.

There can be no permanent welfare for this or any other nation unless those who work may be sure that they shall be able to eat. First of all, we must safeguard our food supply. Every year the cities take more, the country holds fewer months. We, too, are beginning to have continuous bread lines. If we begin to find it a task to feed our own people in times of peace, how much greater will the difficulty of the task become when war cuts away the harvests of half of the rest of the world?

Every new bit of skill put into an American farm is better than a chain of forts as a defense of our nation's future. We hope that the local bankers, and, for that matter, every other citizen having access to people's ears will preach this gospel eloquently and often.

The proposal to establish on philanthropic lines a night school for the instruction of newly-arrived citizens of alien birth in Fort Wayne has many features to commend it. We believe the opportunity will be gladly embraced by those who have come to America as a land of opportunity, and who desire to get closely in touch with the spirit, the purposes, the customs, the ideals and the tongue of land in which they are seeking to make a new home.

Happily, Governor Hunt, of Arizona, whose project to send Arizona state troops to the Mexican border promised an infinite variety of new troubles for the United States, subsided in time to make a spanking by Uncle Sam unnecesary. It is hardly to be presumed that the border states can enjoy the Mexican imbroglio that sends bullets across the line, but the situation is one with which the federal government must deal.

And in your enthusiasm for your favorite candidates, do not forget to vote "yes" on the constitutional convention ballot in November.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

What The Sentinel Had to Say About Persons and Events Twenty-Five Years Ago.

Officer O'Ryan today shot a dog that had bitten several persons.

The mayor had fifteen cases before him in police court this morning.

James M. Kane has returned from New York, where he purchased a stock of holiday goods.

Ed J. Ehrman has been succeeded by C. F. Kettler as distributor at the postoffice.

Dr. and Mrs. G. W. McCaskey will arrive home from their European trip tomorrow.

The city department of the Y. M. C. A. is preparing to hold a big fair in December. The proceeds will be applied to wipe out the debt on the building.

W. H. Pyke, who recently quit the grocery business in this city, left today for North Carolina. He will locate somewhere in the south.

Dr. C. B. Stemen will return tomorrow from his trip east. Since his departure he has visited Philadelphia, New York, Brooklyn and other places.

Cy Lose has resigned his position in the composing room of the Newspaper union and will accept a place as foreman in the Journal job department.

Engineer A. J. Yon, of the Nickel Plate, is attending the convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers in St. Louis.

R. A. McNeil, the artist, will shortly leave Fort Wayne and it is expected that before his departure his portrait of Gen. Anthony Wayne will be presented to the city.

Fred Eckart is having elegant office rooms arranged in his new block at Main and Harrison streets. His office will be removed there from the Calhoun street house of business.

H. C. Granger, storekeeper of the Wabash company here, who went with the Knights Templar to Washington will visit in New York and Philadelphia before his return home.

Last Sunday Mayor Harding had several spotters out looking after saloonkeepers who sold that day. As a result two saloonists were fined today in the mayor's court, paying $22.50 each. Other affidavits will be filed.

The drug stores on Broadway are entering on their winter schedule of closing every evening at 9 o'clock, except Saturday night, when they will remain open until ten o'clock.

Lee Ninde, Bruce Elliott and B. J. Griswold have gone to Toledo, where they will look over some new additions that are to be platted and offered for sale.

PRESS ON SOUTH AND THE COTTON MARKET.

The Iron Manufacturers.

Pittsburg Press: "It is seriously questionable whether the cotton growers have suffered much more from the war than the iron and steel manufacturers, who would have quite as much warrant for asking the government to come to their rescue."

Support the South.

Cincinnati Inquirer: "Place the nation in support of the south, the east, the west or the north, whenever a crisis like this occurs, and all will be well."

Other Producers.

Philadelphia Public Ledger: "If the government went to the assistance of cotton it could not refuse to give relief to the producers of every other commodity the market for which is curtailed by the war."

Business.

Philadelphia Record: "The banks of the southwest are preparing to advance $20 a bale on five million bales of cotton. That is business, and not charity or populism, and it is enough to prevent disaster."

The Cotton Pool.

Houston Post: "With the aid of the federal reserve bank, the cotton pool will be enabled to supply all the money necessary to store and hold all the cotton for which there will be no mill demand this year."

Federal Assistance.

Washington Post: "To permit the prostration of the south by the withholding of federal aid, of federal currency, of feleral legislative assistance in the face of a crisis like the present one would be a crime against the republic."

Productive Work.

A Better Profit.

Pittsburg Dispatch: "It is worth while to recognize that the south will be better off and the individual farmers will probably find a better profit if they seek a larger variety in their crops."

PATERSON'S EXAMPLE.

(Pittsburg Dispatch.)

Paterson, N. J., is a city that has been made famous by anarchism, by floods and by fire. It has balanced this unfortunate record by organizing and opening an industrial exhibition, which is peculiarly timely at this juncture.

The exposition opened in that city on Monday has for its chief feature the greatest show of silks ever displayed in this country. The silks are all "made in America." Gowns are exhibited whose material is the product of home factories, and in style and attractiveness can challenge comparison with the productions of Paris.

This is an example well worth following. It is a precedent in industrial faith and activity which will surely gain its reward. Some business elements seem to consider it the part of neutrality to keep in retirement, hope for the best and fear the worst. Paterson strikes the note of making the most of our opportunities, advertising what our home industries can do, and attracting the trade of other neutral nations.

It is not a hazardous prediction that the aggressiveness displayed in this effort will develop a prosperity that will force other industries to follow the good example.

HOLDS EMPLOYER MOST TO BLAME

Noted Mishawaka Manufacturer Discusses Factory Accidents.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Before the National Congress for Industrial Safety held here today, Melville W. Mix, president of the Dodge Manufacturing company, of Mishawaka, and head of the Manufacturers' Bureau of Indiana, placed the blame for 75 per cent. of factory accidents to the disinterested and indifferent attitude of the employer toward employe. Inasmuch as Mr. Mix was selected to represent the manufacturer before the congress, his stand, while somewhat unusual, may be considered as being pretty close to the real facts of the case.

M. W. MIX.

Mr. Mix said in part:

"Safety first, like any other general business movement, gathers to its ranks certain individuals who are invariably attracted to any forward movement having humanity or progressiveness as its battle cry.

"Their enlistment may, in a way, be compared to the thousands of enthusiastic, patriotic young men who enlisted for a three-months' term in '61 to go down south and 'stop a little unpleasantness.' The end of the three months came before scarcely a blow had been struck; and in the four long years of bloodshed that followed, these young recruits grew to love, and to love and die for the cause they had so impetuously joined.

"Safety first is a standard under which a 'three months'' enlistment is little more than useless. Safety first only resembles the efficiency movement in its popularity. Safety first is more than a hobby for the tired business man—more than an excuse to eat a good dinner at the expense of the committee and then listen to some more or less brilliant remarks made by as many chosen speakers who get nothing for their efforts other than the aforesaid dinner and what publicity their advertising man may be able to secure in friendly journals.

"Personal aggrandizement has no place in a movement based on a humane principle. When France neglected principle and followed the person, Napoleon, she opened the trap of her undoing; persons pass on, but worthy principles are with us forever.

"Safety first is the cause of human life; the conservation of the human elements of production far more important to the progress of mankind than the mobilization of armies, and far more productive than the extension of boundary lines or religious creeds. It is safe to say that in the fifty-year period following the civil war, almost as many men have lost their lives in the pursuit of their trade vocations as fell under the four years' hail of lead.

"We see wealthy magnates lay fabulous sums at the disposal of a world peace tribunal; and we see in what short space of time the martial strength of a continent may apparently forget the life-conserving principles to which they have subscribed.

"Do we see any such enthusiasm in the cause of commercial or industrial safety? Is the blood spilled at the lathe, the forge, the throttle, or the grade crossing less red, less valuable than that shed on fields of battle?

"It has been figured that the average cost of apprenticeship, including the cost of bringing a man to the working efficiency necessary to profit, is somewhere around $1,000. If this man is disabled from any cause, the employer must immediately recognize a charge for the cost of training another workman in addition to whatever damage he may be called upon to pay.

"But the tremendous loss of life from accidents has not been in vain. Martyrdom always precedes the public indorsement of a cause—and just now when we enter the age of specialized profits, do we take up and support the cause of safety first.

"To attach to this movement means that each of you must pledge your support, not in an impassioned or highly patriotic way—not by a rising vote or a rousing rally to the colors—but by a firm decision way down inside your heart—that you will join, support, assist and promote the cause of safety first wherever and whenever you shall find it. I do not mean that you shall sally forth into fields foreign to your endeavor. Let your own establishment be your first field of operation and victory is just as sweet, just as decisive, behind doors of your own establishment as it is in the workshop of your neighbor.

"The minimization of accidents produces a better feeling in the employments and leads to preferences being expressed for the employers whose workshops bear the best reputation for safety; thus the safe, well-groomed shop may have the call on workers, even though other things may be somewhat less attractive, and thus is possessed an asset of material value to those concerned.

"The value and safety in maintaining good tools, and of selecting good materials, is all helpful in eliminating waste and promoting economy in their use and preservation, having for their effect the reduction of losses in production as well as by accident.

"Close co-operation between employers and employe and through them with legislation will do much towards eliminating some of the troublesome questions that are arising in connection with the workmen's compensation and other employment laws which are being passed by the various states. Great care must be used and wise practical counsel prevail lest that in the making we do not work gross injustice to certain classes of employes.

"The ambitious and conservative married men are being so classified in some of the state laws that a great temptation may be encouraged on the part of certain types of employers, and especially small employers, to discriminate in favor of single men, or men whose social condition carried the least risk in the event of disability.

"This is also true in certain lines of employment having to deal with women. Not that the requirements of themselves may not be fair, but that they may be inconsistent with the conditions surrounding other employments, and thus force a choice that may be unjust and discriminative against a deserving, competent class of labor.

"A better understanding of the conditions by all concerned will eventually lead to equitable laws; thus we find another evidence of the value of safety as an asset, when through the forum of its encouragement we solve problems equally vital to the body industrial."

It is about time to begin planning for holiday gifts and it is a good time now to make your selections while the showing is full and complete. Beautiful stamped designs in gowns, corset covers, chemise, combination suits, lingerie waists and articles for infants' wear, center pieces, scarfs, pillow tops, etc., with prices as low as 25c and up to $1.50.

Fancy Linens

In this department will be found new and exquisite pieces in cluny lace, Florentine lace, embroidered and Roman cut work in entierly new patterns, scarfs, squares, center pieces, lunch cloths and doilies. Under existing conditions in Europe such a display as we make now cannot be duplicated. Prices will be found most reasonable.

MUNSING WEAR

For the Whole Family

Put them in Munsing Underwear before Jack Frost gets them and you will have taken a long step towards preserving their health; at the same time giving them comfort and saving some money, for no other underwear stands the wear and tear like Munsing. It is made to give satisfactory service and it does. We know that the goods are right and that our prices are right.

DECIDEDLY STYLISH!

There is no corset on a par with a Redfern, not even one costing from two to three times the price.

Redfern Models

are conceded by Fashion creators at home and abroad to excel in design and wearing qualities all other corsets—not only are they accurate in shape, but in appearance are dainty, with materials soft and beautiful—chiffon-like in quality—that fits with the softness of kid.

The trimming, which is so necessary a part of the corset daintiness for underdressing, is in perfect keeping with the most exquisite lingerie.

You may not realize that the hose supporter plays an important part in corset shaping and comfort, and the "Security" is unquestionably the most satisfactory.

A few pertinent reasons why Firmsett Eyeglasses

Are better and more profitable for the wearer of glasses.

Better because the lenses are larger, giving a greater range of vision, no unsightly metal sticking into the periphery of the lens proper, and obstructing the vision or causing those annoying reflections. More profitable because there is no hole thru the lens which is the starting of a break, thereby saving 50% of the cost of upkeep.

Try one of our sample pair on and judge for yourself if they are not well worth their cost.

Kendallville, Ind., Oct. 15.—Once a barber always a barber, is an old theory which in most cases proves true, and again this fact is manifested in this city, and applies in the case of A. E. McNair, for many years a barber in this city, but who retired from the business some years ago. Since giving up the business he has served a term as recorder of Noble county, has been agent at Garrett for the interurban lines and has followed various lines of work, but dissatisfied, has decided to again come back to his old trade. He is now making arrangements to operate a barber shop in the Kelly hotel and will open the new place just as soon as his furniture and other equipment arrive.

OLD INJURY BECOMES SERIOUS.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 15.—Draper Goldsberry, an employe at the city waterworks and electric light plant, is off duty in consequence of an injury received a week ago, which was not considered serious at first, but has been gradually growing worse. He was helping repair a pump when a part of the iron pipe of the casing fell and struck him across the right leg, about midway between the ankle and knee. There was a bruise which Mr. Goldsberry did not regard as serious, but it appears that the bruise was deep and inflammation developed about the bone of the leg.

IN FEAR OF TETANUS.

DIVORCE GETS ALIMONY.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 15.—Judge Eichhorn entered further proceedings in the divorce case of Mrs. Augusta Duff vs. Jehu Duff. He had previously indicated, on the day of trial, that he would grant the divorce to Mrs. Duff, but he took the matter of property rights under advisement. The entry this morning shows that Mrs. Duff was granted the divorce on the grounds of cruel treatment. She was awarded $450 alimony, and a further allowance of $100 for attorney's fees, taxed as costs, and her maiden name of Augusta Eskhart was restored.

CHILD RUN DOWN BY AUTO.

Portland, Ind., Oct. 15.—Mildred Straley, the six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Straley, living near Antiville, was injured when she was run over by an automobile. The little girl was returning home from school when an auto from Hoagland and a wagon passed her on the highway. The machine in turning out for the wagon, struck the little girl, inflicting a number of injuries. Her right collar bone was broken, cuts on the side of the head, besides several bruises over her body.

HUSBAND HAD FLED.

Kendallville, Ind., Oct. 15.—Goldie Howlett, of Avilla, came to this city and filed an affidavit in Justice Lash's court charging her husband with assault and battery. Armed with a warrant, Marshal George Cunningham went to Avilla to make the arrest, only to learn that the husband, V. Howlett, had unceremoniously departed from the town, and according to report, with "the other woman." They left on a southbound interurban car and their whereabouts are unknown.

NO WATER AT 600 FEET.

Kendallville, Ind., Oct. 15.—Six hundred and seven feet in the ground and no well. That's the discouraging report received from the waterworks station today when the question was asked as to what success had been made in the driving of the test well in hopes of finding water. At a meeting of the city council a week ago, Wellman Harper was instructed to drive the pipe to the 600-foot mark in hopes that an extra good vein of water would be reached. He has done seven feet better and is as much in the dark as before, as far as securing an adequate supply of water is concerned.

LEG BROKEN IN SAME PLACE.

Decatur, Ind., Oct. 15.—George Gay, aged 70, a well known farmer who resides a mile north of Rivarre, is again laid up with a broken leg as the result of a kick from a horse. A year ago he was kicked by a horse and suffered a severe fracture of the knee. He had just become able to get about on crutches and while in his stable was again kicked by a horse. The blow of the hoof landed on the same place that had been fractured. The knee cap was broken and the socket was fractured.

DELPHOS COUPLE FLEE TO WED.

Hillsdale, Mich., Oct. 15.—Warden L. Barrick, of Paulding, Ohio, and Mattie Khorn, of Paulding Center, Ohio, eloped to this city and were united in marriage at the court house by Justice C. M. Weaver. Some of the supervisors witnessed the ceremony.

Double Chin? Apply This Soap, Fat Vanishes!

At last! A fat reducer that positively reduces fat, just where you want the fat reduced! The methods of reducing excess fat have been completely revolutionized by the most remarkable and most simple method ever known, PROF. SENZ REDUCING SOAP. The ingredients of this soap have the effect of reducing all unnatural and excess fatty tissue in a natural, easy, harmless way. You use it just about like any ordinary soap—it takes just a few minutes a day to use. If you have a double crin, apply it to that part and the "double chin" vanishes. Fat hips, ankles, limbs, arms, waist, all may be reduced in the same way.

There is nothing to take internally, no strenuous exercise, no starvation diet, no hot or cold baths, nothing violent or troublesome. No more months of weary waiting for results.

PROF. SENZ REDUCING SOAP is sold at drug stores at $1.00 a cake, or sent direct on receipt of price, by the Hygienic Co., 350 N. Clark street, Chicago, Ill. One $1.00 cake will show quick, marked results. A 3-cake box for $2.50 should be used for desired reduction.

MAKES FACE YOUNG—TIGHTENS LOVE TIES.

A fretful expression, a wrinkled face and a faded complexion do more to drive the male members from home than is commonly supposed. It was one of my greatest difficulties to appear smiling, fresh and elegant when my dear ones were with me. But I have overcome all that. I have changed my mental attitude and I now find it second nature to look cheerful. Due partly to this, partly to a remarkable treatment recommended by a friend, my appearance has so improved I look fifteen years younger than before.

A simple face lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel, proved a wonderful wrinkle-chaser. I still use this occasionally. To renovate my complexion I purchased an ounce of ordinary mercolized wax at my druggist's and before using this up, a marvelous transformation had taken place. It was like removing an unsightly mask, revealing a new face, a youthful complexion of distinctive delicacy, clear, white and velvety. I merely applied the wax like cold cream before retiring, washing it off mornings. Ten days' treatment sufficed.—"Aurilla" in Clubwoman.

CROSS, FEVERISH CHILD IS BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.

ITCHING IRRITATION.

When you suffer with any skin trouble, even though the itching seems unbearable, do not think that it is necessary to use some disgusting, greasy ointment. Try Hokara, a pure and simple cream, that is guaranteed to contain no grease or acids and which is so cleanly that it does not soil the linen.

Not only do minor skin troubles like pimples, blackheads, acne, barber's itch, etc., quickly disappear, but the worst ulcers or cases of salt rheum or eczema are cleansed and healed by this wonderful skin food.

In order that any one may try Hokara at small expense, Meyer Bros. Co.'s drug store are selling a liberal-sized jar at 25c, and in addition guarantee to refund the money if the treatment does not do all that is claimed for it.—Adv.

The College club sent out notices calling an important meeting at the Y. W. C. A. on Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. All members are urged to be present as they will discuss and decide on converting the funds which they collected for a day nursery to the maintenance of the home which Miss Minette Baum will give with her services, for a detention home, in memory of her late father, Mr. Samuel Baum, calling it the Samuel Baum Memorial home. The board of directors have consulted lawyers and found it would be possible to transfer the sum of money which they have for the prospective day nursery into a fund for the support of this home. Plans will be completed for the Japanese operetta which they will give this fall.

Will Be Historic Study of Local Interest.

The Parent-Teacher association of the Bloomingdale school will hold its first meeting of the season tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in the school assembly hall. The Bloomingdale club has decided upon furthering the desire of the educational department of the Woman's league to stimulate loyalty to Fort Wayne and interest in its history by studying "Early Fort Wayne." The month of October, 1794, is teeming with historic incidents connected with the securing and holding the site for this city and the program tomorrow will be to consider the founding and naming of the "Old Fort." Mrs. Lillian Stouder will open the program and Miss Eliza Rudisill, Mrs. Fred Hayden and members of the club are asked to contribute anecdote or historic incident of old Fort Wayne. A large attendance of members is desired.

"THE LITTLEST REBEL."

AT THE MAJESTIC.

AT THE TEMPLE.

This was a great day at the Temple for the women who thronged to the cozy playhouse, attracted there by a double reason, souvenir spoon day and a delightful bill of all-Keith vaudeville. Each of the women that attended the opening performance of the week-end program was presented with a handsome silver spoon as a memento of the occasion.

The bill for the last portion of the week is a lulu. Davett and Duval have brought back their great comedy sketch, "Holding Out," in which they scored a veritable triumph here a year ago. The scene is laid in a bedroom in an actors' boarding house in New York and the story is told in rarely amusing lines and situations. The funny-faced monkeys belonging to Anita Diaz's act perform some truly remarkable stunts even for monkeys. Miss Diaz's animals are the highest type of the monkey family and she has trained them in a wonderful series of capers. Ben Smith's funny sayings and still funnier songs leave a decidedly pleasant taste in one's mouth. Archer and Carr have an unusual talking and singing act, while the Turner skaters present some difficult feats on rollers.

A STORY OF REVENGE

An Imp drama in two reels entitled "The Futility of Revenge," written by Stuart Paton, with Dorothy Phillips and Alex Gaden in the leading roles, is one of the offerings at the Orpheum this afternoon and evening.

Richard Dent is a respected citizen, but unknown even to his dearest friends he is, at night, the enemy of society—a thief. One evening he enters the home of a public official and before he can escape he is recognized. On the following day he is arrested after a vain effort on the part of his wife to save him. She is implicated with him and both are sentenced to prison, leaving their little daughter to the mercies of the world. The wife dies in the prison and the husband swears vengeance on the judge who sentenced her. The remaining chapters of the story tell how the revenge, carefully planned though it was, reacted on the man.

"Heinie's Outing," a Sterling comedy featuring Max Asher, will be an added attraction today. The orchestra has arranged an excellent program and Miss Lyons will sing.

There are three offerings on the program for tomorrow: "The Way of Life," a Nestor drama with Eddie Lyons and Victoria Ford heading the cast; "Cupid Victor," an Eclair fantasy, and a Victor drama entitled, "Disillusioned," with J. Warren Kerrigan heading the cast.

AT THE LYRIC.

With the introduction of three acts of classy vaudeville along with a three-film picture program and all at popular prices, the best guess of the ones that had not been acquainted with the Lyric method was that the picture portion of the entertainment would be made to suffer. How unfounded this belief is can readily be seen by glancing through the program for today. "Hello, Mabel," one of those rare Keystone comedies that never fail to please; a Majestic drama, "Down by the Sea," and another series of the Mutual Girl. These pictures are being presented with three crack vaudeville acts, the new variety bill opening this afternoon. Heslow and Rollard, novelty dancing act, touted by vaudeville managers over the country as being a real act; Carl and Reihl in a singing and comedy talking skit, and Florence Barr, a comedienne with a style as distinctly all her own as that of Eva Tanguay, comprise the vaudeville portion of the entertainment.

AT THE EMPRESS.

Fort Wayne theater-goers have a great opportunity for the rest of the week. They have the opportunity of seeing and hearing at the Empress theater Mr. Ben Jerome, who is the composer of more musical comedy successes than any other musician. He is assisted by Corinne Hewlette, character singing comedienne, and Sig. M. Fenone, who hails from the sunny shores of Italy.

The Melnotte twins, those dainty stars, will sing and dance charmingly for the rest of the week at the Empress. "One Flight Up," an intense dramatic playlet of moving situation and surprising plot, is now being presented by William Lampe and company.

Copeland and Payton, the laugh provoking comedians, are presenting "A Comedy in a Dining Car." Just a jester is George Yoeman, who has yet to see the person that he cannot make laugh while the Clairmont Brothers present a rollicking revolving ladder act. Motion pictures that fascinate are shown for the last half of the week in the Empresscope.

HOUSE PASSES MEASURE.

Jones Philippine Bill Carries by Vote of 211 to 59.

Washington, Oct. 15.—The Jones Philippine bill, which declares the purpose of the United States to recognize the independence of the islands "as soon as a staple government can be established there," passed the house late yesterday by a vote of 211 to 59. It will not be considered in the senate at this session of congress.

Five republicans, Representatives Cooper, Davis, Dillon, Griest and Rogers; four progressives, Representatives Falconer, Chandler, Rupley and Thompson, of Illinois, and Representative Farr, progressive-republican, voted with the solid democratic membership for the bill. Speaker Clark also had his vote recorded for the measure. Representative Bryan, of Washington (progressive) voted against it.

The bill declares the policy of the United States on recognition of the independence of the islands in the preamble, and makes both branches of the Philippine legislature elective by the Filipino people.

GREAT RELIEF FOR LAKESIDE

Measures for extensive relief and protection of Lakeside from floods consequences will principally engage the board of public works at the Thursday evening session of that body. Bids will be received for the construction of a sewer and the installation of sewage pumps and a resolution will be passed for the construction of a concrete wall along the St. Joe boulevard dike from Columbia avenue to Fores tavenue. The sewer and pumps are designed to relieve conditions when high water forces the closing of the valves of the main sewers, which pour into the Maumee river, so that water and sewage will not back up into local drains and fill cellars. This measure has been pending for more than a year and on one account and another has been delayed. The cost will be about 7,000, for which the property owners in the Lakeside and Forest park districts will be assessed. The concrete wall along the west side of St. Joe boulevard will be built two feet above the flood level of March, 1913, and it is believed will prove ample protection in all future contingencies. Its cost will be $15,000 and all property east of the wall will be assessed for it.

The board will have up for confirmation the resolution for paving the first alley west of Calhoun street, from Wayne street to the alley south and the alley between Calhoun and Harrison streets, from Washington to Jefferson. This latter improvement will run along the side exits of the Jefferson theater.

DRAINAGE FOR NEW ADDITION.

Bishop Herman J. Alerding, of the Catholic diocese of Fort Wayne, the board of works and the city engineer looked over the region of the Pfeiffer addition and the St. Vincent's orphans' home property Wednesday afternoon, with reference to a drainage system for the addition and a sewer right of way across the orphans' home lands. Bishop Alerding gave his consent to the plan, which will connect Pfeiffer addition's drainage with the Third street main sewer.

SECRETARY WESSEL RETURNS.

Secretary John Wessel of the city light and power department returned Thursday morning from Indianapolis, where he appeared for examination before the Marion county grand jury which is investigating the charge that bills were juggled in the last legislature and that Speaker Homer Cook was involved in corrupt actions. As reading clerk of the last house it was supposed that Secretary Wessel could furnish important information.

DAIRIES SHOW WELL.

Chief Eugene A. Schott, of the meat and dairy inspection division of the health department, and Deputy Charles Josse have just completed the periodical inspection of the dairies that distribute milk to the people of Fort Wayne. Further improvement is reported in conditions and the existence of a ready spirit to comply with the health regulations.

INVESTIGATING AT ROANOKE.

State Pure Food Inspector Hutchins was in Ft. Wayne Thursday morning en route to Roanoke to pursue investigations relating to an outbreak of typhoid fever in that town. It is believed a restaurant there had some responsibility. Deputy Inspector Charles Josse, of the Fort Wayne health department, accompanied him.

VISITS HIS OLD HOME.

Chairman Frank E. Singrey, of the board of works, accompanied by his family, motored to the home of his brother-in-law, W. O. Prouty, in Jefferson township, Noble county, to attend the annual meeting of the agricultural association of that township, which was held at Mr. Prouty's home. Chairman Singrey formerly resided in Jefferson township.

NOT AFRAID OF ANY FIVE.

A bowling team has been organized in the city hall by Deputy Comptroller George Stang, who has brought John Alt, Gates Horton, Henry Pranger and Andrew App under his colors. The new team has challenged Tom Connelly's formidable five of the county treasurer's office and the first clash will take place Sunday, probably on the Brunswick alleys.

BIG SLIDE TIES UP PANAMA CANAL

The reports indicate that there were earth movements on both sides into the channel from the slopes of Gold and Contractor's hills, which are virtually opposite each other.

Col. Goethals and others are this morning making an examination of the extent of the damage. It is said that traffic through the canal probably will be interrupted for some time.

SUES PHYSICIAN FOR LARGE SUM

In the superior court Maude Roop has filed suit against Dr. Edward H. Mooreland, a well known specialist physician, for $5,000 damages for assault and battery, alleged to have been committed October 1, last, when, according to the complaint, "he did, in a rude, insolent and angry manner beat and strike the plaintiff." The complaint is very brief and no other details than the mere charge that assault and battery was committed at the time stated are given.

Sues Traction Company for $2,000.

James P. McDonald has brought suit in the superior court against the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company for $2,000 for personal injuries. In his complaint he alleges that on the 20th of last May he was the last of several passengers to leave a westbound Main street car at Cherry street and that just as he was alighting the car was suddenly started, throwing him to the pavement. He says he sustained injuries to his leg, face and side and that he has been unable to work since the accident. Moreover, he says that the injury to his leg will impair his earning capacity for at least two years.

Notes of the Courts.

The last will and testament of Patrick J. Bulger has been filed for probate. He left his estate to his children.

In the superior court Judge Yaple has granted a divorce to Edith Cupp from Jacob Cupp. The two lived together but a few days following their marriage.

In the superior court Judge Yaple granted a divorce to Arthur Houck from Edna Houck, but gave the defendant the custody of a minor child and ordered the plaintiff to pay $10 a month for its support.

Senator T. E. Ellison and Joseph M. Haley, of Fort Wayne, and Messrs. Watkins, Butler and Brooks, of Huntington, as counsel representing each argued the Little River ditch case in the supreme court at Indianapolis Wednesday. A decision is expected soon.

New Trial is Denied.

Judge Eggeman, in the circuit court, has denied the motion of the defendant for a new trial in the case of Frank J. Shields against the New York, Chicago and St. Louis railroad. For two days Judge Eggeman listened to the argument of Judge Walter Olds, general counsel for the defendant, which included the reading of a voluminous mass of affidavits purposed to show that the testimony upon which a circuit court jury last June gave Shields a verdict for $10,000 damages for the loss of a leg was perjured. Judge John H. Aiken, counsel for Shields in the two trials of the cause in the circuit court, and Phil B. Colerick, his associate counsel, made strong pleas against the granting of a new trial. Judge Eggeman, in overruling the motion for a new trial, held that perjured testimony could not constitute ground for a new trial under decisions of the Indiana supreme court, though perjured testimony might have been given. Shields and his nephew, John Golday, of Chicago, who was one of the most important witnesses for Shields in the second trial, are under bond for appearance in the circuit court here on charges of perjury in connection with the case.

URGES 'EM TO DO IT EARLY.

Do it early, is the counsel and plea of J. Herman Bueter, treasurer of Allen county. This does not refer to Christmas shopping—though Mr. Bueter is a strong advocate of that—but to taxpaying. The fall installment of taxes is due and but two weeks remain in which to pay without penalty. Directly will come the rush of the belated. Those who pay now will be sure to be in time, will make it easier for Treasurer Bueter and his efficient staff and will be an act of mercy to those who cannot possibly get in early.

MAY GET EBBETT HOTEL.

Dick Townsend Is Negotiating at Washington.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 15.—Richard Townsend, former manager of the Oliver house at South Bend, is here dickering with George F. Schutt, formerly of Fort Wayne, to obtain a lease on the new Ebbett hotel. Mr. Schutt is planning to retire from the hotel business because of ill-health.

Arising at 4 o'clock Thursday morning, the usual time for preparing to go to work, Michael O'Conner, of 2207 South Lafayette street, was suddenly seized with an attack of heart failure and five minutes later, before medical aid could reach him, he died. The deceased was employed as janitor at the Pennsylvania cabinet office and was seventy years old.

He was born in Ireland, September 29, 1844, and came to this country in 1860 and settled at Warsaw, where he lived until 1900, when he moved to this city. He was employed by the Pennsylvania company since 1863 and only yesterday was at work at his usual place.

He was a member of the St. Patrick's Catholic church and of the Holy Name society and the Sacred Heart league of the same congregation. Besides his wife he is survived by six children, William, employed at the boiler shop of the Pennsylvania; John, of the city waterworks; Frank, of the Pennsylvania baggage room, and James, of the Pennsylvania round house, and Catherine and Mary O'Connor, all at home.

JACKSON.

James Jackson, aged eleven years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaiah Jackson, of 208 Second street, died at the family home Thursday morning at 11:30 o'clock following an illness of but two days' duration. Death was due to diphtheria. He was a Sentinel carrier boy and only Tuesday evening went over his usual route and delivered the papers.

He was a faithful member of the Trinity M. E. Sunday school and was a bright and lovable boy with a gentlemanly character. He was large for his age and was well acquainted in the city.

Besides his grief-stricken parents he is survived by the following brothers and sisters: Harvey H. and Raymond Jackson, of Coesse; Newton and Samuel Jackson, of this city; Mrs. Dr. J. W. Cannel, of Bucyrus, O., and Miss Kittie Jackson, of this city.

SZINK.

Mrs. Eliza Jane Szink, aged 62 years and seven months, died Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Calhoun, 1020 Nelson street, following an illness of several weeks' duration. Death was due to complications.

The deceased was born in Logantown, Pa., March 15, 1852, and moved to this city many years ago. She was a devoted member of the First Baptist church of this city and also of the Ladies' society of the same congregation. Her husband preceded her in death only six weeks ago. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. J. A. Calhoun and Mrs. C. R. Hilberry, of Philadelphia, and four sisters and two brothers.

EITING.

Anna Eiting, widow of Henry Eiting, died late Wednesday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Josephine Thieke, 2016 John street, after an illness of but ten days' duration. Death was due to complications and came at the age of 76 years.

Mrs. Eiting was born in Germany, August 18, 1838, and came to Fort Wayne seventeen years ago. She was a member of the St. Mary's Catholic church and is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Josephine Thieke, and three sisters —Mrs. Lucile Lingin, of this city, and Katharine and Emma, who reside in Germany.

MULLIGAN.

After suffering for a year from paralysis, Thomas Mulligan, aged 57 years, of 2534 Lafayette street, died at 12:45 Thursday morning at St. Joseph hospital. Before his sickness he was identified with the Bowser company plant where he had been employed for several years. He is survived by two daughters—Miss Grace Mulligan, of this city, and Mrs. William Doyle, of Chicago.

FUNERAL NOTICES.

Volz—Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Volz will be held Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock at the residence of her mother, 410 West Creighton avenue, and at 9 o'clock at St. Patrick's Catholic church.

Flaugh—Funeral services for Mrs. Fredericka Flaugh will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock (sun time) at the residence, three and one-half miles east of Hoagland, and at 2:30 o'clock at St. John's Lutheran church in Madison township, Rev. S. Hassold officiating.

ALL TALK OF FORT WAYNE.

SPAIN RATIFIES TREATY.

Mrs. Guy Scott, of West Jefferson street, will entertain at bridge at the Country club next Wednesday afternoon and is issuing invitations to the party.

Miss Emma Kindt, who had been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Kindt, of 1702 Spy Run avenue, left yesterday for the south where her home now is as she is employed in her uncle's store in Asheville, N. C.

Mrs. P. Fackler gave a theater party this afternoon at the Majestic theater in honor of Mrs. E. Fackler, of Pittsburgh, who is visiting here. The guests included Mesdames C. Jenkins, J. Stapleton, J. Stewart, W. Adams, J. Greer and C. Griffith.

Mrs. Madge Crosbie has gone to her home in Warsaw and her daughter, Miss Amber Crosbie has returned to her studies at Winona college after visiting relatives and friends here for a few weeks.

Miss Maude Jefferies delightfully entertained a number of friends at her home yesterday evening with music and games followed by refreshments that gave all pleasure. The table was prettily decorated with a centerpiece of marigolds with yellow ribbons leading to each plate. At the end of the ribbons were tiny envelopes in which Miss Jefferies announced that her marriage to C. E. Kruse would take place in November. Those who were present to enjoy the good time and extend congratulations were Misses Zelma and Edith Kutsch, Elenora and Elizabeth Woenker, Arvilla Burchard, Martha Kruse, Cecelia McCarthy, Estelle McGary and Mabel Jefferies.

Cecil Max, of Mobile, Ala., who has been here for several weeks with Mrs. Max at the home of her father, Judge W. J. Vesey, will return south tomorrow. Mrs. Max will remain here until Christmas time and superintend her father's home while Miss Margaret Vesey goes to Florida on a pleasure trip.

Mrs. Flora J. Nixon and Mrs. Alfred de Reulet, of Chicago, spent today in the city attending the wedding of their son and brother, Dr. John Nixon, to Miss Sale.

An Overland automobile belonging to a man named Flager caught fire Wednesday evening about 6 o'clock while standing in front of the Elks' temple on West Berry street, due to short circuit. The auto chemical wwas called and the firemen quickly extinguished the blaze.

Hueber—Hilker.

The Church of the Precious Blood was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday morning when Rev. C. Hummer officiated at the marriage and nuptial mass for Miss Edith Hilker, daughter of Mrs. W. Hilker, of 416 Huffman street, and Mr. Frederick L. Hueber. The hour of the wedding was 9 o'clock. Miss Adella Hilker was bridesmaid and Mr. Bernard Hueber was his brother's best man. The bride was beautifully dressed in a flowered silk net over heavy white satin with trimming of pearls and ribbon. The bridal veil was caught with swansonia blossoms and the bridal bouquet was of white roses with a shower of swansonia. The bride wore a pear bead necklace, the groom's wedding gift. The bridesmaid was gowned in Nile green crepe de chine trimmed with white chiffon and oriental lace. The bridesmaid wore a hat of white velour trimmed with ostrich plumes and pink roses. Her bouquet was of sunburst roses. Messrs. George Shimmele and Clarence Hueber were ushers. The wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride and was an elaborate affair. In the afternoon a reception was held for about seventy-five friends and relatives. The decorations were roses and mums. The bride's table was done in smilax and pink and white flowers. In the evening the bride and groom left on a trip to Pittsburg, Philadelphia and New York. For traveling the bride wore a heliotrope chiffon broadcloth suit and blouse of Roman stripe silk. Her hat was a purple velour trimmed in white plumes. The groom is a clerk for the Pennsylvania company. Mr. and Mrs. Hueber will go to housekeeping at 727 Greenlawn avenue on their return. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Isador Hueber.

GERMAN PRESS RAPS ENGLAND

Comment on Alleged Dicker With Belgium Very Caustic.

Rome (Via Paris), Oct. 15.—Alleged documents of the Belgian general staff inscribed "English intervention in Belgium," which are said to have been found by German military authorities in Brussels and which were published by the North German Gazette, are causing comment in German newspapers, some of which were received here today.

The Kreuz Zeitung says the documents show that long ago it was decided in case of war that Belgium would side with France and England. The Deutsche Tags Zeitung declares it hopes now that the neutral states will cease to speak about "the brutal violation of poor, innocent little Belgium."

"The documents show," says the Vossische Zeitung, "the duplicity of England and her indifference at planning a violation of Holland. They also show the wisdom of Baron Greindl (the Belgian minister to Berlin) who had the right opinion about trusting English protection. His prediction was realized. Belgium bleeds from a thousand wounds received in behalf of British interests, and the indignation of the English statesmen over the sanctity of a treaty is mere hypocrisy."

The Gazette del Popolo, a Turin newspaper, having asked King Nicholas of Montenegro to give his views regarding the war, received an answer from Gen. Martinovitch, who, in the name of the king, replied as follows:

"This terrible war is the revenge—attempted throughout a century, which this time we hope will be strictly defined—of oppressed nationalities against the nefarious work of the Vienna congress. The nationalities supported by the triple entente did not provoke the sanguinary struggle which was imposed upon them by the reactionary spirit of the German world, wishing definitely to consolidate its own reign on the sufferings of the weak in contempt of international law."

"The time has not yet come," he asserted, "when the United States can afford to allow the martial spirit of her sons to be destroyed and all the Carnegie millions in the world will not silence those of us who believe that bullets cannot be stopped with bombast nor vanquished by platitudes."

Mr. Gardner further declared in his statement that respect to the present European war, concerning which he had some personal insight, having been in the zone of conflict, his views were "not those of a neutral."

"I am entirely convinced," said he, "that the German cause is unholy and moreover a menace to the principles of democracy. Furthermore, I believe that the God of battles will visit defeat upon the Germans, but no matter which side wins, we must remember that since the beginning of time victorious nations have proved headstrong and high-handed. We must begin at once to reorganize our military strength if we expect to be able to resist high-handed cases when the day of necessity comes."

The Gardner resolution proposes a commission to consist of three senators and three members of the house and three persons to be named by the president of the United States to make full investigation into the question of the preparedness of the United States for war.

would not be until the convention reconvened. Both Carothers and Kanova reported that harmony reigned at the close of the session. Prior to the decision to defer final action regarding Carranza, however, there were many heated debates which threatened to disrupt the convention. The dispute was started by a resolution introduced by Col. Eduardo Hay, providing that the convention be declared supreme as it stood.

Villa delegates, according to the official report, opposed this, urging that Zapata should be fully represented at the convention until any final action was taken. They threatened to leave unless this course was followed.

Col. Hay made a speech, it was said, in which he declared that the leaders represented at the convention should combine to put down any rebellion against the government finally set up by the convention. Gen. Obregon and Gen. Angeles made speeches counselling harmony.

Finally Col. Hay withdrew his resolution and introduced another providing for the sending of an urgent invitation to Zapata to send delegates and the postponement of action on the resignation of Gen. Carranza. In secret session it was decided to declare the convention sovereign and this fact later was announced in open session.

Administration leaders were of the opinion that the outcome of the convention made it probable that all factions in Mexico would be able to come to an agreement which would include the suppression of minor discordant elements.

WILL BE NAMED SOON.

But Reports on Carranza's Successor Are Indefinite.

Aguas Calientes, Mexico, Oct. 15.—Unofficial reports of the peace conference here yesterday say that a successor to Gen. Carranza for the presidency of Mexico is to be named soon.

These reports, which are brief, do not explain when Gen. Carranza is to resign, or how, but indicate that the conference finished its work successfully last night.

All the generals in attendance appeared to be well pleased with the results. The only authorized delegates reported absent were those from Generals Maytorena and Zapata.

The convention today is said to be awaiting the arrival of these delegates to sign the "peace pact." After this document is signed, it is said, a public session of the conference will be held to name a successor to Carranza.

Effort to Get Back Money on Alleged Fake Prize Fight.

St. Louis, Oct. 15.—Suit to recover the $750 given to the manager of Jack Dillon as the latter's share of the proceeds of the Dillon-Brown bout here last night was filed today by the club that promoted the fight.

The bout was called off by the referee, after the fourth round on the ground that it was a fake.

The assistant prosecuting attorney this afternoon refused to issue warrants against Dillon, his manager, Samuel Murbarger, and his trainer Robert S. Tolkin, charging them with obtaining money under false pretenses by faking a fight, and the three were released.

AUTOMOBILE MYSTERY SOLVED.

Sheriff Gladieux Unravels Theft of W. K. Noble's Car.

It was probably late Thursday afternoon that before night an arrest would be made for the stealing of William K. Noble's Marmon roadster from the garage at his home on West Wayne street, Tuesday night. The man who stole the car has confessed and it is certain that he had one confederate and perhaps more than one in the stealing of the car. The machine was taken fromthe garage, stripped of the body, the maker's name plate and the windshield and the number was erased from the engine. The lights and the carburetor were missing from the car when it was found hidden under stacks of corn fodder near "Devil's Hollow," ten miles west of Fort Wayne. A rough coat of yellow paint had been hastily applied to the car to further disguise it.

AGED MAN TERRIBLY BURNED.

Late Thursday afternoon Sheriff A. C. Gladieux sent an ambulance to a point west of the Lima road, four miles north of the city, to bring in an aged and unknown man who is reported to be terribly burned. The man has been living alone in a shack. He is subject to fits and while in a seizure fell into the fire in his rude dwelling and frightfully burned his legs, arms and face. He had lain three or four days in his suffering before his plight was discovered. He will be taken to a hospital.

LOOT INDIANA POSTOFFICE.

Bandits Traveling In Auto Secure $300 in Plunder at Romney.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 15.—Bandits, traveling in an automobile, dynamited the postoffice safe at Romney, ten miles south of Lafayette, on the Monon railroad, early today, and escaped with $300 in stamps and money. Few people heard the explosion. The postoffice is situated in the general store of Lindstrom, Clifford Feldt being the postmaster.

WILL CONTEND FOR THE AMATEUR BASE BALL TITLE OF THE WORLD AT CHICAGO.

Catcher Asmussen and Pitcher Skinner, star battery of the Butler Bros.; Schreiner, the hitting first sacker of the Strollers, and Saxe, the star who cannot get into the championship games.

The really big world's series is yet to come. No, not the Athletics and Braves. They couldn't play in this series. This is between Butler Bros. and the Telling Strollers. Never heard of 'em? What?

Well, it's for the amateur baseball championship of the world and the winner will well have earned the right to the title.

It's even up—one and one—now between the two teams and with the final battle in Chicago Sunday, Oct. 18, goes the championship.

The Telling Strollers of Cleveland, the city in which the amateurs are perhaps better organized than any other place, lost only two games during the season's race and one in the elimination series. When this team defeated the Street Cleaners the 80,000 crowd turned out.

Then the Butler Bros. nine of Chicago clashed with the Cleveland club in the latter city on Sunday, Oct. 11, winning the first game 11 to 1 and losing the second 4 to 1. More than 20,000 persons saw the battles.

The National Association of Amateur Baseball leagues questioned the eligibility of two of Cleveland's best players and they were dropped. One of them, Pitcher Saxe, was the star of the league, and practically won the pennant for the Strollers. But in his place the team was permitted to take its choice of the Cleveland amateurs and in Belohoubek, a former star of Case college, and twirler for the league runners-up, they obtained a slabman who is expected to accomplish something in the finals.

BROOKLYN AFTER TOMMY SHEEHAN

Secured Him in Secret Draft But Feds Also Need Him.

Tommy Sheehan, regarded by scouts and fans generally as the most valuable player in the Central league on the showing he made with the Terre Haute club last season, has been secured by Brooklyn in a secret draft but has not signed his contract on account of an offer from the Federal league.

Larry Sutton, who has spent a portion of his time for several seasons in Fort Wayne, is dickering with Sheehan and wants him for the Robbins, and probably has an understanding by which the Terre Haute management will pay the draft price for him in event he decides to join the Brooklyn club.

Sheehan led the Central league in batting, and while he is not a youngster in baseball, he is plenty young enough to have several years of good baseball left in him and ought to be a valuable man in fast company on account of his playing ability, knowledge of the game and that spirit of aggressiveness that makes ball players.

He has been visiting Billy Gray at Greenville, Pa., since the close of the season and has written from there to a friend in Terre Haute as follows:

"Scout Sutton, of Brooklyn, has been hot after me to sign a contract with the Brooklyn club, which has drafted me for next season, but I have not signed up as yet as I have a flattering offer from the Federal league, which I am considering. I will go to either club which makes me the best offer. I would be only too glad to give the Terre Haute club the benefit of the draft, but you know we are all out after the coin, and it's up to me to make hay while the sun shines.

"I'm to see the Brooklyn scout again in a few days and will make a final decision. Will let you know where I land.

"By the way, I'm here with 'Dolly' Gray, but will strike out for home in a few days. 'Dolly' sends his best to yourself and the fans."

Stop Those Early Bronchial Coughs.

They hang on all winter if not checked, and pave the way for serious throat and lung diseases. Get a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and take it freely. Stops coughs and colds, heals raw inflamed throat, loosens the phlegm and is mildly laxative. Chas. T. Miller, Ed. Enquirer, Cannelton, Ind., had bronchial trouble, got very hoarse, coughed constantly from a tickling throat. He used only Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. Was entirely relieved. FRED CLARKE IS REALLY TO QUIT

New Chief at Head of the Pirates in Their Campaign of 1915.

Pittsburg, Oct. 15.—When the National league pennant race of 1915 gets under way a new leader who has seen more continuous service as a manager in its ranks than any other leader now in the game will be among the missing. From official circles in Pittsburg comes the news that Fred Clarke has served his last campaign at the head of the Buccaneers and another man will be in charge before next season rolls around. His passing will leave John J. McGraw as the only remaining member of the noted pennant triumvirate, Clarke, Chance and McGraw—which has dominated for every National league pennant since Ned Hanlon led his Brooklyn Superbas home in front in 1899.

Clarke has accounted for four National league pennants and two world's championships; Chance won four pennants and two world's championships, and McGraw has gained five pennants and one world's title.

Clarke went to Pittsburg at the beginning of the season of 1900, so he has been in active charge of the Pirates for fifteen successive seasons. He was included in the fourteen players who were transferred to the Smoky city from Louisville when Barney Dreyfuss, who had been at the head of the Louisville club, purchased an interest in the Pittsburg club. Fourteen Colonels, as the Louisville players were known when that city was represented in the twelve-club National league circuit, were transferred to Pittsburg for five Pirates and the sum of $25,000.

Other notables besides Clarke in this transfer were Hans Wagner, Claude Ritchie, Tommy Leach, Charles Phillippi and Rube Waddell. Waddell remained there only two seasons, Ritchie until 1906, Phillippi until 1911, Leach until 1912 and Wagner is still there with Clarke.

Clarke's managerial career has been a noteworthy one. For fourteen successive years his team was a pennant contender, never finishing outside the first division. In 1901 he was fourth, and he reached the same position last season. In twelve campaigns he finished third or better. In the campaigns of 1901, 1902 and 1903 Clarke led his team to the National league championship, and in 1909 he repeated. In 1908 and 1909 the Pirates were world's champions, defeating Boston and Detroit respectively. In 1908 he fell one game short of the championship, tying the Giants for second place after the Cubs had won the memorable playoff game which put the Giants one game out of first place. The Pirates finished second in 1900, the first year Clarke was in command, holding this same position in 1905, 1907, 1909 and 1912. They finished third in 1906, 1910 and 1911.

As a player Clarke's name will go down in history as one of the greatest in the game. In his prime he was a remarkable batsman, and he closed his active career on the diamond with a mark of .324 for 701 games in 1911, his eighteenth consecutive season in the major league. Getting away with a mark of .275 in 1894, when he joined the Louisville team in midseason, he followed with marks of .300 or better in ten of the twelve succeeding seasons, missing the select circle by a point in 1905 and getting .281 in 1910, his first season at Pittsburg. Clarke is one of the players who can claim distinction as a .400 batsman, having reached the high mark of .406 in 1897. In two other campaigns he batted above .350. In his eighteen years of active service he finished in the charmed circle eleven times and never batted as low as .250.

Great as Clarke was with the willow, his batting never outshone his ability in the field. Up to the time of his retirement he was among the best outfielders in the game, rated solely from the standpoint of fielding. In the all-star National league teams named in Spalding's Guide for the five year period between 1906-7 and 1905-10 Clarke got the call each time for left field. He was rated for his ability to "play the batsman," and he could cover ground and throw with the best of them.

The baseball career of the Pirate chieftain dates back to 1892, when he joined the Hastings (Neb.) team at the age of 19. He finished that season with the St. Joseph (Mo.) Independents, and the following spring he joined the St. Joseph team of the Kansas State league. In midseason of 1893 he went to the Montgomery (Ala.) team of the Southern league. For the first two months of the season of 1894 he was with the Savannah (Ga.) team, and then he was purchased by Louisville, at that time in the National league. Since June, 1894, Clarke has been a prominent figure in the National league.

NEW HAVEN WANTS MEETING.

Residents Want Good Roads Celebration Held in Their Town.

Residents of New Haven want the good roads celebration of Allen county to be held there when the new concrete road leading to Fort Wayne has been completed.

At a meeting of the committee in charge of the celebration J. Herman Bueter, who is the chairman, suggested this scheme and it probably will be carried out.

At the Frank Poirson farm, east of New Haven, on Friday, Dr. Mollan, of the United States department of agriculture, will give a lecture and demonstrations showing how to diagnose, prevent and cure hog cholera. The doctor is a noted authority on this subject vital to farmers and his services were obtained through County Agent C. Henry, who has just returned from Purdue university.

JOHN EVERS HAD PROFITABLE YEAR

Boston, Mass., Oct. 15.—When John J. Evers received a check for $2,800, his share of the winning end of the world's series receipts, Captain John wound up the most profitable year, from a strictly financial standpoint, in the history of baseball.

Evers' earnings for the season of 1914 will approximate $45,000, which figure exceeds by many thousand the individual earning capacity of any baseball player since the days when men played baseball for glory and glory alone.

When Johnny Evers was deposed from the managership of the Cubs by Charles W. Murphy the Federal league was at the zenith of its star hunting crusade and many fabulous offers were wired back and forth each offer outstripping its nearest competitor by amounts ranging from $100 to $10,000.

George Stallings, quick to see what the acquisition of Evers would mean to the Braves, and the national commission, also seeing what the loss of Evers would mean to the National league, joined hands and persuaded the little Trojan to affix his signature to a Boston contract, for which the astute Mr. Evers was handed a bonus of $25,000.

His salary is rate at $10,000 per annum and an additional bonus of $2,000 was guaranteed Evers if the Boston National league team should figure in the world's series of 1914. The latter guarantee, by the way, was never given serious consideration until along about Aug. 15.

Last Monday afternoon, preliminary to the start of the third game of the world's series, Evers was presented with a Chalmers automobile valued at $2,700 for being the most valuable man to his club in the National league.

While it is not strictly according to precedent to figure this automobile as a part of Evers' salary the fact remains that John possesses said car and also that he earned it during the wonderful Braves' season of 1914.

Incidentally it is figured that Evers received in the neighborhood of $2,000 for newspaper articles during the championship season and also during the world's series just closed.

ASSEMBLE FOR TOUR.

Ball Players to Start on Trip and to Play in Honolulu.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Players who are to make up the all-star clubs of the American and National leagues will assemble here Friday for their post-season tour which opens in Milwaukee on Saturday.

The American league club will be under the management of Connie Mack, leader of the Philadelphia Americans. Frank Bancroft, business manager of the Cincinnati Nationals, will have charge of the National league players.

After playing in principal cities of California, both clubs will sail for Honolulu on Nov. 21 and return shortly after the first of the year.

FIRST BASEMAN MARRIED.

Menominee, Mich., Oct. 15.—Fred Mollwitz, first baseman for the Cincinnati club of the National league, was married here yesterday to Miss Collette Gneisse, whom he met while playing an exhibition game with the Green Bay club of the Wisconsin State league. They will reside in Milwaukee, Mollwitz' home.

FAILS IN FIFTH ATTEMPT.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 15.—Leo M. Frank, under sentence of death for the murder here in April, 1913, of Mary Phagan, an employe of the pencil factory of which Frank was superintendent, was denied a new trial by the Georgia supreme court. The court held that Frank's showing of newly discovered evidence was insufficient. This was Frank's fifth attempt to obtain a retrial or annulment of the verdict which was returned August 25 last year. He still has pending before the state supreme court an appeal from the lower court's denial of a motion to set aside the verdict on the ground that he was not in the court room when it was returned. It is expected arguments on the appeal will be made in about two weeks.

SCHOOL FOR FOREIGNERS.

Local Foreigners to Receive Instruction in the English Language.

A school for the instruction of foreigners in the English language will be opened on Monday, November 2, in the old high school building on East Wayne street. The movement for the school was started by a few Fort Wayne lawyers who will furnish the instructors. The young attorneys are Louis Plost, D. H. Hogg, W. H. Tschannen and S. K. Frankenstein. The new school is a purely philanthropic organization and all foreigners desiring to take the course are welcome to do so.

But he has shown so much ability as a kicker that he will be relied upon to do most of the footwork for the blue this year.

MRS. BECK NEW STATE REGENT

"Let's first nominate Mrs. Beck."

It was Mrs. James B. Fowler, of Lafayette, who spoke and as there is no better posted Daughter than she in the state, quiet reigned as soon as the entire audience could stop laughing. Then a half a dozen women wanted to nominate Mrs. Beck and again another voice interposed. This time it was Mrs. S. E. Perkins, of Indianapolis, who laughingly remarked that she had tried to get a previous recognition for the purpose of naming Mrs. Beck, but that she also wanted to further call attention to the fact that the election of the two highest state officers could not be done at a state conference, but only the nomination and endorsement of a candidate could take place and that the name would be sent to Washington to be acted upon by the official board of the national society of D. A. R.

More laughter followed and more talking, but Mrs. Beck received the unanimous vote of the conference in the end.

The election of state officers was the principal business of the morning, though the reports of the work of the year was of much interest, as was some unfinished business and the reading of excellent papers on reports of the reciprocity bureau and conservation.

No Design for Flag Chosen.

Interest upon the choice of a design for a flag to be adopted by the conference with an idea of a further request of the state legislature to make this accepted design a state flag, had a setback unlooked for. It had been understood that Indiana had no flag, but one of the committee on investigation produced a copy of the Indiana banner or emblem, accepted by the legislature previous to Governor Mount's election, which she had recently received with a letter from the secretary of state, L. G. Ellingham. The letter stated that this banner of the state was not called a flag, but was the official emblem used in connection with the state seal.

The matter of whether the State Conference of Daughters should adopt a design for a flag as their own insignia or adornment was postponed in the future.

Mrs. James B. Fowler, chairman of the committee on resolutions, read resolutions extending thanks to the local chapter, to the press, to various chairmen of committees, to the presiding officer, Mrs. Frances H. Robertson, for numerous courtesies, to musicians and others who lent aid and the consideration for delegates extended by the Anthony hotel.

One of the most interesting features of the state conference of the D. A. R. was a talk by Mrs. W. B. Neff, of Cleveland, who is chairman for the National Girl Homemakers of America. Mrs. Neff spoke without notes and so brimful is she of her work that statistics, word pictures and description of plans rolled from her lips almost faster than she could speak them. Mrs. Neff's talk was of compelling interest and her audience gave her flattering attention. In commenting upon the work of the branch of educational work which she represents Mrs. Neff said that the divorce evil was in a measure the result of unprepared girls and young women to make the home what it should be. Eighty-five per cent of the divorces secured are sought by women and sixty-seven per cent of the eighty-five are sought with the excuse of lack of financial support. On the other hand Mrs. Neff declared the cause of the greater part of marital trouble to be the ignorance of the wife for domestic affairs. The majority of girls marry with no knowledge of cooking, sewing, planning, keeping things clean, saving "the pennies," mending or the hundred and one things a competent housekeeper knows about. The strong old Anglo-Saxon word, "help" used in early days of this country in the sense of employed household service has been lost to use just because of the incompetency of the girls employed to be that very thing, a "help" in the household. But the incompetency is not confined to those who can be obtained through the medium of the employment bureaus. They are found in the homes of the laborer, the artisan, the manufacturer, the millionaire. Now with the loss of life and the awful destruction going on in the European war, the American woman will become—in the words of an eminent writer—the "torch bearer of the world." The American woman must establish the standard. And yet, according to more statistics from Mrs. Neff, in a long procession of employes of an industrial concern in Cleveland but one-tenth of them were Americans. That is but one example. The duty of America is to teach. So the work of the Girl Homemakers club is to educate the foreigners to be fitted to make the American home. In Cleveland the work has been taken up by the D. A. R. society and similar work is being done in other organizations of the Daughters.

Mrs. E. C. Atkins, of Indianapolis, who was on the program for an address on "The Times," said she had changed her mind about giving her prepared address as she had listened to Mrs. Neff and would talk only a few minutes, which she did in a most entertaining manner concerning the importance of the spiritual significance of the day and the need of a simple following of the teachings of the gospel.

Mrs. Charles Thompson sang with considerable dramatic style songs of the seventeenth century with words from Shakespeare, for which she was applauded. Mrs. James E. Elliott, of Fort Wayne, sang a group of modern songs very prettily and she too, was well received.

Reports on different phases of works of the society were given during the afternoon by Mrs. Newberry J. Howe on the reciprocity bureau, and Mrs. Harry V. Sheridan. The report on conservation by Mrs. M. C. Garber, another of welfare women and children by Mrs. Martha B. Hanna, who is state chairman and also a member of the national society's board of historians, and a talk on old trail roads by Mrs. W. W. Gaar, on the Daughters' magazine by Miss Mary Alice Warren and a report of the movement for Children of the American Revolution by Mrs. H. W. Moore were other important subjects taken up for the day. A dinner at the Anthony and a reception given by the local chapter at the home of Mrs. Robertson in the evening were the social events of the day.

Seventeen applications for membership in the Vorwaerts Turnverein were received at the regular meeting Wednesday night and two candidates were obligated. A report was submitted showing that the entertainment of two weeks ago netted $410 to be sent to the German and Austrian Red Cross societies.

AT ONCE! PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN STOPS INDIGESTION, GAS, SOUR STOMACH

Time it! In a few minutes all stomach distress goes. No indigestion, heartburn, sourness or belching of gas, acid, or eructations of undigested food, no dizziness, bloating, foul breath or headache.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in regulating upset stomachs. It is the surest, quickest stomach doctor in the whole world, and besides, it is harmless.

Millions of men and women now eat their favorite foods without fear—they know it is needless to have a bad stomach.

Get a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store and put your stomach right. Stop being miserable—life is too short—you're not here long, so make your stay agreeable. Eat what you like and digest it; enjoy it, without fear of rebellion in the stomach.

Pape's Diapepsin belongs in your home. Should one of the family eat something which doesn't agree with them, or in case of an attack of indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis or stomach derangement, it is handy to give instant relief.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.—Adv.

POINTS DOOM OF LIQUOR TRAFFIC

That the saloon traffic will eventually be abolished was the prediction in an address delivered Wednesday night in the assembly room of the Allen county court house by Rev. J. G. Wise, of Auburn, prohibition candidate for congress from the Twelfth district, but he contended that this will not be brought about until the people are made to see the real truth and to vote with those opposed to the manufacture and sale of intoxicants.

Sumner W. Hayes, candidate for the United States senate, spoke at Monroeville and although he was expected to deliver a talk here he did not appear on account of his engagement there.

In the course of a well-received talk in which he demonstrated the vast evil influences exercised by the saloon in politics and in the home, Mr. Wise said:

"When the people became tired of slavery in 1860 the immortal Lincoln told them to quit voting with the ones who believed it was right and to vote with the ones who believe it to be wrong. Slavery was abolished and, mark my prediction, the liquor traffic will be abolished when the people quit voting with the ones who believe it is right and vote with the ones who believe it is wrong.

"We must lead the people to see the truth. The old parties have not been of, for and by the people; they have been of, for and by the bosses and the liquor interests.

"The liquor traffic is the greatest organized political power in America. But I don't know but what the man who votes to license the liquor traffic is just as bad as the man who sells the damnable stuff."

When Croup Comes Treat Externally

VERY UNSIGHTLY PIMPLES ON FACE

Red and Festered. Also Had Dandruff. Could Be Seen Plainly. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Free from Pimples and Dandruff.

New Sharon, Iowa.—"Two or three years ago pimples began to come on my face and I had dandruff. The pimples made a very unsightly appearance. They were red and numerous, some came to a head and festered and the itching caused me to scratch them. The dandruff on my head could be plainly seen.

"I tried several remedies but they only temporarily relieved me. I had been bothered with the trouble two or three years when I decided to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. So I sent for a free sample and I noticed relief from them, and I bought more. I used two cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and am now free from pimples and dandruff." A generation of mothers has found no soap so well suited for cleansing and purifying the skin and hair of infants and children as Cuticura Soap. Its absolute purity and refreshing fragrance alone are enough to recommend it above ordinary skin soaps, but there are added to these qualities delicate yet effective emollient properties, derived from Cuticura Ointment, which render it most valuable in overcoming a tendency to distressing eruptions and promoting skin and hair health. Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

RESOLUTION.

To the Honorable Common Council of the City of Fort Wayne.

By submitting for your consideration an ordinance providing for the issuance of bonds for the purpose of raising funds to build a convention or assembly hall in this city, we believe that we are submitting a proposition your favorable action on which will be indorsed by a very large majority of the tax-paying citizens of this city. In proof of this we beg to call your attention to the following resolutions drawn up by the "citizens' convention hall committee" and submitted by them to practically every civic, fraternal, business and social organization of the city:

RESOLUTIONS.

Whereas, The city of Fort Wayne has reached a point in its civic career where conventions and other gatherings are attracted to it because of its many advantages; and,

Whereas, There is no hall adequate, convenient or suitably arranged for the holding of these assemblies; and,

Whereas, Concerted action has been taken by every civic, fraternal and social organization of the city, advocating and urging the erection of a convention hall without delay; and,

Whereas, On investigation it has been determined that it is possible and legal for the city of Fort Wayne, through its common council to secure the necessary money for the erection of a convention hall, either by making a tax levy for that purpose or issuing of bonds of the city. Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the undersigned respectfully petition the members of the honorable common council of the city of Fort Wayne to give this matter their earnest and immediate attention, and decide as early as possible to raise the necessary money in the manner they deem best, and to the end that they may appreciate that the people of the city are willing to stand the payment of the necessary taxes to take care of the expenditures petitioned for, the undersigned have attached their signatures hereto with the knowledge that favorable action on this resolution will mean payment of increased taxes, directly or indirectly.

The above resolutions were officially indorsed at a regular meeting, or special, and in most cases signed by all of the individual members present of the following organizations: United Commercial Travelers' council No. 212; Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers No. 12; Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, No. 17; Meat Cutters' local, No. 423; Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers, No. 469; Knitters' union No. 765; Poultry Fanciers' association; Postoffice Clerks' association; Cigarmakers' local, No. 37; Workingmen's club; International Association of Steam, Hot Water and Power Pipe Fitters and Helpers, No. 81; Fort Wayne Musicians' union No. 58; Union Veteran Legion; Lawton-Wayne Post No. 271; International Association of Machinists' lodge No. 76; International Association of Car Workers No. 86; Retail Merchants' association; Fort Wayne Federation of Labor; Sion S. GENERAL ORDINANCE NO. ...

An ordinance concerning the removal of the habitation of families and other persons in the city of Fort Wayne, and providing penalties for the violation of said ordinance.

Section 1. Be it ordained by the mayor and common council of the city of Fort Wayne that hereafter all draymen and other persons who remove or assist in removing any family or person into any building or room in said city, shall within twenty-four (24) hours after such removal report such removal to the superintendent of police of said city, giving the name of the persons or family so removed from where and to where removed; giving the street and number of the building from which and to which such removal takes place, and the date of such removal, which report shall be made upon cards provided for that purpose by the superintendent of police and signed by the draymen or other persons engaged in such removal.

Section 2. Any persons failing or refusing to comply with the provision of this ordinance shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined in any sum not less than five dollars, nor more than ten dollars, with cost of prosecution.

Section 3. This ordinance to be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval by the mayor and legal publication.

J. B. MILLS.

The ordinance was read the first time in full and on motion the ordinance was read the second time by its title and referred to committee on rules, regulations and ordinances.

GENERAL ORDINANCE NO. 867.

Section 1. Be it ordained by the common council of the city of Fort Wayne, Indiana, that the mayor be and he is hereby authorized to sell a certain dwelling house, barn and other real fixtures located and situated on lot No. 1, Felt's amended addition, formerly belonging to William and Martha Orr and condemned and appropriated by the city under declaratory resolution No. 269, providing for the opening of Beaven avenue, from Broadway to Home avenue, in said city; that the mayor be authorized to sign any and all necessary instruments to consummate such sale, providing such sale shall not be made until said property shall be appraised by the appraisers appointed by the judge of the Allen circuit court; that the money received from the sale of said property is to be placed in the street special fund.

Section 2. That the city attorney be and he is hereby authorized to petition the judge of the Allen circuit court for the appointment of three (3) appraisers to appraise the property referred to in section one (1) of this ordinance.

Section 3. This ordinance to be in full force and take effect from and after its passage and approval by the mayor and legal publication.

J. B. MILLS.

The ordinance was read the first time in full and on motion the ordinance was read the second time by its title. A motion to place the ordinance on its third reading was passed by the following vote:

Nays, none.

The ordinance was read the third time in full and on motion was now passed by the following vote:

Nays, none.

The council then adjourned.

MILL MEN SAY BUSINESS IS GOOD

Notwithstanding the dull times and the alleged shortage of cash everywhere, there is a great deal of building in progress throughout the city and the planing mills and lumber yards are doing some business. Some of the buildings will cost many thousands when completed. A number of good dwelling houses not yet started are to be erected this fall and among them are the following: A $25,000 house in Forest Park boulevard for J. B. Franke, Henry Mookemeyer, contractor; house and garage at Jefferson and Monroe streets for William H. Scheiman; a house on Hale avenue by Contractors Baysinger & Roth, and two houses by the City Suburban company. In all parts of the city are houses in various stages of erection, which will be completed and occupied before snow flies.

(Railway Age-Gazette.)

One fact which deserves special emphasis, and which is brought out by several contributors to the discussion of the Operation of Terminal Yards, is that the general yardmaster in charge of an important terminal is an executive officer who should be free of petty details and clerical duties to a large extent, so that he will be able to spend a large portion of his time out in the yard, where the work is being done and the money spent.

It is only by being free to go from one point of local congestion or difficulty to another that he can direct operations most intelligently, and it is only in this way that he is able to secure a first-hand knowledge of the exact conditions in the yard and is able to improve practices to the end that a high standard of efficiency may be maintained. The yardmaster who permits himself to be tied to his desk continuously by clerical duties reduces himself very largely to the rank of a clerk, while the railroad company which requires him to devote a large portion of his time to such work is paying a yardmaster's salary for no more than a clerk's work.

It is generally observed that the yard is best operated in which the yardmaster appears to have the least to do with the handling of routine business. By this it is not meant to imply that he should have no actual duties, but it is distinctly to his credit if he so organizes his forces that routine work requires only his casual attention. It has been said of the late E. H. Harriman that he considered that a man who would allow his desk to become stacked up with papers was not fit for an important executive position since, in allowing himself to be buried in a mass of details, he overlooked the larger opportunities. The same criterion can be applied to the work of a yardmaster. If he is engrossed in a multitude of routine details, he will not observe a congestion arising in some portion of his yard until it has become so serious as to affect the operation of the entire yard.

The analogy drawn by one contributer between a yard and a stream of water is pertinent. Let any facility of a yard, even one classification track, become congested and the effect is soon felt in all other parts of the yard. The serious blockade of 1907 in the terminal district of Chicago was caused by the inability of two or three roads to accept interchange traffic from connecting lines because of lack of facilities, and the ultimate result was that practically every road in that district was blocked with traffic which it was unable to deliver to other lines.

The larger the yard the greater is the necessity for the general yardmaster to be free to observe conditions. Entirely aside from the advantage discussed above, close supervision is a most potent factor in the elimination of expensive switching practices and the introduction of economical methods.

CHANGING YARD TRACKS.

The Pennsylvania has a big gang of men at work at present changing the location of tracks in the yards between Lafayette and Hanna streets and making other improvements, included being the renewal of some of the ties. The stairway enclosures at the new passenger depot, mentioned a few days ago, is practically completed and is an improvement the patrons of the company will appreciate, especially in bad weather.

MAKING TRIP OVER DIVISION.

Supt. W. M. Wardrop and some of the members of his staff are making a trip over a part of the Western division today. "Isabell," the division special engine, and the division special car went to Warsaw early this morning and the inspection trip commenced there and will continue to Crestline. Among those with Superintendent Wardrop are Trainmaster C. L. Hamilton, Division Engineer Guy Scott and Star Union Agent H. M. Quicksell.

WABASH TO HAVE NEW TIME CARD

The Wabash expects to put its winter time table into effect November 1. The new card, it is said, will involve the discontinuance of accomodation trains 50, 53, 54 and 55 between Fort Wayne and Montpelier and some changes in the time of trains No. 1, which will be about thirty minutes later than at present, and No. 28, which will be thirty-five minutes later than the present schedule.

SHOPMEN ATTEND FUNERAL.

Nearly every employe in the air brake department of the Pennsylvania shop, including Foreman J. A. Foster, attended the funeral of the late John L. Barry this morning. Mr. Barry worked in that shop several years.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

W. Darwacur, a blacksmith's helper, took employment at the Pennsylvania shops this morning.

W. O. Houser, foreman of the Pennsylvania coal dock at Delta, O., was here yesterday on company business.

Machinist Samuel Minnick, who was hurt last week, reported for duty in the Pennsylvania shops this morning.

An extra tourist car on westbound Nickel Plate train No. 1 today carried the New York state hospital party to Chicago.

J. E. Motherwell, tinner, resumed work at the Pennsylvania shops this morning after an illness of two or three days.

Assistant Ticket Agent Vin A. Grams greets patrons at the Wabash ticket window again, after an absence of four or five days. He was visiting relatives in Avilla.

W. L. Scott, passenger engineer on the Pennsylvania road, who had been on the sick list for about two weeks, has recovered and reported for duty.

E. W. Sigl, draftsman at the Pennsylvania shops, accompanied by Mrs. Sigl and children, went to Chicago this morning to attend the motorcycle show.

Division Engineer W. S. Danes and Assistant Division Engineer E. P. Danes, of the Wabash, were in the city this morning on business for the company.

Miss Collette Burns, whose father is employed in the Wabash shops, has arranged for a visit with relatives in Kansas City and will leave in a few days.

E. R. Mitchell, claim agent of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railway, with headquarters in Jackson, Mich., was a Fort Wayne visitor yesterday.

John Christen, apprentice at the Pennsylvania shops, who had planned a visit to Chicago the latter part of the week, was taken sick last night and may not be able to make the trip.

Frank Moore and Joseph Colone have returned to their respective places in the Wabash shops, after a few days' absence. Mr. Moore had been sick and Mr. Colone and his wife had been east on a pleasure trip.

The safe in the Nevada, Ohio, postoffice was cracked and robbed of $260 according to information received yesterday by Captain H. C. Stoll, of the Pennsylvania police department.

John Setil, who put up a stiff fight when Patrolmen U. M. Strasser and W. A. Jones arrested him for loitering in the Gary depot of the Pennsylvania last Tuesday night, received a sentence of $1 and cost. He is a foreign laborer.

William Eser resumed his duties in the Wabash boiler shop yesterday. The reader will remember that he was married to Miss Helen Barto, of 906 Hugo street, at Detroit, a few days ago. They will reside for awhile with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Barto, at the number mentioned.

E. Barber, a brakeman on the Plymouth local freight train on the Pennsylvania, had a finger crushed yesterday afternoon while operating the coupling apparatus of a car at Warsaw. He was attended by the company's surgeon at Warsaw and then went to his home in Plymouth. The digit will be saved.

Mike Leo, an Italian naval reservist, resigned his position at the Pennsylvania coal docks yesterday and left for New York, where he will sail for Italy to resume his place in the navy. He had served two years before coming to America. The Italian sailors receive two cents per day, board and lodging while in the service. Leo received $2 per day at the coal docks.

Mrs. B. A. Strawn will take her son, Scott, to St. Louis in a few days to receive medical treatment. Mr. Strawn, who is a machinist in the Wabash shops, may join his wife and son at St. Louis the latter part of next week and accompany them home. While in St. Louis Mrs. Strawn and son will be the guests of her brother, Scott Cooper, a foreman in the Wabash shops.

The Peru Journal Wednesday published the following interesting item:—"It is understood that Superintendent J. C. Sullivan, of the Wabash railroad, who has been off duty for a few months on account of bad health, is improving nicely and it is not improbable that a few weeks will see him at his desk again. As soon as Mr. Sullivan resumes his duties as superintendent Acting Superintendent Elmer Sollitt will return to Detroit."

J. O. M. Baker, Pennsylvania ticket receiver, is meeting with success in conducting a night school for foreigners at the Railroad Y. M. C. A. The school started Tuesday with eight scholars and it will be in session on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday nights of each week. The pupils are taught to speak and read English, with a view of making them better laborers and helpers in the shop, on the road and elsewhere in the employ of the railway and manufacturing establishments.

An Old, Family Cough Remedy, Home-Made

By making this pint of old-time cough syrup at home you not only save about $2, as compared with the ready-made kind, but you will also have a much more prompt and positive remedy in every way. It overcomes the usual coughs, throat and chest colds in 24 hours—relieves even whooping cough quickly—and is excellent, too, for bronchitis, bronchial asthma, hoarseness and spasmodic croup.

Get from any drug store 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth), pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Full directions with Pinex. Keeps perfectly and tastes good.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. It quickly loosens the dry, hoarse or painful cough and heals the inflamed membranes. It also has a remarkable effect in overcoming the persistent loose cough by stopping the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes.

The effect of Pine on the membranes is known by almost every one. Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract combined with guaiacol and other natural healing pine elements.

There are many worthless imitations of this famous mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," and do not accept anything else.

Cured His RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 32 A Marcellus avenue, Manasquan, N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Although wheat today showed a little firmness at the start, prices later underwent a material setback. The opening, which ranged from ⅛c off to ⅜c upturn, was followed by a reaction of ⅛c to ¾c under last night's level.
The close was unsettled to ¾c lower.
The close was steady at ⅝@⅝c to ¾c net.

GARRETT NEWS.

Garrett, Ind., Oct. 15.—C. D. Smith, of Syracuse, spent Wednesday in this city.

The Misses Mary Doughten, William and Margaret Galloway, Lura Marvin, Florence Hill and Vesta Marvin motored to Edon, O., Tuesday to attend a party given by a relative of Miss Doughten.

H. Hinkley, of Kendallville, was here on business Wednesday.

J. N. Ritter, of Toledo, came Tuesday to attend the semi-annual meeting of the Garrett Savings, Loan and Trust company.

Mr. and Mrs. John Trapp went to Cleveland for a ten days' visit with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kilmer and Miss Crissie Thomson, of Cleveland, stopped here Wednesday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holsinger while on their way home from an auto trip to Plymouth, Ind.

The fine new school building being erected in East Garrett is nearing completion and Contractor Allman states that it will be ready for school in another week or ten days. This is one of the finest buildings of its size in this part of the county.

The first number of the lecture course will be given tonight in the Methodist church. All former numbers have been given in the Baptist church and it was the intention of the committee to have this course given in the same place but owing to the revival meetings in progress there it was necessary to change the place of the one number on the course.

Representative Edward M. McKennone has been called to Indianapolis as a witness before the grand jury in the investigation of alleged "juggling" of bills in the last legislature.

BRICK THROWER HEAVILY FINED

After having the case under advisement for a day, Judge Kerr in the city court on Thursday morning assessed a fine of $105 and costs against Carl Hugo Whitehouse for malicious trespass. Whitehouse is the man who tossed bricks through two large plate glass windows at the saloon of Frank Belchin, corner of Washington street and Glasgow avenue, after Belchin had aroused his ire by dunning him for a bar bill that Whitehouse says he does not owe. There was no denial that Whitehouse broke the windows, provocation being the defense. Whitehouse insists that he never owed Belchin, but was mistaken by Belchin for a man named Miller. Of this there is not much doubt.

Other City Court Cases.

Leonard DeKamp, a drunken floater, invaded a house at 105 West Superior street with his spouse, Wednesday, and was about to make off with a pair of shoes. The woman of the house called the police and DeKamp was locked up. Judge Kerr fined him $5 and costs.

That the business district of the city may be given better police protection Chief Lentz has readjusted the force and prepared a new duty schedule for twelve uniformed officers. The regular day patrolmen will work from 8 o'clock in the morning until 7 o'clock at night. At the latter hour they will be relieved by six regular night patrolmen. At 11 o'clock at night a special detail squad made up of Patrolmen Beyrle, Kintz, Harris, Kintz, Harris, Brown, Barr and Godfrey will go on duty and remain until 8 o'clock in the morning. This will keep twelve men in the business center from 11 o'clock at night until after daylight. Officers Kintz and Brown, who have been on the motorcycle squad, will retire their machines during the winter months.

THE REYNOLDS BURGLARY.

The return of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reynolds, 116 West Wildwood avenue, disclosed that three valuable rings and a gold watch belonging to Mrs. Reynolds had been taken by thieves who burglarized the residence during the absence of the family. The burglary was discovered Monday morning. Entrance was effected by boring out a small section of the door and making a hole through which the lock could be reached.

LOCKJAW KILLS YOUNG BOY.

Lafayett, Ind., Oct. 15.—Byron W. Reddish, five-year-old son of Charles B. Reddish, of West Lafayette, died of tetanus in a local hospital. Ten days ago while playing with other small boys, Bryon was hit on the top of the head with a small piece of wood, only a small scalp wound being inflicted. Yesterday lockjaw developed and he died shortly after the antioxin was administered. Physicians say that the slight wound on the head became infected from the piece of wood.

If a mouse that got into a waste paper basket at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Blake, 1924 Weisser Park avenue, had been less inquisitive about matches and satisfied with bacon as a diet a fire that drove the couple from their home at 1:15 o'clock Thursday morning, destroyed most of their clothing and damaged their furniture might have been averted.

The fire was burning fiercely when it was discovered and Mr. and Mrs. Blake had barely time to throw on their clothes, take their five-months-old baby and run for their lives.

Mrs. Blake had just finished her housecleaning and she says that she probably swept up a match from the floor and threw it in a waste paper basket that sat in a summer kitchen in which the fire started. Her husband had, before he retired, baited a trap with bacon to get a mouse that had been annoying them and put it near the basket, but Mr. Mouse evidently passed up the bacon for the match.

This is the only way either of them can account for the blaze as there had been no fire in the summer kitchen since they moved into the house and it is evident that the flames started at the point where the basket sat.

The summer kitchen was burned and the rear of the house, a one-story frame, was badly damaged at a loss that probably will run from $300 to $500. Mr. Blake is employed at the Fort Wayne Electric works and carried no insurance. The heat awakened his wife and when they got out of bed the whole rear of the house was in flames. They had no time to save anything more than the clothing in their bedroom. The house is the property of Charles Meyers.

Cadessia grotto, Mystic Order of Veiled Prophets, gave its first social affair Wednesday evening with an informal dance on the third floor of the Odd Fellows' block, Calhoun and Wayne streets, when about forty couples enjoyed the evening. Many master masons who had not attended any of the meetings for the organization of Cadessia grotto were present with their ladies. The program lasted until 11:30. Clusters of American Beauty roses were given as favors to the ladies and light refreshments were served. During a lull in the dancing Robert J. Gaskill made a short address in which he explained the nature of the grotto as a fraternal social organization to which all master Masons in good standing are eligible, and indicated that a series of affairs were in preparation for the coming winter that would afford Masons and their families broad opportunity for enjoyment. Many new applications for membership in Cadessia grotto were received. The dispensation will be received in a few days and Grand Venerable Prophet Herold M. Harter, of Toledo, will then come to Fort Wayne and institute Cadessia grotto, which expects to initiate a large class early in December. It is believed that the grotto will be instituted with not less than one hundred
